PREFATORY NOTICE.

The titled classes of this country have one great advantage in their limited number. There are only 577 Peers and 865 Baronets. Thus the whole number of persons enjoying hereditary dignities is but 1442, every one of whom has his family history amply set forth in this single volume. In Continental Europe men bearing titles may be counted by tens of thousands. Consequently there is no work in any other country but this of a character so comprehensive. The "Almanac de Gotha" of Germany, and the "Annuaire de la Noblesse" of France are mainly confined to Royal and Ducal families. With us, false assumptions can be at once detected, whereas in France, Germany, or Italy it is well-nigh impossible to determine who are and who are not entitled to titular distinction.

This restricted range of our nobility confers another important benefit. It enables Precedence to be clearly defined, and thus each grade is accorded its proper social position. No doubt the Scale of Precedence is far from being perfect. Field-Marshals, and Admirals of the Fleet, Naval and Military Officers, Deans and Archdeacons, Queen's Counsel and Barristers, are unnoticed, and even the Prime Minister, as such, has no rank assigned to him. Nevertheless, our Law of Precedence, imperfect though it may be, is founded on Statutes and Royal Ordinances, and has proved of essential value in the regulation of society. The Scale, it must be remembered, deals exclusively with General Precedence, and does not include the official status of local dignitaries. Neither H. M. Lieutenant of a county nor the Sheriff derives any social precedence by virtue of the office he holds, although in local jurisdiction they take first places (see page lxxix). In the present edition of this work, particular care has been devoted to this vexata quæstio, and the Lists of Peers and Baronets arranged according to relative rank, to be found at pages 1366 to 1376, will, it is hoped, prove of practical utility. A mere glance will suffice to ascertain the precise relative precedence, inter se, of Peers as well as of Baronets, and obviate the difficulty heretofore experienced, of deciding at a meeting, for instance, of several Peers of like degree, which should go first. The General Scale of Precedence, with remarks thereon, is inserted at page lxxvii.

The Orders of Knighthood and their Decorations form a marked feature of this edition, to which has been added, for the first time, the roll of those gallant men who have won the Victoria Cross, from its first institution to the present day. In this most honorable record every one of us feels an interest and a pride.

During the twelve months intervening between 8 December, 1878, and 8 December, 1879, sixteen Peers have died, viz., the Dukes of Newcastle, Roxburghe, and Portland; the Marquess of Tweeddale; the Earls of Northesk, Winterton, Fife, Clanwilliam, and Durham; Viscounts St. Vincent, Dillon, and Chetwynd; Lords Rathdonnell, Lawrence, Trimleston, and Bloomfield; and Baroness Braye. The title of Bloomfield has become extinct. Twenty-four Baronets have died during the same period, of whom three, Matheson, Campbell, and Borough, have also become extinct. There has been no Peerage conferred since that of Norton in April, 1878, and only one Baronetcy, that of Buchanan, since November, 1876.

INTRODUCTION.

THE PEERAGE consists of DUKES, MARQUESSES, EARLS, VISCOUNTS, and BARONS.

The first order of Nobility introduced after the Norman Conquest was that of

Baron by Tenure,

A dignity attached to the possession of certain lands held according to the Feudal system, directly under the Crown, and conditionally upon the performance of some honorary services to the Sovereign; such as attendance in the field and the council, and furnishing a stipulated quota of knights, or men-at-arms. This quota was regulated by the territorial possessions of the Baron, those possessions being divided into allotments, for each of which he was required to provide a knight, armed cap-à-pie, whenever the sovereign commanded his presence in the field: hence, according to the number of Knights the Feudal Lord provided, he was said to possess so many knights' fees. But in the reign of King JOHN, an alteration of great importance took place in the rights of the Barons and Tenants in capite, for only the principal Barons, or Barones Majores, were summoned to attend parliament by particular writs from the King; and the rest, who acquired the appellation of Barones Minores, were called by one general summons from the Sheriffs of their respective counties; and in the following reign, a new law is said to have been made, by which it was established that no person, though possessed of a Barony, should come to parliament without being expressly summoned by the King's writ. Barony by tenure has ceased for ages. Of late years claims have been made to dignities by right of tenure; but none of these claims have proved successful. There is, however, one Earldom extant—that of Arundel, which the Duke of Norfolk enjoys by the feudal tenure of Arundel Castle; but this honour endures by special act of parliament passed in the 3rd year of KING CHARLES I. To Barons by tenure succeeded

Barons by Writ,

Or persons elevated to the rank of nobility by being summoned to attend the Sovereign in council, or parliament; which writs were of that description called brevia clausa, from being closed with wax, and impressed with the Great Seal of England. The first of these summonses on record appears to have been tested on the 24th of December, in the 49th year of HENRY III.; but from that period no similar writ seems to have issued until the 22nd year of EDWARD I., when about sixty persons were summoned to attend the King, "wheresoever he might be, to advise on the affairs of the kingdom;" but it has been questioned whether that summons constituted a Peer of Parliament.

To establish an hereditary Barony by Writ, it was requisite, according to some, says Sir William Blackstone, that two writs of summons should have issued, and a sitting in two parliaments have taken place; but this is a misapprehension; for in the case of the Barony of Clifton there was but one writ and one sitting and that Barony was allowed. Baronies by Writ are heritable by heirs male or female; but in the event of the decease of the Baron without issue male, and with more daughters than one, the Barony falls into abeyance amongst them, and so continues until one of the daughters, or the sole heir of one of the daughters, only survives. The Crown can, however, at any time interfere, and terminate the abeyance in favour of any one of the co-heirs, but it cannot alienate the Barony from the representatives of the first Baron. The mode of terminating an abeyance in favour of a co-heir is, by summoning the individual by the title of the Barony which had been in abeyance. The course observed towards a Peer of a higher dignity is the issue of Letters Patent by the Crown in confirmation of the Barony; and a similar course, that of Letters Patent, is adopted towards heiresses.

The mode of creating peers by Writ of Summons has been, however, a long time discontinued, and the only writs now issued are those to the eldest sons of Dukes, Marquesses, and Earls,* in their fathers' Baronies; but any such writ does not create a new Barony, the honour being still descendible according to the original limitation. If, however, a writ of summons issue to the eldest son of a Peer, as a Baron, under a misapprehension that the barony was vested in his father, then the writ is deemed a new creation, and the dignity is heritable as a Barony by Writ. This was established in 1736, by the decision regarding the Barony of Strange, in which James Stanley had been summoned in 1628, under the supposition that the barony had belonged to his father, William, 6th Earl of Derby; and again, in the similar case of the Barony of Clifford. The first writ to an elder son is stated to have issued in the 22nd year of King Edward IV., when Thomas FitzAlan was summoned to parliament (in his father's, the Earl Arundel's barony) as Baron Maltravers. As Barons by Tenure gave place to Barons by Writ, so the latter have been superseded by Barons by Letters Patent.

The first instance of this new form of creation occurred in the reign of Richard II., when John Beauchamp, of Holt, was elevated to the peerage as Baron Beauchamp of Kidderminster, by letters-patent, dated the 10th of October, 1387. Lord Beauchamp never took his seat, however, in parliament, as he died in the same year, and was succeeded by his son, with whom the dignity expired in 1420. In olden time it was deemed necessary to invest with robes the newly created Baron in open Parliament; and so lately as the beginning of the 17th century, King James I., in person solemnly inducted the Barons created by patent in the 13th year of his reign, by enrobing each peer in scarlet, with a hood furred with miniver; but in the same year it was determined to discontinue those ceremonies in future, the legal advisers of the Crown having declared that the delivery of the Letters-Patent constituted a sufficient creation. In the Patents of more modern times the ceremony of public investiture is expressly dispensed with.

Viscount.

The next grade in the British Peerage is that of Vice-Comes, or Viscount, which title formerly applied to the sheriff of a county, but was not used as a designation of nobility before the reign of Henry VI., when that monarch created John, Baron Beaumont, K.G., by letters-patent dated 12 February, 1440, Viscount Beaumont, a dignity which expired with his lordship's son and successor in 1507. A Viscounty is always created by patent, and it descends according to the specified limitation. The honour was originally conferred as an advancement to Barons, but afterwards created frequently with the Barony; and in modern times it has been conferred without a Barony, as in the instances of Viscount Leinster, Viscount Sidmouth, Viscount Stratford, Viscount Cardwell, &c.

* There is an instance, in the reign of King Charles I., of the son and heir of a baron who possessed two baronies having been summoned to parliament in one of them. The Hon. Conyers Darcy, son of Conyers, Baron of Darcy and Conyers (who was subsequently created Earl of Holderness) was summoned to parliament in his father's barony of Conyers in 1680.

Earl.*

The dignity of Earl, which existed in England before the Conquest, was, according to Mr. Cruise, originally annexed to a particular tract of land; and there were three descriptions of Earldoms.

"The first was where the dignity was annexed to the seisin and possession of an entire county, with jura regalia; in which case the county became Palatine, and the person created Earl thereof acquired regal jurisdiction and royal seigniory. By reason of the royal jurisdiction, the Earl Palatine had all the high courts and offices of justice which the King had, with a civil and criminal jurisdiction; and by reason of his royal seigniory he had all the royal services and all the royal estreats which the King had; so that, in fact, a County Palatine was in every respect a Feudal Kingdom of itself, but held of a superior lord." †

The second description of Earldom was that which took its title only from a county, but had no territorial possession annexed to it within the county, nor any of the privileges of an Earl Palatine, and which derived its revenue from a participation in the profits accruing from the pleas of the county court.

The third kind of Earldom was constituted by the Crown's granting a considerable tract of land, to be held "per servitium unius comitatus."

For several centuries, Earldoms have been created by Letters Patent, and the descent of the honour regulated accordingly. The ancient ceremony of investiture, as in other dignities, has been discontinued; and, in consequence of the number of earls, the custom of adopting the title from some county or town has been extended to villages, private estates, and family surnames.

The style of an Earl is, "Right Honourable," and he is officially addressed by the Crown as "Our right trusty and well-beloved Cousin."‡

He bears also, upon some occasions, the title of "Most Noble and Puissant Prince."

Coronet—A circle of gold chased as jewelled, upon which rise eight pyramidical points, gold; each point bearing a large silver ball, and between each point, close to the coronet's rim, a strawberry-leaf, also gold: cap of crimson-velvet, turned up ermine; thereon a golden tassel.

Marquess.

A Marquess (Marchio), is the next degree of nobility. "His office (says Sir William Blackstone) formerly was (for dignity and duty were never separated by our ancestors) to guard the frontiers and limits of the kingdom, which were called the marches, from the Teutonic word 'marche,' a limit; as in particular were the marches of Wales and Scotland, while each continued to be an enemy's country. The persons who had command there were called Lords Marches, or Marquesses, whose authority was abolished by statute 27th HENRY VIII., though the title had long before been made a mere ensign of honour."

The first English Marquessate was conferred by King RICHARD II., in 1386, upon Robert de Vere, who was created Marquess of Dublin, and in the next year, Duke of Ireland. His Grace was, however, banished and attainted in 1388, when his honours became forfeited. The second creation of the same dignity occurs in the same reign, when John Beaufort, Earl of Somerset (eldest legitimated natural son of John of Gaunt), was created, 29th September, 1397, Marquess of Dorset. From that period the dignity of Marquess appears to have remained unused until the reign of EDWARD VI., but thenceforward it became a regular and common grade of nobility.

* Spelman was of opinion that the title of Earl was derived from the Germans; and having been adopted from them by the French, was rendered feudal and hereditary by Hugh Capet.

† CRUISE On Dignities.

‡ This mode of address is as ancient as HENRY IV., by whom it was first adopted. That Prince, being either by his wife, his mother, or his sisters, actually related or allied to every Earl in the kingdom, artfully and constantly acknowledged that connexion in all his letters and other public acts; whence the usage has descended to his successors, though the reason has long ago failed.—Blackstone.

Duke.

The Dukedom, the most elevated dignity in the English Peerage, was first introduced by King EDWARD III., who, in 1337, created his eldest son, Edward the Black Prince (then Earl of Chester), Duke of Cornwall, and subsequently Prince of Wales, when the Dukedom merged in the Principality, and has ever since been vested in the heir apparent to the crown, who, at his birth, becomes Duke of Cornwall. The second Dukedom was conferred, on the 6th March, 1351, upon Henry Plantagenet (son and heir of the Earl of Derby), under the title of Duke of Lancaster, which dignity expired at his Grace's decease, in 1360, without male issue, but was re-conferred, in 1362, upon John of Gaunt, who had married the Duke's second daughter, and eventually sole heiress, the Lady Blanche Plantagenet. In the reign of ELIZABETH, anno 1572, the whole Order, with the exceptions of Norfolk and Somerset then under attainder, became utterly extinct, but it was revived about fifty years afterwards by her successor, in the person of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham.

A Duke is styled "His Grace," and the "Most Noble," and he is officially addressed by the Crown as "Our right trusty and right entirely-beloved Cousin and Councillor."

A Duke is likewise entitled, upon some occasions, "Most High, Potent, and Noble Prince."

Coronet—On a circle of gold, chased as jewelled, eight golden strawberry leaves: cap of crimson velvet, turned up ermine; thereon a golden tassel.

SPIRITUAL LORDS.

Archbishops.

ARCHBISHOPS have the Ducal title of "Grace," and take precedence of all Dukes next to those of the Blood Royal. The Archbishop of Canterbury ranks as first lord, and the Archbishop of York as third, coming immediately after the Lord-Chancellor. The Archbishop of Canterbury styles himself, "by Divine providence," while the Archbishop of York and the Bishops adopt the term "permission" instead of "providence."

Bishops.

By an act of parliament passed in the thirty-first year of HENRY VIII., it was settled that Bishops take precedence of all Barons, and immediately after Viscounts; the Bishops of London, Durham, and Winchester, preceding their Right Reverend brethren.

Bishops are styled "Lords," and "Right Reverend Fathers in God."

Note.—In the time of the Saxons, the Bishops, Abbots, and other ecclesiastical persons, held their lands free from all secular services, except the trinoda necessitas,—namely, expeditio, pontium et arcuum extructio, et refectio. But soon after the establishment of the Normans, they were charged with the same obligations of military service as laymen. In consequence of this change, the Bishops became tenants in capite per baroniam, and were, of course, bound to attend the curia regis, which at that time was considered as a burthensome office. It is therefore probable that the Bishops did not willingly acquiesce in this alteration; and when the immunities of the church were so much restrained by the Constitutions of Clarendon, in 10th HENRY II., it was expressly declared, that the Archbishops and Bishops should hold their lands as Baronies, and attend the King's court.

The Bishops were always exempt from doing homage for their Baronies, but were bound to take the oath of fealty.

The great Abbots were also bound to attend parliament, if summoned, when they held their land per baroniam.—CRUISE On Dignities.

See now, as to Bishops sitting in Parliament, the 10 and 11 Vic. cap. 108, a statute passed 23 July, 1847.

PRIVILEGES OF THE PEERAGE.

PEERS and Peeresses are free from all arrest in civil actions, and in such cannot be outlawed, nor can any attachment lie against their person.

Peers are exempt from serving on juries, from attending courts-leet, or sheriff's turns; or, in case of riot, the posse-comitatus.

They are to be tried, in cases of treason and felony, by their Peers.

Digitized by Google

A Peer gives his judgment not on oath but on honour; but when examined as a witness, he must be sworn.

Peers are tried in courts arranged specifically for the purpose, usually in the centre of Westminster Hall, at the expense of the crown, which courts are removed as soon as the investigation terminates.

"The honour of Peers," says Sir William Blackstone (1. Comm. 402), "is so highly tended by the law, that it is much more penal to spread false reports of them, and certain other great officers of the realm, than of other men; scandal against them being called by the peculiar name of scandalum magnatum, and subject to peculiar punishments by divers ancient statutes." This proceeding, however, by writ of scandalum magnatum, which is of a civil as well as of a criminal nature, is now almost obsolete, the ordinary modes of obtaining legal redress being generally preferred. Indeed, in a criminal prosecution for scandalum magnatum the defendant would, no doubt, now be allowed the privileges and be subject only to the punishments enacted by the modern Libel Act, the 6 & 7 Vict. cap. 96. It has been held that words are actionable in the case of a peer which are not so in that of a common person: as to say of a peer: "He is an unworthy man, and acts against law and reason." Lord Townshend v. Dr. Hughes, 2 Modern Reports, 150.

Peers have the privilege of sitting covered in courts of justice during their proceedings. The Barons of Kingsale enjoy, exclusively, the hereditary privilege of being covered in the royal presence, after having made their obeisance.

Peers have the privilege in parliament of wearing parliamentary robes of scarlet cloth, differenced from each other by bars of ermine, Dukes having four, Marquesses four on the right side and three on the left, Earls three, and Viscounts and Barons two rows of plain white fur only. By the curialitas regni, the eldest son in each degree of created dignity is as of the degree next to his father; and such eldest sons of Peers of the rank of Earl, Marquess, and Duke as enjoy a plurality of titles, take and use the secondary one by courtesy.

All Peers carry supporters to their arms, as incidental to their hereditary dignity, and otherwise adorn them exteriorly with their respective coronets and mantles. Selden states that a coronet is first mentioned in the investiture of Earls in the time of EDWARD VI.; but that they were much more ancient appears from the will of Richard, Earl of Arundel, dated 5 December, 1375, in which he bequeathes his three coronets to his son and his two eldest daughters, a circumstance which proves that coronets were carried as ensigns of high nobility in the fourteenth century, but not according to any rule or restriction as to their descent.

Note.—Some peers of Ireland, created since the Union, and in no wise connected with Ireland, took their titles from places in England; but by a sort of fiction, the name of an English county is never introduced into the patent. Lord Rendlesham is of Rendlesham, without any county. Lord Macdonald is of Slate, in the county of Antrim, whereas Slate is in the Hebrides. Lord Newborough is of Ireland.

THE BARONETAGE.

THE hereditary Order of Baronets was erected by patent in England by King JAMES I. in 1611, extended to Ireland by the same Monarch in 1619, and first conferred in Scotland by King CHARLES I. in 1625.*

At the institution many of the chief estated gentlemen of the kingdom were selected for the dignity. The first batch of Baronets comprised some of the principal landed proprietors, among the best descended gentlemen of the kingdom; and the list was headed by a name illustrious more than any other for the intellectual pre-eminence with which it is associated—the name of Bacon. To this first batch Lancashire contributed Molyneux, Hoghton, and Gerard; Sussex, Pelham and Shelley; Suffolk, Tollemache; Leicestershire, Shirley; Nottinghamshire, Clifton; Staffordshire, Aston; Norfolk, Hobart and Knyvett; Glamorganshire, Mansel and Stradling; Wiltshire, St. John; Cheshire, Booth; Cambridgeshire, Peyton; and Derbyshire, Leke. All these were the representatives of territorial families, which had their rise, most of them, at the Conquest, and one or two even in Saxon times.

The Order of Baronets is scarcely estimated at its proper value. A glance over the names which fill the roll of Baronet-creations will convince anyone of the distinction and nobility of the institution. For some time, the possession of territorial influence was the main qualification, and the Order was confined principally to country gentlemen of property and descent. But in more modern days, the circle has been enlarged, and made to include such men as Temple, Hans Sloane, Rodney, Humphry Davy, Herschel, Peel, Walter Scott, Lytton Bulwer, John Burgoyne, Frederick and George Pollock, Maziere Brady and Napier, Havelock and Outram, Astley Cooper, Brodie and Corrigan, Fowell-Buxton, Rothschild, and Guinness, who raised their families to greatness by their pre-eminence in science, literature, commerce, or arms. It seems a pity that so important an hereditary Order should possess no designating mark of distinction. The Orders of Chivalry, the Garter, St. Patrick, the Thistle, and the Bath, have their insignia. Forty years ago, the Baronets sought to obtain from the favour of the Crown some such distinction, and a committee was formed to press their claim upon the Sovereign. Too much, however, was asked, and nothing gained. Possibly, if the Baronets had sought only the privilege of wearing a Badge, a privilege enjoyed by the Baronets of Scotland, a Royal concession might have been made.

* The only instance of the grant of a Baronetcy to a female is that of Dame Mary Bolles, of Osberton, Notts, who, in 1635, was elevated to the Baronetcy of Scotland, with remainder to her heirs whatsoever.

Digitized by Google

PRIVILEGES OF THE BARONETAGE.

By the constitution of the Baronetage, it is declared and provided, that Baronets and their heirs male, their wives, sons, daughters, and sons' wives, respectively, or any of them, at whatsoever time to come, in all questions concerning any place, precedence, privilege, or other matter concerning them, shall be regulated by the use and practice of custom and law, as other hereditary degrees of dignity are ordained and directed, concerning place, prerogative, and precedence.

The wives of Baronets are Ladies, and enjoy place and precedency, both during the lives, and after the decease of their husbands, according to the manner and usage of other hereditary degrees.

The daughters of Baronets have the rank and precedence of their eldest brother.

The Baronets of the several creations have assigned to them by the grant of the royal founder, as a perpetual military post of honour, place in the royal armies of the Sovereign, near and about the Royal Standard for its defence.

The Baronets of England and Ireland bear, as an honourable augmentation, on a canton in their armorial ensigns, the royal arms of Ulster, viz., arg., a sinister hand, erect, gu., these senior branches of the baronetage having been erected to promote the Plantation of that province.

The Baronets of Scotland are also privileged to charge their coat armour with a similar augmentation,—viz., the arms of Nova Scotia,—having been founded to promote the plantation of that province. By a royal warrant of Charles I. in 1629, they are also allowed to wear as a personal decoration, an Orange Riband and Badge,—viz., in a scutcheon, arg., a Saint Andrew's cross, az., thereon an inescutcheon of the royal arms of Scotland, with an imperial crown above the scutcheon, and encircled with the motto, "Fax mentis honestæ gloria," being the motto of Henry, Prince of Wales, the eldest son of the royal Founder of the Order.

Note.—Since the Legislative Unions between England and Scotland, and Great Britain and Ireland, the separate Orders of Baronets have been superseded by the one general institution of Baronets of the United Kingdom, who also bear on their coat armour the augmentation of the sinister hand, gu.

SCALE OF GENERAL OR SOCIAL PRECEDENCE.

THE precedence indicated in the following Scale is that which is known as general or social precedence, and is admitted on all occasions and in all society. The Clergy, the Bar, the Military, and other classes have amongst themselves a certain relative rank; but such relative rank is peculiar to each of these classes, and gives them no position on the general or social scale. That scale comprises those only who enjoy dignities, or (in case of men) official appointments coming within some one of the authorities here cited of statute, patent, or usage.

The marks, or absence of marks, show the authorities.

RULES OF PRECEDENCE.

I.—Men of Official Rank, who have higher personal precedence, are placed according to that higher personal precedence.

II.—It is Men's rank that confers precedence and regulates State Ceremonials. At the Queen's Courts, where husbands and wives pass Her Majesty together, the precedence of the husbands is that which is regarded.

III.—The Wives and Children of Great Officers of State and of all of those who derive their places on the scale from official rank, have no consequent precedence, nor have the wives and children of Archbishops and Bishops.

IV.—A Lady, having precedence by birth (for instance, the daughter of a Peer, Baronet, or Knight), retains her innate rank and precedence although married to a Commoner, but if she be married to a Peer, her precedence is that of her husband.

V.—Widows of Peers, Baronets, and Knights, on marrying Commoners, continue by the courtesy of society, though not by law, to retain their titles and precedence. At a Coronation or other state ceremonial, widows of peers who have married Commoners are not summoned to attend; this rule was followed at the funeral of the Duke of Wellington. In society it is different, and the widows of Peers, Baronets, and Knights, married to untitled Commoners, generally adhere to the titles acquired by their first marriages, although the practice is not derived from right. Widows of "Honorables" who subsequently marry Commoners (not sons of Peers), are not allowed, even by the courtesy of society, to retain the prefix of "Honorable" after such subsequent marriages.

VI.—A Peeress in her own right does not lose her rank and precedence by marriage or widowhood; if she be married to a Peer of higher degree than her own, she has her husband's precedence.

VII.—Daughters of Peers, Baronets, and Knights, and other persons of dignity, rank next immediately after the wives of their eldest brothers.

VIII.—Dowager Peeresses, and Baronets' Widows take precedence of the wives of the existing Peers and Baronets of the same creations, from their being senior in the dignity, from their husbands having being nearer the succession; for instance, the Dowager Duchess of Beaufort, has precedence of the wife of the present Duke of Beaufort; and on the same principle of being nearer the succession, the son of an existing Peer has precedence above the son of a previous holder of the same title.

IX.—Peers and Peeresses take rank among themselves thus—I., of England; II., of Scotland; III., of Great Britain; IV., of Ireland; and V. of the United Kingdom and of Ireland, created since the Union, according to the dates of the respective patents.

X.—The Baronets of England, the Baronets of Ireland, the Baronets of Scotland, the Baronets of Great Britain, and the Baronets of the United Kingdom, take rank among themselves according to the dates of their respective patents. The Act of Union of Great Britain and Ireland, which fixes the precedence of the different orders of the Peerage, enacts no other precedence, nor does it interfere with or disturb in the slightest degree any other forms of precedence that might then have been in force. It is silent as to the English, Irish, or Scotch Baronets, and consequently, whatever precedence their original patents conferred, is not affected by that enactment. For instance, Sir Charles Coote inherits a Baronetcy of Ireland, conferred in 1620, and has, by right, the precedence of that date. There is no law or statute to deprive him of it, or to make him give place, for instance, to Sir Henry James Hawley, whose grandfather, Henry Hawley, was created a Baronet of Great Britain in 1795. Some argue that as the Act of Union fixed the precedence of the Peers of the Three Kingdoms, the precedence of the Baronets may be assumed by analogy; but surely no lawyer or herald would admit the power of "analogy" to destroy a right derived by Patent from the Crown.

XI.—AMBASSADORS yield precedence only to members of the Royal Family of the Court to which they are accredited, and to the sons and brothers of Crowned Heads. Foreign Ministers and Envoys have no real claim to precedence. The question was raised and settled at the Congress of Vienna, in 1815, but of late years place has been allowed them in this country, after Dukes and before Marquesses.

XII.—ESQUIRES—Armiger, or Esquire, is not, like those names given in the Statute 1 EDWARD VI., c. 7, s. 3, a name of dignity, but is (as is also, according to Sir Edward Cooke, Gentleman or Yeoman) a name of worship, and cannot be attached to any of the dignities mentioned in the Statute of EDWARD VI. The different classes to whom the title of Esquire belongs are:—

1. The sons of all the peers and lords of parliament during the lives of their fathers; the younger sons of peers after the death of their fathers; the eldest sons of the younger sons of peers and their eldest sons in perpetual succession.
2. Noblemen of other nations.
3. The eldest (and we think, if any, all the) sons of baronets, and the eldest sons of knights.
4. Esquires created expressly with a collar of SS., and spurs of silver—now obsolete.
5. Persons to whom the Queen gives arms by her own letters patent, with the title of Esquire.
6. Esquires of the Bath, and the eldest sons of those Esquires, pursuant to the statutes of the Order.
7. Barristers-at-law, by their office or profession.
8. Justices of the peace, and mayors, while in the commission, or in office.
9. Persons chosen Esquires to the body of the Prince—now obsolete.
10. Persons attending on the Sovereign's coronation in some notable employment, or persons employed in any superior office of trust (where they have discretionary power, and are not, such as clerks, merely ministerial) under the Crown, or serving in some place of better note in the Queen's household.
11. Persons who are styled Esquires by the Queen in their patents, commissions, or appointments, such as sheriffs of counties, or captains in the army and navy.
12. Attorneys in colonies, where the departments of counsel and attorney are united.

XIII.—H.M. LIEUTENANT OF A COUNTY—HIGH SHERIFF OF A COUNTY. Neither H.M. Lieutenant of a County nor the Sheriff is assigned any place on the scale of general precedence, and neither has consequently any social rank from the office he holds. A particular place on the Scale is an honour derived from the Crown or Parliament, or confirmed by authorised usage, and can no more be interfered with than the right to the dignity of the Peerage which a royal patent has conferred. A person not a Peer might as well be placed on the roll of the Peerage as a person not recognized by the authorized scale on the roll of precedence. By the etiquette, however, of Society, H.M. Lieutenant or the Sheriff of a county is generally, in his own county, given the first place. Between the two the higher position appertains, in my opinion, to H.M. Lieutenant of a county.

GENERAL REMARKS.

In the thirty-first year of King HENRY VIII., Parliament, by statutory enactment, took cognizance of Precedence. It then passed the "Act for Placing the Lords," which, although it concerned directly only the Great Officers of State, and referred but incidentally to the places of the Nobility, has since been considered the chief authority for the marshalling of dignities. This Act was originated by the desire of the King, and it is declared, as a preliminary, that although it appertained altogether to the Royal Prerogative to give such honour, reputation, and placing to his Councillors and others his subjects as should be seeming to the King's most excellent wisdom, the King was nevertheless pleased and contented for an order to be had and taken in his Most High Court of Parliament for the placing of the Great Officers and Lords. In addition to this Act of Parliament, the Scale of Precedence is sustained by royal ordinances and ancient usage. The least interference, unless made by Royal or Parliamentary authority, would be destructive of the right of some one entitled to rank on the scale.

The Law of Precedence, though thus confirmed temp. HENRY VIII., dates from a far more distant era than the Act "For placing the Lords." Regulations concerning it were officially issued at various periods long antecedent. The first, in point of date, was "The Order of all Estates of Nobles and Gentry of England," framed in 1339, and the last officially issued before the Statute of HENRY VIII., the series ordinum of the reign of HENRY VII., which Coke considers of the highest authority. The Statute of HENRY VIII. was in the nature of a declaratory Act, confirming the ancient and pre-existing Law of Precedence, and, in confirmation of this, it is a matter of historical fact that the advice of Garter King of Arms was taken before the bill was brought in.

The next important decrees on Precedence were those of King JAMES I., dated 1612 and 1616. A dispute had arisen between Barons' and Viscounts' younger sons, and the then newly created order of Baronets, as to which should take the higher place, and it was finally determined by the King himself in favour of the Peers' sons.

A leading principle of the Law of Precedence is that precedence emanates from father or husband, and cannot be derived from a female, unless in the case of a Peeress in her own right. The daughter and sole heiress of the first Duke of the Kingdom (unless a Peeress in her own right), would confer no higher precedence on her son, than if she were the daughter of a simple citizen.

It is very difficult to determine when precedence, in the descendants of Dukes, Princes of the Blood Royal, ends. Milles, in his Catalogue of Honour of the time of JAMES I., a work of deep research, compiled from the MSS. of his uncle, the learned Robert Glover, Somerset Herald, at a period when the subject of precedence was much canvassed and considered, asserts that "Dukes descended of the Royal Blood," take place above Dukes not descended of the Royal Blood. How far Glover was borne out in this statement I have not been able to discover, but I must confess my own opinion is very much in accordance with his. At the Court of France, under the old régime, the Royal Family and its descendants were always first.

The question of the precedence of the Great Officers of State of Ireland and Scotland with reference to similar officers in England, is not provided for by the Acts of Union, and has never yet been definitely settled, unless, indeed, the placing of the Lord Chancellor of Ireland next to the Lord Chancellor of Great Britain, at the Coronation of King WILLIAM IV., be deemed a royal settlement of the point. Selden is of opinion that "The lists that show practice and custom in matters of precedence, are seen in the published assemblies of the States and other solemnities of Coronations, funerals, and the like"

THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE ALFRED-ERNEST-ALBERT, DUKE OF EDINBURGH, EARL OF KENT AND EARL OF ULSTER, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, Prince of the United Kingdom, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, K.G., K.T., G.C.S.I., G.C.M.G., Naval Aide-de-Camp to the Queen, a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Master of the Trinity House, Rear-Admiral in H.M's Fleet, Admiral Superintendent Royal Naval Reserve, and Major-General in the Prussian army; b. at Windsor Castle, 6 Aug. 1844; m. at St. Petersburg, 23 Jan. 1874, Her Imperial Highness the GRAND DUCHESS MARIE ALEXANDROVNA, Member of the Royal Order of Victoria and Albert (1st Class) (b. 17 Oct. 1853), only daughter of His Majesty Alexander II., Emperor of Russia, and has issue,

PRINCESS MARIE-ALEXANDRA-VICTORIA, b. 27 Oct. 1875.

PRINCESS VICTORIA-MELITA, b. at Malta, 25 Nov. 1876, bapt. at the San Antonio Palace, 1 Jan. 1877.

ALEXANDRA-LOUISE-OLGA-VICTORIA, b. at Coburg, 1 Sept. 1878.

His Royal Highness, the second son of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, was created a Peer of the United Kingdom, 24 May, 1866.

EDINBURGH has already given the title of Duke to members of the Royal Family. In 1726, H.R.H. FREDERICK LEWIS, eldest son of GEORGE, PRINCE OF WALES (afterwards King George II.), was created DUKE OF EDINBURGH. Subsequently, in 1729, H.R.H. was made Prince of Wales. He d. v. p. in 1751, leaving a son and successor, H.R.H. George, Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, &c., who ascended the throne as George III. in 1760, when the Dukedom of Edinburgh merged in the Crown. It was, however, called out four years after, in favour of the King's brother, H.R.H. PRINCE WILLIAM-HENRY, then created DUKE OF GLOUCESTER AND EDINBURGH and Earl of Connaught. With his son the title expired in 1834, and remained unappropriated until conferred as above on Her Majesty's second son, H.R.H. PRINCE ALFRED.

KENT, rendered famous as an Earldom by the Plantagenets, Hollands, and Greys, and associated with all the varying fortunes of those gallant races, was twice conferred, as a Dukedom, viz., on Henry Grey, Marquess of Kent in 1710, and on H.R.H. Prince Edward, 4th son of King GEORGE III. in 1799. In the latter creation it was associated with the Dukedom of Strathearn. H.R.H. who d. 23 Jan. 1820, was father of Her Most Gracious Majesty.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT AND STRATHEARN.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE ARTHUR-WILLIAM-PATRICK-ALBERT, DUKE OF CONNAUGHT AND OF STRATHEARN, AND EARL OF SUSSEX, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, Prince of the United Kingdom, Duke of Saxony, Prince of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, K.G., K.T., K.P., G.C.S.I., G.C.M.G., a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, Lieut.-Col. 1st Batt. Rifle Brigade (previously Major 7th Hussars), Hon. Col. London Irish Rifle Volunteers, Hon. Col. Isle of Wight Artillery Militia, Military Aide-de-Camp to the Queen, has the Imperial Turkish Order of Osmanli, and the German Order of the Black Eagle, Ranger of Epping Forest; b. at Buckingham Palace, 1 May, 1850; m. at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, 13 March, 1879, Her Royal Highness PRINCESS LOUISE-MARGARET-ALEXANDRA-VICTORIA-AGNES, 3rd dau. of H.R.H. Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia, G.C.B. (b. 25 July, 1860). His Royal Highness, the third son of Her Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA, was created a Peer of the United Kingdom, 24 May, 1874.

CONNAUGHT as a title of honor is historic and royal. In Celtic times, the Kings of Connaught were the O'Conors, the representative of whom, RODERICK O'CONOR, KING OF CONNAUGHT, was elected King of all Ireland in 1136. It was that monarch who signed, by his Chancellor, the Treaty of Windsor with King Henry II. After the Anglo-Norman Conquest, the designation of "LORD OF CONNAUGHT," was enjoyed by RICHARD DE BURGH, surnamed the Great, Viceroy of Ireland. His wife was Una, dau. of Hugh O'Conor, King of Connaught, and his son and heir, Walter de Burgh, Lord of Connaught. This potent subject m. Maud, dau. and heir of Hugh de Lacy, Earl of Ulster, and became in consequence Earl of Ulster. His son and heir, Richard de Burgh, Lord of Connaught and Earl of Ulster, a great soldier and statesman, was father of John de Burgh, Lord of Connaught, who married Elizabeth, dau. of Gilbert, Earl of Gloucester, and granddau. of King Edward I. and left a son and successor, William de Burgh, Earl of Ulster, LORD OF CONNAUGHT, who m. Maud, dau. of Henry Plantagenet, Earl of Lancaster, and d. in 1333, leaving an only child, Lady Elizabeth de Burgh, who married in 1352, Prince Lionel of Antwerp, K.G. (3rd son of Edward III.), who became in consequence Earl of Ulster, Lord of Connaught, and was created Duke of Clarence, 13 Nov. 1362. By the great heiress of De Burgh, he had an only child, PHILIPPA, wife of Edmond Mortimer, 3rd Earl of March, Viceroy of Ireland in 1380, jure uxoris Earl of Ulster and "Lord of Connaught," ancestor, through his granddau. the Lady Anne Mortimer, wife of Richard Plantagenet, Earl of Cambridge, of EDWARD IV. KING OF ENGLAND, and of the subsequent SOVEREIGNS of this realm. The title of Connaught remained in the Crown until 1764, when H.R.H. Prince William-Henry, brother of King George III. was created Duke of Gloucester and Edinburgh, in the Peerage of Great Britain, and EARL OF CONNAUGHT, in that of Ireland, and it became extinct at the death of his Royal Highnesses' son, William-Frederick, 2nd Duke of Gloucester and Edinburgh, 30 Nov. 1834.

STRATHEARN as an Earldom was granted by King David II. of Scotland, to his nephew, Robert Stewart, Lord High Steward of Scotland, who ascended the throne of Scotland, 22 Feb. 1370, and soon afterwards conferred the Earldom of Strathearn on his eldest son by his second wife, Prince David, who was also created Earl of Caithness, and was designated Earl Palatine of Strathearn, and Earl of Caithness, in a charter of King Robert II. He left an only child, Euphemia, Countess Palatine of Strathearn, who m. Sir Patrick Graham. Their male issue is extinct.

The Dukedom of Strathearn was associated with that of Cumberland in 1766, and in 1790 with that of Kent.

Creation—24 May, 1874.

Arms—The royal arms, differenced by a label of three points, arg., the centre point charged with St. George's Cross, and each of the other points with a fleur-de-lis, az.; in the centre of the said royal arms, an escutcheon of the august house of Saxony, viz., barry of ten, or and sa., a crown of rue, in bend, vert.

THE DUKE OF CUMBERLAND.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS ERNEST-AUGUSTUS-WILLIAM-ADOLPHUS-GEORGE-FREDERICK, DUKE OF CUMBERLAND and TEVIOTDALE, in the Peerage of Great Britain, and Earl of Armagh, in the Peerage of Ireland, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, K.G., G.C.H., a Prince of the United Kingdom, Colonel in the British Army, and in the Austrian Army; b. 21 Sept. 1845; s. to the British titles on the death of his Royal Father, 12 June, 1878; m. 21 Dec. 1878, H.R.H. the PRINCESS THYRA of Denmark (b. 29 Sept. 1853), youngest dau. of CHRISTIAN IX., King of Denmark, and has issue, PRINCESS MARY-LOUISA-VICTORIA-CAROLINA-AMELIA-ALEXANDRA-AUGUSTA-FREDERICA, b. 11 Oct. 1879.

CUMBERLAND, a title long held by the Cliffords, became associated with royalty in 1644, when it was conferred by King Charles I. as a Dukedom, on his nephew, PRINCE RUPERT, Count Palatine of the Rhine, who d. unm. 1682, when all his honors became extinct. Its next creation was in 1689. In that year George, Prince of Denmark, husband of Princess Anne, afterwards Queen Anne, was created Duke of Cumberland, but d. without surviving issue in 1708. From that time the title remained unappropriated until 1726, when it was assigned to Prince William-Augustus, 2nd son of George, Prince of Wales, afterwards George II. This was the celebrated General. He had no issue, and at his decease, 31 Oct. 1765, the Dukedom of Cumberland again expired. It was subsequently revived in 1766, in the person of Prince Henry Frederick, brother of George III., who was created in that year Earl of Dublin and Duke of Cumberland and Strathearn. He d. 1790, also without issue, when the title again became extinct. Its last revival was in 1799, in favour of H.R.H. Ernest-Augustus, 5th son of King George III.

HIS MAJESTY GEORGE-FREDERICK-ALEXANDER-CHARLES-ERNEST-AUGUSTUS, 2nd Duke of Cumberland and Teviotdale, Earl of Armagh, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, King of Hanover, K.G., G.C.H., a Prince of the United Kingdom, and General in the British Army, was only child of H.R.H. Ernest-Augustus, King of Hanover (created Duke of Cumberland and Teviotdale, and Earl of Armagh, 24 April, 1799), 5th son of GEORGE III. and brother to GEORGE IV. (see Page xciv). He was b. at Berlin, 27 May, 1819; m. 18 Feb. 1843, Princess MARY-ALEXANDRINA (b. 14 April, 1818), eldest dau. of JOSEPH, Duke of Saxe-Altenburg, and had issue, ERNEST-AUGUSTUS-WILLIAM-ADOLPHUS-GEORGE-FREDERICK, present Duke.

PRINCESS FREDERICA-SOPHIA-MARIA-HENRIETTA-AMELIA-THERESA, b. 9 Jan. 1848.
PRINCESS MARY-ERNESTINA-JOSEPHINA, b. 3 Dec. 1849.

His Majesty d. 12 June, 1878.

Arms, &c.—The royal arms of England as borne by King George III., differenced by a label of three points arg. the centre point charged with a fleur-de-liz az., and each of the other points with St. George's Cross.

THE DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE.

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK-CHARLES, DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE, EARL OF TIPPERARY, AND BARON CULLODEN, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, Prince of the United Kingdom, K.G., K.P., G.C.B., G.C.H., G.C.S.I., and Grand Master of St. Michael and St. George; Grand Cordon of the Legion of Honour; a Member of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council; Field-Marshal Commanding in Chief Her Majesty's Army; Colonel of the Royal Regiment of Artillery and of the Corps of Royal Engineers, Colonel of the Grenadier-Guards, and Colonel-in-chief of the 17th Lancers and 60th Foot; Chief Ranger of St. James's, Hyde, and Richmond Parks; President of the Royal Military College, of the Royal Military Asylum, and of Christ's Hospital; Governor of King's College, London; b at Hanover, 26 March, 1819; s. his father as 2nd Duke 8 July, 1850.

CAMBRIDGE, although nine times made a peerage title, may be said to have always been royal, for Hamilton was no exception, James, Duke of Châtellerault, Earl of Arran, having been declared heir presumptive to the crown of Scotland. As an Earldom, Cambridge was first conferred by Edward III. on his brother-in-law, William, Duc de Juliers, and subsequently by the same monarch on his 5th son, Edmond of Langley. After the Plantagenets the Scotch Marquesses of Hamilton enjoyed the title; but, in the time of Charles II., it again became unquestionably royal, Henry of Oaklands, brother of the King, when made Duke of Gloucester, had the Earldom of Cambridge as his second honour. As a dukedom it was first conferred in succession on the four infant children of James, DUKE of York, afterwards James II., but they all died in infancy, and the title remained unappropriated until conferred by Queen Anne on George Augustus, Prince Electoral of Hanover, and the heirs male of his body. H.R.H. ascended the throne as GEORGE II., 11 June, 1727, when the Dukedom of Cambridge, merged in the Crown, and so remained vested until 27 Nov. 1801, when it was conferred on.

H.R.H. PRINCE ADOLPHUS-FREDERICK, 7th son of King GEORGE III., who was b. 24 Feb. 1774, m. 7 May, 1818, Her Serene Highness, AUGUSTA-WILHELMINA-LOUISA, Princess of Hesse, youngest dau. of FREDERICK, Landgrave of Hesse Cassel, by whom (who was b. 25 July, 1797) he had issue, GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK-CHARLES, present Duke of Cambridge.

PRINCESS AUGUSTA-CAROLINE-CHARLOTTE-ELIZABETH-MARY-SOPHIA-LOUISA, b. 19 July, 1822; m. 28 June, 1843, to FREDERICK-WILLIAM-CHARLES, Grand Duke of Mecklenburg Strelitz, G.C.B., and has issue, Prince GEORGE-ADOLPHUS-FREDERICK-AUGUSTUS-VICTOR-ERNEST-ADALBERT-GUSTAVUS-WILLIAM-WELLINGTON, Hereditary Grand Duke, b. 22 July, 1848; m. 17 April, 1877, Princess ELIZABETH-MARIA-FREDERICA-AMELIA-AGNES (b. 7 Sept. 1857), eldest dau. of LEOPOLD, DUKE OF ANHALT, and has a dau. b. 8 May, 1878.

PRINCESS MARY-ADELAIDE-WILHELMINA ELIZABETH, b. 27 Nov. 1833; m. at Kew, 12 June, 1866, to His Serene Highness FRANCIS-PAUL-CHARLES-LOUIS-ALEXANDER, Prince and Duke of Teck, G.C.B., only son of DUKE ALEXANDER OF WURTEMBERG, b. 27 Aug. 1837, and has issue, Prince ADOLPHUS-CHARLES-ALEXANDER-ALBERT-EDWARD-GEORGE-PHILIP-LOUIS-LADISLAUS, b. 13 Aug. 1868; Prince FRANCIS-JOSEPH-LEOPOLD-FREDERICK, b. 9 Jan. 1870; Prince ALEXANDER-AUGUSTUS-FREDERIC-WILLIAM-ALFRED-GEORGE, b. 14 April, 1874; and Princess VICTORIA-MARY-AUGUSTA-LOUISE-OLGA-PAULINE-CLAUDINE-AGNES, b. 26 May, 1867.

His Royal Highness was Chancellor of the University of St. Andrews, Knight of the Garter, Knight Grand Cross of the Bath, and Grand Master of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George; a Field-Marshal in the Army, Colonel of the Coldstream Regiment of Foot Guards, Ranger of St. James's, Hyde, and Richmond Parks. He was also for some years Viceroy of Hanover. He d. 8 July, 1850.

Creation—27 Nov. 1801.

WILLIAM, DUKE OF NORMANDY, styled "Willielmus Rex Anglorum," b. at Falaise, in 1025, surnamed The Conqueror, from his triumph over Harold at Hastings, on the 14th Oct. 1066, crowned King of England by Aldred, Archbishop of York, at Westminster Abbey, on the 25th of December, in the same year; m. Maud, or Matilda, dau. of Baldwin V., Count of Flanders, fifth in descent from Ethelwida, dau. of Alfred the Great, and 10th in descent from Charlemagne. William the Conqueror had by Matilda, his wife (with other children who d. in infancy),

I. Robert, surnamed Courthose, successor to the Duchy of Normandy, m. Sybilla, dau. of Geoffrey of Conversana, or according to Glover, Roger of Conversaria, and d. in Cardiff Castle, 10 Feb. 1134, having had a son William, Earl of Flanders, who was slain at the battle of Alost, 1128.
II. Richard, killed by a stag in the New Forest, and d. a youth.
III. WILLIAM RUFUS, successor to the crown of England.
IV. HENRY, successor to the crown of England after his brother.
I. Cicelie, who took the veil at the monastery of Fécamp, and was the first nun, and afterwards the second Abbess, of the Holy Trinity, founded at Caen by her royal mother, the church of which (where Queen Matilda was interred) still exists. The Lady Abbess Cicelie d. at the Holy Trinity, 13 July, 1126.
II. Constance, m. to Alan Fergaunt, Earl of Brittany; and d. s. p. in 1126.
III. Alice, contracted to Harold, she d. young, unm.
IV. Adela, known as "the friend of the poor," m. to Stephen, Count of Blois, and d. 1137, having had four sons and a dau., viz.,
1 William (an imbecile) m. and had issue.
2 Theobald, who s. as Count of Blois.
3 STEPHEN, who s. his uncle Henry upon the English throne.
4 Henry, Bishop of Winchester, d. 6 Aug. 1171.
1 Maud, m. Richard, Earl of Chester; and was drowned with her husband 25 Nov. 1120.
V. Agatha, d. unm., betrothed to Alphonso VI., King of Leon, and afterwards of Castile,
Some genealogists add another dau., viz., Gundreda, m. to William de Warrenne, Count of Warrenne in Normandy, and Earl of Surrey in England, but the paternity of this lady is a very doubtful point, several historians maintaining that the assertion of Ordericus Vitalis that she was sister of Gherbod, the Fleming, Earl of Chester, is sustainable by authentic evidence.

WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR died 9 Sept. 1087, at Hermentrude, a suburb of Rouen, and was interred in the Church of St. Stephen, at Caen; he was s. in his English dominions by his 2nd son,

WILLIAM THE SECOND, surnamed Rufus, styled "Dei Gratiâ Rex Anglorum," b. in Normandy, 1056; crowned 26 Sept. 1087. This monarch was accidentally slain while hunting in the New Forest, 2nd Aug. 1100, and was buried at Winchester: as he died unmarried, the crown devolved upon his next brother,

HENRY THE FIRST, styled the same as WILLIAM II., and surnamed Beauclerc, b. at Selby, co. York, in 1070; crowned 5 Aug. 1100. He m. 1st, 11 Nov. 1100, Matilda (Editha), dau. of MALCOLM III., Caenmor, King of Scotland, by Margaret, his wife, sister and heir of EDGAR ATHELING, and dau. of EDWARD the Exile, son of EDMUND IRONSIDES, King of England, the last of the Saxon Princes in succession to the throne. Through this Princess, the Royal Family of England is directly descended from ALFRED THE GREAT, King of England.* By Matilda, his wife, who d. 1118, and was buried at Winchester, Henry I. had issue,

William, b. 1102; m. 1119, Isabella, dau. of Fulk, Count of Anjou, but was lost at sea 25 Nov. 1120, and left no issue.
MATILDA, or MAUD, styled "Matildis Imperatrix Henrici Regis filia et Anglorum Domina," b. in 1103-4; m. in 1114, the EMPEROR HENRY V. of Germany, who d. s. p. 23 May, 1125. The Empress m. 2ndly, 3 April, 1127, GEOFFREY PLANTAGENET, Count of Anjou, and d. 10 Sept. 1167, having had by him (who d. 1150),
HENRY, who s. to the English throne, as 2nd of that name.
Geoffrey, Count of Nantes, d. s. p. 1157.
William, Count of Poictou, d. s. p. 1163.

HENRY I. m. 2ndly, 2 Feb., 1121, Adeliza, dau. of Godfrey, Duke of Louvaine, but by her (who m. 2ndly, William de Albini) he had no issue. The King died at St. Denis, in Normandy, 1 Dec. 1135, and was interred in Reading Abbey: he was s. by (the third son of his sister, Adela, Countess of Blois) his nephew,

STEPHEN, styled the same as HENRY I., b. at Blois, 1104; crowned 26 Dec. 1135; m. Matilda, dau. and heir of Eustace, Count of Boulogne, by Mary, his wife, dau. of MALCOLM III., Caenmor, and by her (who d. 1151) had issue,

EUSTACE, Count of Boulogne, who m. Constance, sister of LOUIS VII. of France, but d. s. p. in 1152. His widow m. 2ndly, Raymond, Count of Toulouse.
William, Count of Mortaigne and Boulogne, d. s. p. in 1159.
Mary, Countess of Boulogne and Mortaigne, m. Matthew, younger son of Theodore, Count of Flanders, and had issue.

The pretensions of this monarch to the throne were opposed by his cousin, the Empress MAUD, and the contest finally terminated in a compromise, by which STEPHEN was to sway the sceptre during his life, on condition of its passing at his decease to HENRY PLANTAGENET, the son of the Empress. STEPHEN died at Dover, 25 Oct. 1154, and was buried near his wife, in Faversham Abbey, Kent; he was s. by

* The descent from ALFRED is thus traced:—Alfred the Great was father of Edward the Elder, King of England, father of Edmund the Elder, father of Edgar, father of Ethelred, father of Edmund Ironside, father of Edward the Exile, father of Margaret, Queen of Malcolm III., of Scotland, mother of Matilda, Queen of Henry I.

Geoffrey, Earl of Bretagne, b. 1158, who was accidentally slain 1186, in a tournament at Paris, leaving by his wife, Constance, dau. of Conan le Petit, Earl of Richmond and Duke of Brittany, a dau., Eleanor, who d. unm. in 1241, and a son, ARTHUR, b. posthumous 1186, on whom, at the decease of his uncle, RICHARD I., the right to the crown devolved, but who was killed 3 April, 1203, in his 17th year.
JOHN, successor to his brother RICHARD.
Maud, m. to HENRY V., Duke of Saxony (surnamed The Lion. See HOUSE OF GUELPH) and d. 1189.
Eleanor, m. to ALFONSO VIII., King of Castile, and d. 1214.
Joan, m. 1st, to WILLIAM II., King of Sicily; and 2ndly, to Raymond, Count of Toulouse, and d. 4 Sept. 1196.

The King d. 6 July, 1189, at Chinon, near Tours, in France, and was interred at Fontevraud, in Anjou; he was s. by his eldest surviving son,

RICHARD THE FIRST, styled the same as HENRY II., and surnamed Cœur de Lion, b. at Oxford in Sept. 1157, so celebrated as a soldier of the Cross. This monarch, also King of Cyprus and Jerusalem, was crowned 3 Sept. 1189. He m. 12 May, 1191, Berengaria (who d. without ever coming to England), dau. of SANCHO THE WISE, King of Navarre; Richard d. s. p. 6 April, 1199, being slain by an arrow from the Castle of Chalus, in Limosin, which he had invested; he was buried at Fontevraud; when the sovereignty was assumed by his brother,

JOHN, styled "Joannes Rex Angliæ et Dominus Hiberniæ, &c.," and surnamed Lackland, b. at Oxford, 24 Dec. 1166; crowned 27 May, 1199; betrothed when young, in 1173, to Alice, elder dau. and co-heir of Humbert, Count of Maurien, now Savoy, which Princess d. before the nuptials. King John m. 1st, Isabel, dau. and heiress of William, Earl of Gloucester, from whom he was divorced;† and 2ndly, Isabella, dau. and heiress of Aymer Taillefer, Count of Angoulême, by whom (who m. 2ndly, Hugh, Lord of Lusignan and Valence, in Poictou, and dying 1246, was buried at Fontevraud), he left at his decease at Newark Castle, Notts, 19 Oct. 1216,

HENRY, his successor.
Richard, b. 1209, created Earl of Cornwall,‡ and elected in 1256, King of the Romans and of Almaine; m. 1st, in 1230, Isabel, 3rd dau. of William Marshall, Earl of Pembroke, and co-heiress of her brothers, by whom he had a son, Henry, b. 1235, a stout partisan of Prince Edward, and one of the principal commanders at the battle of Lewes; murdered at Viterbo in Italy, by Guy de Montfort, and immortalized by Dante. The King of the Romans m. 2ndly, Sanchia, 3rd dau. and co-heiress of Raymond Berenger, Count of Provence, by whom he had, Edmond, who s. to the Earldom of Cornwall, but d. without issue; and Richard, slain at the siege of Berwick, d. unm. 1296. The King of the Romans m. 3rdly, Beatrice, niece of Conrad, Elector of Cologne, but had no other issue. He d. 2 April, 1272.
Joan, m. 1221, to ALEXANDER II., King of Scotland.

* The royal proclamation of 1801 ordered that the arms of the United Kingdom should be: quarterly, 1st and 4th England 2nd, Scotland, 3rd, Ireland; over which, on an escutcheon of pretence, the arms of the King's dominions in Germany (viz., Hanover, &c.), ensigned with the electoral bonnet. In 1816, the Electorate of Hanover was elevated to the rank of a kingdom, and consequently the Hanoverian regal crown was substituted for the electoral bonnet. On the accession of her present Majesty, the kingdom of Hanover passed from the sovereign of this country, and therefore the Hanoverian escutcheon of pretence has ceased to form part of the royal arms.

KINGS OF SCOTLAND.

WITH all the light that the researches of Celtic scholars and historical antiquaries have lately thrown on the early history of Scotland, some obscurity still hangs over the succession of the kings of the Picts and Daldriadic Scots; our sketch of the Royal Line will, therefore, begin with the union of Picts and Scots, under a King of Scottish race in 850. By the Celtic principle of "tanistry," which prevailed in Scotland nearly to the end of the eleventh century, the succession, hereditary in a particular family, was elective among the members of that family, a preference being given to the oldest and worthiest.

KENNETH I. (called MacAlpin) reigned from 850 to 860.

DONALD, his brother, reigned from 860 to 864.

CONSTANTINE I., son of KENNETH I., reigned from 864 to 877. He fell in a battle with the Danes, and was s. by his brother,

AEDH, who reigned but one year, and is said to have been "slain by his people." His successor was

EOCHA, son of RUN, KING OF STRATHCLYDE, whose mother was CONSTANTINE'S sister; CIRIC or GRIG, son of DUNGAIL, being associated with him. They together reigned from 878 to 889.

DONALD, son of CONSTANTINE I., reigned from 889 to 900. He was slain in a Danish invasion, and was s. by CONSTANTINE II., son of AEDH, who reigned 42 years, and, harassed by the ravages of the Northmen, retired, in 942, to the Monastery of St. Andrews.

MALCOLM I., son of DONALD, reigned from 942 to 954.

INDULPH, son of CONSTANTINE II., reigned from 954 to 962.

DUBH, son of MALCOLM I., reigned from 962 to 967.

CUILEAN, son of INDULPH, reigned from 967 to 971.

KENNETH II., son of MALCOLM I., reigned from 971 to 995.

CONSTANTINE III., son of CUILEAN, reigned 995 to 997.

KENNETH III., son of DUBH, reigned 997 to 1004, and was slain at Monzievaird by

MALCOLM II., son of KENNETH II., who reigned 1005 to 1034. He had two daus., BETHOC, who m. Crinan, Abbot of Dunkeld, and who was mother of his successor; and ——, who m. Sigurd, Earl of Orkney, and was ancestress of subsequent Earls of Orkney. His successor was

DUNCAN I., son of CRINAN, Abbot of Dunkeld, and grandson of MALCOLM II. He had three sons, MALCOLM, DONALD BANE, and MELMARE, the last named being ancestor of the Earls of Athole. In his reign the north and west of Scotland were conquered by the Northmen, under Thorfinn; and MACBETH, Mormaer of Moray, joining his fortunes to those of the invader, put DUNCAN to death in 1040.

MACBETH reigned from 1040 to 1051; his wife, GRUACH, was dau. of BODE, son of KENNETH III. His kingdom seems to have been confined to the country south and west of the Tay, Thorfinn ruling over the rest. In 1057 he was slain by MALCOLM, son of DUNCAN I., at Lumphanan.

LULACH, son of GILCOMGAR, Mormaer of Moray, and descended, through his mother, from BODE, son of KENNETH III., was made king by MACBETH's party, and after reigning seven months, was slain at Essie, in Strathbogie. He had a son, MALSNECHTAN, and also a dau., whose son, ANGUS, succeeding to the Earldom of Moray, was associated with Malcolm, natural son of ALEXANDER I., in an insurrection against DAVID I., but was defeated and slain in 1130. A real or alleged son of ANGUS, known as MALCOLM MCETH, headed another insurrection and was defeated in 1137; and two sons of MALCOLM MACETH, were conjoined with SOMERLED in the later insurrection of 1154.

MALCOLM III., known as Caenmor, or Great Head, ascended the throne in 1058. Under him, the provinces acquired by Thorfinn, fell again under under native rule. He m. 1st, Ingebiorge, widow of Thorfinn, Jarl of Orkney, by whom he had had two sons, DUNCAN, afterwards king, and DONALD, who predeceased him; 2ndly, in 1070, Margaret, sister of EDGAR ATHELING, by whom he had six sons and two daus., vizt.:

EDWARD, slain with his father at Alnwick.
EDMUND.
ETHELRED, Abbot of Dunkeld and Earl of Fife.
EDGAR, ALEXANDER, DAVID, } successively Kings of Scotland.
EDITH, otherwise MATILDA, who was m. 1100 to HENRY I. of England.
MARY, m. to Eustace, Count of Boulogne.

MALCOLM was slain at Alnwick, in 1093, and buried at Tynemouth.

DONALD BANE, brother of MALCOLM III., after reigning six months, was deposed by

DUNCAN II., son of MALCOLM, by his first wife. He m. Ethreda, dau. of Cospatrick, Earl of Northumberland, and had by her a son, WILLIAM, who m. Alice de Rumeli, and had a son, William of Egremont, who d. under age. WILLIAM FITZDUNCAN had also, either by a previous marriage or illegitimately, a son, DONALD BANE MACWILLIAM, who, in 1181, headed an insurrection against WILLIAM THE LION. GUTHRED MCWILLIAM another of the same line, headed an insurrection in 1211. DUNCAN II., after reigning six months, was slain by Malfrida MacLoen, Earl of Mearns, when

DONALD BANE, resumed the throne, his nephew, EDMUND, son of MALCOLM and MARGARET, being conjoined with him. In 1097, through means of EDGAR ATHELING, DONALD was defeated and expelled from Scotland, EDMUND imprisoned, and the throne assumed by EDGAR, son of MALCOLM and MARGARET. DONALD BANE's granddau. and heiress, HEXTILDA, m. Richard Comyn, and their descendant John Comyn, known as the Black Comyn, was one of the competitors for the Scottish crown in 1291.

EDGAR son of MALCOLM, reigned from 1097 to 1107, and was s. by his brother,

ALEXANDER I. While Alexander reigned over Scotland, north of the Forth and Clyde, his brother DAVID, who had been trained in England, and was Earl of Northumberland, ruled with the title of Earl in Lothian and Cumbria. Alexander m. Sybilla, natural dau. of HENRY I. of England (s. p.). He had a natural son, MALCOLM, who in 1130, led a revolt of the Gaelic population against DAVID I. ALEXANDER d. at Stirling, 24 April, 1124, and was s. by his brother

DAVID I. He m. Matilda, widow of Simon de Senlis, and dau. and heir of Waltheof, Earl of Northumberland, by Judith, niece of WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, and had a son,

HENRY, Prince of Scotland, who d. v. p. 1152, having m. 1139, Ada, dau. of William de Warrenne, Count of Warrenne in Normandy, and 2nd Earl of Surrey, by whom he had three sons and three daus.,

I. MALCOLM, who s. his grandfather.
II. WILLIAM, afterwards King.
III. DAVID, b. 1143, Earl of Huntingdon in England, besides which honours he held the Earldom of Garioch, at one time that of Lennox, and the lordship of Strathbogie. He m. Maud, dau. of Hugh, Earl of Chester, and d. 1219, having had three sons and four daus.,

1 DAVID, 2 HENRY } both d. v. p.
3 JOHN, called The Scot, inherited the earldoms of Chester and Lincoln, in addition to the possessions of his father. He d. s. p. 1238, said to have been poisoned by his wife, a dau. of LLEWELLYN of Wales.
1 MARGARET, m. Alan, Lord of Galloway, and had two daus.,

ALEXANDER III. m. 2ndly, 1285, Yolande, dau. of the Count de Dreux, and d. s. p. from a fall from horseback near Kinghorn, 17 March, 1285.

MARGARET, the Maiden of Norway, who s. him, d. unm. in Sept. 1290, on her passage to Scotland, and a disputed succession followed, the competitors, twelve in number, eventually agreeing to submit their claims to the arbitration of EDWARD I. of England. JOHN BALIOL and ROBERT BRUCE were the two between whom the contest eventually lay; and on 17 Nov. 1292, EDWARD decided in favour of

JOHN BALIOL who was crowned at Scone on St. Andrew's Day, 1292. His acknowledgment of EDWARD as Lord Paramount was followed by a succession of indignities, which goaded him into rebellion; and he was compelled to resign the Crown, 2 July, 1296, and d. 1314. He m. Isobel, dau. of John de Warrenne, Earl of Surrey, and had two sons; EDWARD, who invaded Scotland in 1352, reigned for a short time, and d. s. p. 1363; and HENRY, who d. s. p. 1332. BALIOL'S deposition was followed by EDWARD'S subjugation of Scotland, and two struggles for independence, the first under Sir WILLIAM WALLACE, the second, with more success, under ROBERT BRUCE; and at length

ROBERT BRUCE (b. 11 July, 1274, d. at Cardross June, 1329; buried at Dunfermline) was crowned at Scone 27 March, 1306. In 1314 he re-established the independence of Scotland at Bannockburn. He m. 1st, Isabel, dau. of Donald, Earl of Mar, by whom he had a dau.,

Margaret, m. William, 4th Earl of Sutherland, and d. 1358. From her descends the ducal family of Sutherland.

ROBERT I. had also a natural dau., m. to Sir William Oliphant of Aberdalgie, and ancestress of the Lords Oliphant; and a natural son, Sir Robert Bruce, who fell at Dupplin. He was s. by his son,

DAVID II., b. 5 March, 1323; crowned at Scone 1331. He m. 1st, 1328, the Princess JOAN of England, dau. of EDWARD II.; 2ndly, 1363, Margaret, widow of Sir John Logie, divorced 1369; but had no issue by either marriage. He d. at Edinburgh Castle, 22 Feb. 1370. His successor was his nephew,

ROBERT II., High Steward of Scotland, b. 2 March, 1316; m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Adam Mure, of Rowallan; but before the necessary dispensation was obtained, several children had been born, whose otherwise doubtful legitimacy was secured by Act of Settlement in 1373. Issue, four sons and six daus.,

JOHN, who s. as ROBERT III.
Walter, m. Isabel, Countess of Fife, and d. s. p.
ROBERT, Earl of Fife, Duke of Albany, and REGENT OF SCOTLAND during the minority and captivity of JAMES I. He m. 1st, Margaret, Countess of Menteith, by whom he got that Earldom; 2ndly, Muriella, dau. of Sir William Keith, Marischal of Scotland. By his first marriage he had a son, Murdoch, who s. him in the Regency, and m. the eldest dau. of Duncan, Earl of Lennox. Murdoch, with two of his four sons, and his father-in-law Lennox, was put to death on JAMES's restoration, and the dukedom of Albany forfeited. (For the other descendants of Robert, Duke of Albany, see BURKE's Extinct Peerage.)
Alexander, made Earl of Buchan, 1374, known as "The Wolf of Badenoch," m. Euphemia, Countess of Ross, in whose right he was Earl of Ross. He had no lawful issue, but several natural sons, one of whom, Alexander, forcibly seized Isabel Douglas, Countess of Mar, at Kildrummy, and compelled her to be his wife, possessed himself of the Earldom of Mar, and managed, to the prejudice of the heir of the Countess, to get a charter of that Earldom to himself, with remainder to a natural son, whom failing, to return to the Crown.
Marjory, m. John Dunbar, Earl of Moray.
Jean, m. 1st, 1379, Sir John Lyon, ancestor of the Earls of Strathmore; 2ndly, Sir James Sandilands, of Calder, ancestor of Lord Torphichen.

ROBERT II. m. 2ndly, 1355, Euphemia (who d. 1387), dau. of Hugh, Earl of Ross, and widow of John Randolph, Earl of Moray. By her he had,

David, Earl Palatine of Strathearn, and Earl of Caithness. Malise Graham, his grandson by his only dau. and heir, to whom the Earldom of Strathearn had in course of succession descended, was deprived of it by JAMES I. under the false pretext that it was a male fief, and made Earl of Menteith. His descendant and representative gave some alarm to CHARLES I. from implied pretensions founded on the superior legitimacy of the issue of ROBERT II.'s second to that of his first marriage. The lineal representation of the family of Euphemia Ross seems to have passed to Mrs. Margaret Barclay-Allardice, who claims the Earldom of Menteith.
Walter, Earl of Caithness, on resignation of the dau. of his brother David, and made Earl of Athole in 1403. He m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir David de Barclay, Lord of Brechin, in whose right he was Lord of Brechin. He was the chief organizer of the conspiracy to which JAMES I. fell a victim, and for which he suffered death and attainder in 1437. He had two sons, David, father of Sir Robert Stewart, who suffered for complicity in the same crime; and Alan, in whose favour his father resigned the Earldom of Caithness, and who d. s. p.
Margaret, m. 1st James, 2nd Earl of Douglas, d. s. p.; 2ndly Sir John Edmonstone, by whom she had issue.

TWO daus. of ROBERT II., supposed to have been by his second marriage, were m. to John Keith, eldest son of Sir William Keith, Marischal of Scotland; and to Sir Robert Logan, respectively. He also had several natural sons, of whom Sir John Stewart, made hereditary Sheriff of Bute and Arran, was ancestor of the Earls and Marquesses of Bute; and Sir John Stewart, of Cardney and Arntullie (whose mother was a dau. of Sir John Cardney, of Cardney), was ancestor of the Stewarts, of Cardney and Dalguise. ANCESTRY OF THE ROYAL HOUSE OF GUELPH.

THE obscurity in which antiquity has involved the early history of nations can only be, in a slight degree, cleared up by tracing the origin of the families that maintained the continued rule over them. By the combined efforts and researches of Muratori and Leibnitz, the ancestry of the Guelphs has been derived from the princely race of Este; and Gibbon continues the line from that illustrious house, through the dark ages, up to Charlemagne. "The genuine masculine descent of the Princes of Brunswick," says that brilliant writer, "must be explored beyond the Alps; the venerable tree which has since overshadowed Germany and Britain, was planted in the Italian soil. As far as our sight can reach, we discern the first founders of the race in the Marquesses of Este, of Luguria, and, perhaps, of Tuscany. In the eleventh century, the primitive stem was divided into two branches; the elder migrated to the Banks of the Danube and the Elbe; the younger more humbly adhered to the neighbourhood of the Adriatic: the Dukes of Brunswick and the Kings of Great Britain are the descendants of the first; the Dukes of Ferrara and Modena were the offspring of the second.

In the 11th century, CUNIGUNDA, sister and heiress of Guelph, Duke of Lower Bavaria, Count of Altdorf, m. 1040, AZO, MARQUESS OF ESTE, representative of his illustrious house, a nobleman, whose character shines conspicuously through the gloom of the age in which he lived. This alliance was productive of a son, who received at his baptism the name of GUELPH, to revive and perpetuate the memory of his uncle, his grandfather and his first progenitors on the maternal side. After the death of Cunigunda, Azo m. Garzenda, dau. and heir of Hugh, Count of Maine, and was, by her, father of a son, Fulk, the acknowledged parent of the Dukes of Ferrara and Modena. The Marquess of Este d. in 1097, aged upwards of one hundred years. His son, by Cunigunda, GUELPH, Count of Altdorf and Duke of Upper and Lower Bavaria, engaged in the first Crusade, and d. on his return from Palestine, at Paphos in Cyprus, A.D. 1101. He had m. Judith, dau. of Baldwin, Count of Flanders, and sister of Matilda, Queen of William the Conqueror, and left three sons and a dau., of whom HENRY III., surnamed the Black, had the title of Duke of Saxony, and d. in 1125. He was father, by Wulphilda, dau. of Magnus Billing, Duke of Saxony, of HENRY IV. the Proud, who acquired by marriage with Gertrude, dau. and heir of the Emperor Lothaire, new and extensive dominions on the banks of the Elbe and the Weser, including the Dukedom of Brunswick and the county of Northeim. He d. 1139, and was succeeded by his son, HENRY V. the Lion, Duke of Saxony. This celebrated warrior, the most renowned of his time, became, by the great extent of his hereditary and acquired property, too powerful to escape the jealousy and fears of the Emperor and Princes of Germany, by whom he was despoiled of his Saxon and Bavarian dominions. He still, however, retained Brunswick and Lunenburg, and made the former city the capital of his States.

Henry the Lion was twice married. By his first wife he left no family, but by his second wife, who was Maud, dau. of HENRY II. of England, he had issue,

I. HENRY, Longus, of Zelle, who became Count Palatine of the Rhine, from 1195, to 1215. This prince partitioned his father's dominions with his brother Otto, and d. in 1227, leaving two daus., the elder m. to Otto, the Illustrious, Duke of Bavaria, and the younger m. to Herman IV. Margrave of Baden.
II. OTTO, Duke of Brunswick, elected Emperor in 1198, d. in 1218.
III. WILLIAM, surnamed of Winchester, from the place of his birth.
IV. LUTHER, who d. in 1191.
I. Maud, who m. Henry Burewin I., Prince of Wenden, and from this marriage derived the House of Mecklenburg and Queen Charlotte, consort of George III. of England.

Henry the Lion, d. 1195: his third son,

WILLIAM of Winchester, b. in 1184, was one of the hostages for the payment of the ransom of his uncle RICHARD CŒUR DE LION. He m. Helen, dau. of Waldemar I., King of Denmark, and left, at his decease in 1213, an only son,

OTHO, surnamed Puer, who at the death of his uncle Henry, of Zelle, laid claim to Brunswick as heir male, in opposition to that prince's daughters, and establishing his right by the sword, was created by the Emperor Frederick II., DUKE OF BRUNSWICK-LUNEBURG. He m. Matilda, dau. of Albert II., Elector of Brandenburg, and dying in 1252, was succeeded by his eldest son,

ALBERT the Great, Duke of Brunswick, a renowned soldier, who, at the head of the Bohemians and Brunswickers, defeated a powerful army of Hungarians, and captured their king. In 1258, he took the fortress of Asseburg after three years' siege, and also acquired, by conquest, the lordship of WOLFENBUTTEL. His successful career terminated in 1279. By Adelheid, his second wife, dau. of Boniface III., Marquess of Montferrat, he left a dau. Matilda, m. to Eric VI., King of Denmark, and six sons, of whom, Luther and Conrad, were knights of St. John the Baptist, and Otto, a distinguished member of the chivalrous Order of the Temple. Among the other three sons, Henry, ALBERT, and William, their father divided his dominions. Of these,

ALBERT the Fat, succeeded to Gottingen, Northeim, Minden, &c. He m. Richenza, dau. of Henry, Prince of Wenden, and was father of

MAGNUS the Pious, whose youngest son (by Sophia, his wife, dau. of Henry, Margrave of Brandenburg),

MAGNUS, Torquatus, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, continued the line, and was slain in a war against the Count of Schaumburgh, in 1373. He m. Catherine, dau. of Waldimar I., Elector of Brandenburg, and left, with five daus., four sons, of whom the eldest, the Emperor Frederick, joined Wolfenbuttel to Brunswick, but d. s. p in 1400, and the third,

BERNARD, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, continued the succession. He was father, by Margaret, his wife, dau. of Otho, Duke of Saxony, of a son,

FREDERICK the Pious, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, who retired in 1459, to a monastery at Zelle, leaving the cares of government to his eldest son,

BERNARD, at whose decease s. p., in 1464, the dominions devolved on his brother,

OTHO, the Magnanimous, Duke of Brunswick-Luneburg, a distinguished soldier, who m. in 1467, Ann, Countess of Nassau, Vianden, and Dietz, had a son and successor,

HENRY VI., the younger, Duke of Brunswick, who engaged in a war with his cousins, Henry, senior, and Eric I., Dukes of Brunswick-Wolfenbuttel, and gained a decisive victory over them in 1519. His wife was Margaret, dau. of Ernest, Elector of Saxony, and by her he had five sons and three daus. Of the former, the fourth,

ERNEST the Pious, b. 16 Jan. 1497, succeeded to Zelle, upon the abdication of his father. He m. Sophia, dau. of Henry, Duke of Mecklenburg, and d. 11 Jan. 1546, leaving, with other issue, two sons,

I. HENRY, Duke of Danneberg, from whom derived, third in descent,

BAKER, Bt., of Upper Dunstable House.—The youngest dau. of the present Sir Sherston Baker, is named Emily-Margaret-Sherston, b. 26 Jan. 1879.

The following is a fuller memoir of the ancestry :—

The family of Baker is ancient and much respected in the West of England, where it has been seated for many hundred years. It is believed that this family and that of Sir George Baker, Bart., of Loventor, co. Devon, are branches of the same parent stem.

JAMES BAKER, Esq., of Buckland House, near Taunton, co. Somerset, lord of the manors of Cogload and Sampford-Arundel, co. Somerset, and of Nicholas Hayne and Hale, in the parish of Culmstock, co. Devon, had four sons, viz.,

I. CHRISTOPHER, who died without issue, and of whom an inscription on a monument in Sampford-Arundel church thus speaks, "Sacred to the memory of Christopher Baker, who was High Sheriff for the county of Somerset in the year of our Lord 1724. He was the eldest son and heir of James Baker, of Culmstock, in the county of Devon, Esqre., and of Buckland, in this county, deceased, by Sarah, his wife: a worthy descendant for his candour and generosity, and of inviolable integrity of life, and his mother deservedly esteemed for her constancy, piety, and faith. Decessit v. Decbri A.D. 1729, æt. suæ XLIV. Hic posuit Joannes Baker frater amantissimus."

II. James, who died without issue, 31 July, 1747.

III. George, of Brockenhurst House, Hants, barrister-at-law, and a Bencher of the honourable society of the Inner Temple, married Mrs. Vansittart, and died without issue, 1770.

IV. John, of Richmond, Surrey, M.D., a disciple of the celebrated Boerhaave, and deservedly respected for his professional ability, as also for his benevolence, and sterling integrity, m. Sarah, dau. and co-heiress of Robert Wood, brother of Thomas Wood, Esq., of Littleton, co. Middlesex, and of Middleham Castle, co. York, by whom he had, with one dau., Sarah, who died young, three sons.

1 GEORGE, Fellow Commoner of King's College, Cambridge, distinguished for his classical knowledge, who d. at that University without issue in 1772.

2 John, capt. Coldstream Guards, m. Sarah, dau. and sole heiress of Capt. Baddison, R.N., and d. at Sway, near Lymington, 11 June, 1794, leaving issue one son, John-Robert, and two daus.

3 ROBERT, the 1st baronet.

This

I. ROBERT BAKER, Esq., of Upper Dunstable House, Surrey, and of Nicholas Hayne, co. Devon, was created a baronet 14 May, 1796. He m. August, 1783, Dinah, dau. and sole heiress of George Hayley, Esq., Alderman and M.P. of the city of London (by Mary, his wife, sister to the celebrated John Wilkes, Esq., M.P. for Middlesex), and by her (who d. March, 1805) had issue, as in the body of the work.

His Grace was appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland in 1866, and was raised to the Marquessate of Hamilton and DUKEDOM OF ABERCORN, 10 Aug. 1868, in recognition of his very able administration of the Government of Ireland during a critical and difficult period. He resigned the Lord-Lieutenancy of Ireland in 1868; was appointed a second time, March, 1874, and retired Dec. 1876. He was served HEIR MALE of the body of the 1st DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT,* by the sheriff of Chancery in

* Dukedom of Chatellerault.

The title of DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT was granted by Letters Patent, dated 5 Feb. 1548, to JAMES HAMILTON, 2ND EARL OF ARRAN, Regent of Scotland, and to his heirs, successors, and "ayants cause" for ever.

The exact meaning of this limitation is explained by the 4th article of the Royal Edict of Marly, of 1711, issued by Louis XIV.:—

"Par les termes d'hoirs et successeurs et par les termes d'ayants cause tant insérés dans les lettres d'érection ci-devant accordées, qu'à insérer dans celles qui pourraient être accordées à l'avenir, ne seront et ne pourront être entendus que les enfants mâles descendus de celui en faveur duquel l'érection aura été faite, et que les mâles qui en seront descendus de mâles en mâles, en quelque ligne et degré que ce soit."

The title of Duke of Chatellerault at the decease of JAMES, 2ND EARL OF ARRAN, AND 1ST DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, in 1575, became the inheritance of his eldest son JAMES, 3RD EARL OF ARRAN, who died unmarried. His brother, LORD JOHN HAMILTON, 1ST MARQUESS OF HAMILTON, had an only son, JAMES, 2ND MARQUESS OF HAMILTON, AND 3RD DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, who died 2 March, 1624–25, leaving three sons, and no other male issue. The youngest of these sons, Lord John Hamilton, died young and unmarried. The other two were—JAMES, 3RD MARQUESS OF HAMILTON, AND 4TH DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, and Lord William Hamilton, who eventually succeeded his brother.

JAMES, the 3RD MARQUIS OF HAMILTON (created Duke of Hamilton with special limitations), died 9 March, 1648–49, leaving one only child, a daughter, ANNE, DUCHESS OF HAMILTON, of whom the EARL OF DERBY is heir-general, and the Duke of Hamilton a descendant. At the death of this James, 3rd Marquess and 1st Duke of Hamilton, his only surviving brother,

LORD WILLIAM HAMILTON, became 2ND DUKE OF HAMILTON, AND 5TH DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, and died 1651, without leaving any heir male of his body, whereupon the male succession—that is, the male representation of James, 2nd Earl of Arran, 1st Duke of Chatellerault—devolved upon his kinsman, JAMES HAMILTON, 2ND EARL OF ABERCORN, who then became the heir designated by the limitation in the patent conferring the Dukedom of Chatellerault. This James, 2nd Earl of Abercorn, was heir male of the house of Hamilton, heir male of the Earls of Arran, and lineal descendant and heir male of the 1st Duke of Chatellerault. His direct descendant, "de mâles en mâles," and representative in blood is JAMES, present DUKE OF ABERCORN.

* Present Duke.

Scotland, 13 Jan. 1862, and, as such heir male of the 1st duke, asserts his hereditary right to the original title of Duke of Châtellerault of 1549. By the edict of Louis XIV., May 1711, the descent of French Dukedoms was declared to be to heirs "descendus de mâles en mâles."

Note—The Duke of Abercorn, the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos, and the Earl of Verulam, are the only members of the Peerage who enjoy distinct peerages in the three kingdoms.

Lineage.

Genealogical writers, Sir Robert Douglas and others, affirm that the Hamiltons derive their origin from the magnificent Norman race of De Bellomonte, Earls of Leicester, through the Lords of the Manor of Hamilton, in the co. of Leicester, who flourished there previous to the extinction of the De Bellomonts, and who are considered to have been a branch of that family. They carried the same arms with those of the Earls of Leicester, with the difference of THREE cinquefoils instead of ONE, as a mark of cadency; the ancient lords of the manor of Hamilton and the Hamiltons of Scotland bearing for their arms THREE cinquefoils ermine, on a field gules, whereas the De Bellomonts, Earls of Leicester, and their ancestors, the Counts of Mellent, bore ONE cinquefoil ermine, on a field gules. Without attempting, however, to trace the exact line of descent of the illustrious Scottish house of Hamilton from the great and powerful stock of the ancient De Bellomonts, Earls of Leicester, we commence with

SIR GILBERT DE HAMILTON the immediate ancestor of the great family of Hamilton. He lived in the reign of ALEXANDER II., King of Scotland, and he is said to have m. Isabella Randolph, sister of Thomas Randolph, Earl of Moray. He had issue two sons, I. Walter; II. John. The latter, Sir John FitzGilbert Hamilton, of Rossaven and Preston, was ancestor of a very distinguished branch of the Hamilton family, the Hamiltons, Baronets of Preston. Sir Gilbert de Hamilton's eldest son,

SIR WALTER FITZ GILBERT HAMILTON swore fealty to King EDWARD I. in 1292, 1294. Attaching himself to King ROBERT BRUCE, he had divers grants of lands; among others the Barony of Kenel (Kinniel) and that of Cadzow (Hamilton), which became the chief lordship and seat of the Hamilton family. He m. Mary, dau. of Sir Adam Gordon, Lord of Gordon, by whom he had issue, I. DAVID; II. JOHN. The younger son, John Hamilton, was father of Sir Alexander Hamilton, of Innerwick, who, before 1389, m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Stewart, Earl of Angus. His great-grandson, Hugh, of Innerwick, had two sons, I. JAMES, ancestor of the Hamiltons, of Innerwick; II. THOMAS, ancestor of the Earls of Haddington. The elder son was

SIR DAVID HAMILTON, 2nd Lord of Cadzow. In 1346 he was made prisoner at the battle of Durham. In 1361, he was a benefactor to the see of Glasgow, and was one of the Magnates Scotiæ who consented to the settlement of the crown in 1371. He d. 1374. He m. Margaret, dau. of William, 7th Earl of Ross, by whom he had two sons, I. DAVID; II. WALTER. The latter, Walter Hamilton, was ancestor of the family of Hamilton, of Cambuskeith, in the co. of Ayr. The elder son,

SIR DAVID HAMILTON, 3rd Lord of Cadzow, had grants of land from King ROBERT II. in 1377. He d. before 1392. He m. Jonetta Keith, dau. of Sir William Keith, of Galston, by whom he had issue, I. JOHN; II. GEORGE, ancestor of Hamilton, of Boreland, in the co. of Ayr, and its cadets Hamilton, of Blantyrefarme, and Hamilton, of Olivestob; III. WILLIAM, ancestor of Hamilton, of Bathgate, in the co. of Linlithgow; IV. ANDREW, ancestor of Hamilton, of Udston, in the co. of Lanark, and Hamilton of Barncluith, in the same county. Both families ended in heiresses who m. into the family of Hamilton of Neilsland, a branch of the House of Raploch, and were carried on by that line; V. DAVID, ancestor to the family of Hamilton of Bardowie, represented by Buchanan Hamilton, of Bardowrie and Leny. The eldest son,

SIR JOHN HAMILTON, 4th Lord of Cadzow, s. his father before 1392. He m. Janet Douglas, dau. of Sir James Douglas, of Dalkieth, ancestor to the Earl of Morton, by the Lady Agnes Dunbar, dau. of Patrick, 9th Earl of March and Dunbar, and descended paternally and maternally from the royal family of Scotland, through the sister and aunt of King ROBERT BRUCE. He had issue,

I. JAMES.
II. DAVID, ancestor of the family of Hamilton, of Dalserf.
III. Thomas, of Darngaber, who was ancestor of one of the most numerous and important branches of the House of Hamilton.

Sir John Hamilton, 4th Lord of Cadzow, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JAMES HAMILTON, 5th Lord of Cadzow, who, being one of the principal nobles of Scotland, was a hostage for the ransom of King JAMES I. from England in 1424. He m. Janet Livingstone, dau. of Sir Alexander Livingstone, of Calendar, ancestor of the Earl of Linlithgow, the great justiciary of Scotland, and the most powerful man in the kingdom during a portion of the minority of King JAMES II., and by her had issue,

I. JAMES, his heir.
II. Alexander, ancestor to the families of Hamilton, of Silvertonhill, and Hamilton, of Newton.
III. GAVIN, a churchman, provost of the collegiate church of Bothwell, 1453: previous to entering into holy orders he m. and was ancestor of a very distinguished branch of the Hamiltons, viz. HAMILTON, of Orbieston, one of which was Lord Justice Clerk of Scotland as Lord Orbieston; the present representative is JOHN-GLENCAIRN-CARTER HAMILTON, of Dalzell, Esq., M.P., Vice-Lieut. of Lanarkshire. (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry.)

Sir James Hamilton, 5th Lord of Cadzow, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JAMES HAMILTON, 6th Lord of Cadzow, who was created a lord of parliament by royal charter, 28 June, 1445, as LORD HAMILTON. This nobleman obtained a grant, dated 1 July, 1455, of the office of sheriff of the county of Lanark; and subsequently, grants of extensive territorial possessions. He m. 1st, Lady Euphemia Graham, eldest dau. of Patrick, Earl of Strathern, Dowager of Archibald, 5th Earl of Douglas, by whom he had an only dau., Elizabeth, m. to David, 5th Earl of Crauford, Duke of Montrose. Lord Hamilton, m. 2ndly, in 1474, the Princess Mary, eldest dau. of JAMES II., and relict of Thomas Boyd, Earl of Arran; and dying in 1479, was s. by his only son,

JAMES, 2nd lord, who obtained a charter of the lands and Earldom of Arran, dated 10 Aug. 1503, to himself and his heirs male, in failure of which, to revert to the crown. This nobleman, who took a prominent part in the affairs of Scotland, was constituted lieut.-gen. of the kingdom, warden of the marches, and one of the Lords of the Regency, in 1517; and on the forfeiture of the Earl of Angus he obtained the lordship of Bothwell. His lordship m. 1st, Beatrix, dau. of John, Lord Drummond, and by her had an only dau.,

Margaret, m. to Andrew Stewart, Lord Evandale and Ochiltree.

He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, sister of Alexander, Lord Hume, lord high-chancellor of Scotland; from whom, being divorced, he m. 3rdly, Janet, dau. of Sir David Beaton, of Crich, in Fifeshire, comptroller, temp. JAMES VI., and widow of Sir Robert Livingston, of Easter Weems. By this lady he had,

JAMES, his successor.
Helen, m. to Archibald, Earl of Argyll.
Jane, m. to Alexander, Earl of Glencairn.

The earl d. in 1530, and was s. by his son,

JAMES, 2nd earl. This nobleman, upon the death of JAMES V., in 1542, was unanimously chosen Regent of Scotland by the nobles assembled for that purpose, the public voice applauding their choice; the next year he was declared by parliament HEIR PRESUMPTIVE to the crown, appointed guardian to Queen MARY, and governor of the realm during her majesty's minority. In 1548, his lordship was invested with the French order of St. Michael, and made, in 1549, by HENRY II. of France, DUKE OF CHATELLERAULT, *in Poictou. He m. Lady Margaret Douglas, eldest dau. of James, 3rd Earl of Morton, and had, with three daus., Margaret, m. 1st, to Alexander, Lord Gordon, and 2ndly, to Lord Fleming; Anne, m. to George, Earl of Huntly, and Jane, m. to Hugh, Earl of Eglinton, four sons, viz.,

I. JAMES, his successor.
II. JOHN, successor to his brother.
III. David, d. unm. 1611.
IV. CLAUD, ancestor of the Duke of Abercorn now heir male of the House of Hamilton. Lord Claud, b. 1543, was amongst the most zealous partisans of MARY Queen of Scots, and was a very gallant and distinguished personage. He commanded

* The regent was gratified by the Dukedom of Chatellerault, conferred upon him by the French king, with a considerable pension, in order to induce him to consent to the projected match between MARY, the infant Queen of Scotland, and the DAUPHIN of France.—Sir Walter Scott.

1 Margaret, m. to William, 1st Marquess of Douglas.

His lordship d. 22 Jan. 1575, and was s. by his eldest son,

JAMES, 3rd earl. This nobleman, upon the arrival of Queen MARY, in 1561, openly aspired to her hand, but opposing the Queen's free exercise of her religion, and entering a protestation against it, his lordship entirely forfeited her favour. His love, however, inflamed by disappointment, and his impatience exasperated by neglect, gradually preyed upon his reason, and after many extravagances, broke out at last in ungovernable frenzy. He was, in consequence, declared to be in a state of insanity by the cognition of an inquest passed on a brief directed out of the Court of Chancery, and the estates of his deceased father devolved upon his brother,

LORD JOHN HAMILTON, who, with his younger brother, Claud, was banished from Scotland in 1579; but returned in 1585, the act of forfeiture which had been passed being annulled; and was elevated to the peerage, 17 April, 1599, as Marquess of Hamilton. This nobleman remained fast in his allegiance to the unhappy Queen MARY; and so conscious was the unfortunate princess of his fidelity, that one of her latest acts was to transmit to him a ring (which is still treasured in the family) through the medium of an attendant. His lordship m. Margaret, only dau. of John, 8th Lord Glamis, and dying 12 April, 1604, was s. by his only son,

JAMES, 2nd marquess, K.G.; who, upon the demise of his uncle James (already mentioned as insane), Earl of Arran, in 1609, inherited that nobleman's honours. His lordship obtained an English peerage, 16 June, 1619, by the titles of Baron of Innerdale, in Cumberland, and Earl of Cambridge, and was installed a Knight of the Garter, at Windsor, 7 July, 1623. He m. Lady Anne Cunningham, dau. of James, 7th Earl of Glencairn, by whom he had issue,

JAMES, his successor.

WILLIAM, successor to his brother.

Anne, m. to Hugh, 7th Earl of Eglintoun.

Margaret, m. to John, Earl of Crawford and Lindsay.

Mary, m. to James, 2nd Earl of Queensberry.

He d. 2 March, 1625, and was s. by his elder son,

JAMES, 3rd marquess, K.G.; who was created, on 12 April, 1643, DUKE OF HAMILTON, Marquess of Clydesdale, Earl of Arran and Cambridge, Lord Avon and Innerdale, to him and the heirs male of his body; and in default thereof, to his brother, William, Earl of Lanark, and his male issue; and in default of such issue, to the eldest daughter of the said James, Duke of Hamilton and her male issue; and in default of such issue, to the heirs whatsoever of the said James's body. His grace, espousing warmly and actively the cause of his royal master CHARLES I., was defeated and taken prisoner at the battle of Preston, and suffered decapitation in Old Palace Yard, 9 March, 1649. He m. Mary, dau. of William, 1st Earl of Denbigh, by whom he had four sons, all of whom d. in infancy, and two daus., ANNE, of whom presently; and Susanna, who m. John, Earl of Cassilis. His grace was s. by his brother,

WILLIAM, 4th marquess and 2nd duke; who had himself been elevated to the peerage, 31 March, 1639, as Lord Mackanshire and Polmont, and Earl of Lanark. His grace m. in 1638, Lady Elizabeth Maxwell, dau. and co-heir of James, Earl of Dirleton, by whom he had a son, who d. in infancy, and five daus., viz.,

Anne, m. to Robert, 3rd Earl of Southesk.

Elizabeth, m. 1st, to James, Lord Kilmaurs; and 2ndly, to Sir David Cunningham, of Robertland.

Mary, m. 1st, to Alexander, 2nd Earl of Calendar; 2ndly, to Sir James Livingstone; and 3rdly, to James, 3rd Earl of Findlater.

Margaret, m. to William Blair, of Blair.

The Duke received a mortal wound in the service of CHARLES II., at the battle of Worcester; and by CROMWELL'S Act of Grace, passed in 1654, he was excepted from all benefit thereof, and his estates forfeited, reserving out of them £400 a-year for his duchess for life, and after her death, £100 a-year each to his four daus., and their heirs for ever. His grace's own honours fell under the attainder, and his English dignities expired, while the Dukedom of Hamilton, in virtue of the patent of 1643, devolved upon (the eldest dau. of James, the 1st duke) his niece, LADY ANNE HAMILTON, as Duchess of Hamilton, who m. LORD WILLIAM DOUGLAS, eldest son of William, 1st Marquess of Douglas, by his 2nd wife, Lady Mary Gordon, 3rd dau. of George, 1st Marquess of Huntly. Her Grace obtained by petition, for her husband, in 1660, the title of Duke of Hamilton, for life. His grace had been previously elevated to the peerage as Earl of Selkirk: from thi marriage of Anne, Duchess of Hamilton, with Lord William Douglas, descends the present DUKE OF HAMILTON. At the death of William, 2nd Duke of Hamilton, the male representation of the great house of Hamilton devolved on his Grace's kinsman and next male heir,

JAMES HAMILTON, 2nd EARL OF ABERCORN. This nobleman had been previously advanced to the peerage of Ireland, 8 May, 1617, by the title of Lord Hamilton, Baron of Strabane, which honour, upon his lordship's petition to CHARLES I., was transferred to his next brother, the Hon. Claud Hamilton. He m. Catharine, dau. and heiress of Gervais, Lord Clifton, of Leighton Bromeswold, and relict of Esme, Duke of Richmond and Lennox, and had,

I. JAMES, Lord Paisley, who m. in 1653, Catherine, dau. of William Lenthall, Esq., Speaker of the Long Parliament, and d. vitâ patris leaving an only dau.,

CATHARINE, m. 1st, to William Lenthall, Esq. of Burford Priory, Oxon; and 2ndly, to Charles, 5th Earl of Abercorn.

II. WILLIAM, an officer in the army, killed in the wars in Germany, and d. s. p.

III. GEORGE, successor to the peerage.

His lordship was s. at his decease by his only surviving son,

GEORGE, 3rd earl, who d. unm., and was s. by his cousin (refer to issue of CLAUD, LORD STRABANE, 2nd son of JAMES, 1st Earl of Abercorn),

CLAUD, Lord Strabane, as 4th Earl of Abercorn. This nobleman, attending King JAMES II., after the Revolution, from France, was sworn of the privy council upon his arrival in Dublin. His lordship on the discomfiture of his royal master at the Boyne, having embarked for France, lost his life in the voyage. In 1691, he had been outlawed, and forfeited the estates and title of Strabane; but the earldom of Abercorn devolved upon his brother,

CHARLES, 5th earl, who, the late lord's attainder having been reversed, succeeded likewise to the restored title and estate of Strabane; but left no issue at his decease in 1701, when the honours and estates devolved on his kinsman (revert to Sir George Hamilton, Baronet, of Donalong, 4th son of James, 1st Earl of Abercorn),

JAMES HAMILTON, who had declined assuming the title of baronet, at the decease of his grandfather, 1679, but was known as Captain Hamilton. This gentleman was in the military service and confidence of JAMES II., but espousing the cause of WILLIAM, took a distinguished part at the siege of Londonderry against his royal master. Succeeding to the Earldom of Abercorn, his lordship, in virtue thereof, took his seat, in 1706, as a member of the Scottish Parliament. Ireland was, however, the usual place of his residence; and of that realm, 2 Dec. 1701, he was created Baron Mountcastle and Viscount Strabane. The earl m. in 1686, Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Sir Robert Reading, Bart. of Dublin, by whom he had issue nine sons and four daus. Of the sons, five d. young or unm.; the 6th, George, M.P., m. 1719, Bridget, dau. and heir of Colonel William Coward, of Wells, co. Somerset; the 7th, Francis, in holy orders, m. Dorothy, dau. and coheir of James Forth, Esq. of Redwood, King's County; and the 9th, Charles, M.P., was a commissioner for examining the Public Accounts. is presumed to have derived its surname from Abdy, in the co. of York, where Richard Abdy was seated some time towards the middle of the 15th century. Anthony Abdy, a lineal descendant of the Yorkshire house, entered into commercial pursuits, established himself in London, and became an alderman of that city. His three sons, all stanch cavaliers, were all made Baronets, the youngest son being SIR JOHN ABDY, of Moores, so created 22 June, 1660, that title dying with him; the second son being SIR ROBERT ABDY, Bart. of Albyns, Essex, so created in 1660, a baronetcy extinct 2 April, 1759; and the eldest son being SIR THOMAS ABDY, Bart. of Felix Hall, co. Essex, so created 7 July, 1641. Sir Thomas's great-grandson, SIR WILLIAM, 4th Baronet of Felix Hall, had, with other issue, Charlotte, wife of the Ven. Dr. Rutherforth, archdeacon of Essex, whose son assumed the name of Abdy, and whose great-grandson was the late Sir Thomas Neville Abdy, Bart. of Albyns, Essex. Sir William Abdy, 4th Baronet of Felix Hall, was also grandfather of SIR WILLIAM ABDY, 7th and last Baronet of Felix Hall, at whose death, s. p., 15 April, 1868 that baronetcy became extinct.

ABERCROMBY.

ABERCROMBY, BARON (George-Ralph Abercromby), of Aboukir, and Tullibody, co. Clackmannan, b. 23 Sept. 1838; s. his father, as 4th baron, 25 June, 1852; m. 6 Oct. 1858, Lady Julia-Janet-Georgiana Duncan, one of Her Majesty's Ladies of the Bedchamber and Member of the Royal Order of Victoria and Albert (2nd class), only dau. of Adam, 2nd Earl of Camperdown.

Lineage.

ALEXANDER ABERCROMBY (2nd son of Sir Alexander Abercromby, 1st Baronet of Birkenbog), settled at Tullibody, co. Clackmannan, having inherited that estate from his cousin, George Abercromby, of Skeith. He was s. by his son,

GEORGE ABERCROMBY, Esq. of Tullibody, who m. Mary, dau. of Ralph Dundas, Esq. of Manour, and had (with two daus., Helen, wife of Robert Bruce, Lord Kennet, and Elizabeth, wife of Major Alexander Joass, governor of Stirling Castle, and mother of an only child, Mary, m. to James Alexander Haldane, Esq.) three sons, RALPH, of whom presently; Burnet, d. s. p. in 1792; Robert (Sir), K.B., a general officer in the army, and governor of Edinburgh Castle, d. in 1827.

RALPH ABERCROMBY, the eldest son, was one of the most distinguished soldiers of his time: he was b. in 1738, entered the army 23 May, 1756, as a cornet in the 2nd regiment of dragoon guards, and, ascending through the intermediate gradations, was appointed, 3 Nov. 1781, col. of the 103rd foot. In 1787, Col. Abercromby attained the rank of major-general, and in 1796 the command of the 7th regiment of dragoons. In the beginning of the war with republican France, General Abercromby served on the Continent under the Duke of York; and he ably conducted the march of the guards from Deventer to Ochensaal, in the retreat of the British from Holland, in the winter of 1794-5. In August, 1795, he succeeded Sir Charles Grey as commander-in-chief in the West Indies; and within two years he added, by conquest, to those possessions, Demerara and Essequibo, St. Lucia, St. Vincent, and Trinidad. In 1797, he returned to Europe; and, in requital of such important services, was invested with the red ribbon, appointed to the command of the regiment of Scots Greys, intrusted with the government of the Isle of Wight, and raised to the rank of lieut.-gen. He subsequently, during the rebellion of 1798, had for a short time the chief command of the forces in Ireland; and after that he held the chief military command in Scotland, and was governor of Fort Augustus and Fort George. He was soon again sent abroad to conduct the second expedition against the French in Holland in August, 1799, before the arrival of the Duke of York; and though this expedition was as unfortunate as the former one, it did not the less afford many opportunities to General Abercromby of displaying his activity, intrepidity, and high military talent. Early in 1801 he was given the command of the English forces despatched to drive the remains of the French army out of Egypt. Abercromby, in spite of the utmost exertions of the French to prevent his coming on shore, landed his troops on the 8th of March at Aboukir, though not without severe loss. Almost immediately after, the enemy made a general attack upon the invading forces as they lay encamped near Alexandria, but were speedily repulsed; and then in a few days, viz., on the 21st March, 1801, was fought, on the same ground, the obstinate and sanguinary engagement known as THE BATTLE OF ALEXANDRIA, in which the French were completely driven back at all points. Sir Ralph was unhorsed and severely wounded at the beginning of the action by a French soldier: he nevertheless disarmed his opponent, and remounting his horse he concealed his situation from those about him till after the action was over, when he fainted through weakness and loss of blood. He was at once conveyed to the ship of the admiral, Lord Keith, and there lingered till the 28 March when he expired. His body was interred in the burial ground of the commandery of the grand master, under the walls of the Castle of St. Elmo, near the town of La Valetta in Malta. In his despatch after the battle, Lord Hutchinson (afterwards Earl of Donoughmore), the second in command, wrote thus of his gallant leader: "Were it permitted for a soldier to regret any one who has fallen in the service of his country, I might be excused for lamenting him more than any other person; but it is some consolation to those who tenderly loved him, that as his life was honourable, so was his death glorious. His memory will be recorded in the annals of his country—will be sacred to every British soldier, and embalmed in the recollection of a grateful posterity." A monument was erected in St. Paul's Cathedral to Abercromby's memory by order of the House of Commons. Sir Ralph married

MARY-ANNE, dau. of John Menzies, Esq. of Fernton, co. Perth, who, on an official account of the triumph and fate of her lamented husband reaching England, was elevated to the peerage, 28 May, 1801, as BARONESS ABERCROMBY, of Aboukir and Tullibody, with remainder to the heirs male of the deceased general. A pension of £2000 a-year was also settled upon Lady Abercromby, and the three succeeding inheritors of the title. By Sir Ralph her ladyship had issue,

GEORGE, heir to the title.

John (Sir), G.C.B., a general officer, who d. unm. in 1817.

JAMES, b. 7 Nov. 1776, who was called to the bar in 1800, and after being a commissioner of bankruptcy, was appointed judge-advocate-general in 1827, chief baron of Scotland in 1830, and master of the mint and a member of the cabinet in 1834. In 1835 he was chosen Speaker of the House of Commons, and having resigned that high office in 1839, was raised to the peerage as LORD DUNFERMLINE, of Dunfermline, co. Fife, the 7th June of that year. He m. 14 June, 1802, Marianne, dau. of Egerton Leigh, Esq. of the West Hall, High Leigh, Cheshire; and left at his decease, 7 April, 1858, by her (who d. 2 Aug. 1874) an only child,

RALPH, 2nd Baron Dunfermline, an eminent diplomatist, b. 6 April, 1803; m. 18 Sept. 1838, Mary-Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Gilbert, 2nd Earl of Minto, and left by her (who d. 10 April, 1874) an only child, Mary-Catherine-Elizabeth, m. 27 Oct. 1876, to Capt. John Trotter, D.A.Q.M.G. at Peshawur, son of the late Archibald Trotter, Esq. of Dreghorn, Midlothian. His lordship d. 12 July, 1868, when the Barony of Dunfermline became extinct.

Alexander (Col.), C.B., knight of Maria Theresa of Austria, the Tower and Sword of Portugal, and the 4th class of St. George of Russia; b. 4 March, 1784; d. 27 Aug. 1853.[1]

ABERCROMBY.

ABERCROMBY, SIR ROBERT-JOHN, Bart. of Birkenbog, co. Banff, Chief of the clan of Abercromby, D.L. for Banff and Aberdeen, b. 14 June, 1850; s. his father as 7th bart. 15 Nov. 1872.

Lineage.

The surname Abercromby, like others of great antiquity, was assumed from a territory in the county of Fife, as is proved by a charter from King MALCOLM III., and the possessor of that property was esteemed the chief of the family, until the 17th century, when the chiefship, by the extinction of that line of Abercromby, devolved upon ABERCROMBY of Birkenbog, the head of which house,

SIR JAMES ABERCROMBY, of Pitmedden, Ley, and Birkenbog (the lineal descendant of Humphredus de Abercromby, son of Abercromby of that ilk, who obtained a charter of the lands of Harthill and Ardun from ROBERT I.), was killed at Flodden, leaving (by Margaret his wife, dau. of Sir James Ogilvie, of Deskford) a son and successor,

GEORGE ABERCROMBY, of Pitmedden, Ley, and Birkenbog, b. in 1512, who m. Christian, dau. of Barclay of Gartley, in Strathbogie, and was s. by his son,

JAMES ABERCROMBIE, who m. Marjory, dau. of William, Earl of Errol: he held a charter under the great seal, dated 1527, and was s. by his brother,

GEORGE ABERCROMBY, to whom, and to his spouse, Margaret Gordon, there is a royal charter, dated 1533. George was s. by his son,

ALEXANDER ABERCROMBY, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Leslie of Pitcaple, Aberdeenshire; and we find, in 1550, a charter of various lands to him and his spouse. He was followed by his son,

ALEXANDER ABERCROMBY, who m. Margaret, dau. of William Leslie, of Balquhain, by whom he had two sons, I. JAMES, of Birkenbog, his successor; and II. Alexander, who was proprietor of Fetterneir, Aberdeenshire, and who m. Jane, dau. of John Seton, of Newark, and had a son, Francis, who, on his marriage with Ann, Baroness Sempill, was, by JAMES VII., created Lord Glassford, for his own life. This Alexander, of Fetterneir, had also another son, Dr. Patrick Abercromby, author of The Martial Achievements of the Scottish Nation, and who also wrote the Memoirs of the Family of Abercromby. Alexander was s. by his eldest son,

JAMES ABERCROMBY, of Birkenbog, father of

ALEXANDER ABERCROMBY, of Birkenbog, who was grand falconer in Scotland to King CHARLES I., and who m. in 1602, Elizabeth, dau. of Bethune (or Beaton) of Balfour, by whom he had three sons, I. ALEXANDER (Sir), of Birkenbog; II. John, of Glassaugh; and III. Walter, of Brecon Hills; and two daus., m. to Leslie of Kincrag, and to George Nicholson, of Kenmay, ancestor of the NICHOLSONS of Glenbervie and Carnock. The eldest son,

I. ALEXANDER ABERCROMBY, of Birkenbog, was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1636. Sir Alexander took so active a part against King CHARLES, that an historian of the period characterizes him as "a main covenanter." In May, 1645, he joined Major Urry, and was at the battle of Auldearn; but Montrose retaliated, by quartering himself and some of his troops at Birkenbog. Sir Alexander m. thrice, and had by his last wife, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir James Baird, of Auchmedden, two sons, namely, JAMES, his heir; and Alexander, ancestor of LORD ABERCROMBY. Sir Alexander was s. by his eldest son,

II. SIR JAMES, M.P. for Banffshire, who m. in 1645, Mary, dau. of Arthur Gordon, Esq. of Straloch, representative of the family of Silverton, and had a numerous family. He was s. at his decease by his 3rd son,

III. SIR ROBERT, who m. in 1739, Helen, dau. of Alex. Abercromby, of Tullibody, and had three sons and three daus. Sir Robert d. 11 May, 1787, and was s. by his son,

IV. SIR GEORGE, b. in 1750; m. in 1778, the Hon. Jane

PATRICK GORDON, of Methlic and Haddo, grandson of Patrick Gordon, of Methlic, slain at the battle of Arbroath, obtained charters under the great seal, from JAMES III., in 1481, from JAMES IV. in 1505, and from JAMES V. in 1514. Mr. Gordon lived to a great age, and dying in 1531, was s. by his grandson, (the only son of George Gordon, who d. v. p.)

JAMES GORDON, of Methlic and Haddo, whose property grants from JAMES V. considerably enlarged. In the beginning of MARY's troubles this gentleman was one of those who signed the association, in 1567, for the defence of the young Prince JAMES; but upon ascertaining that the queen had been imposed upon, he joined the Earl of Huntly, her majesty's lieutenant in the north, adhered faithfully and firmly to her interests ever after, and obtained royal charters of several other lands and baronies. He m. Marjory, dau. of Sir Thomas Menzies, of Pitfodils, comptroller of Scotland; and dying in 1582, was s. by his grandson,

Lineage.

RICHARD DE NOVAVILLA (4th son of Baldricus Teutonicus, Lord of Bacqueville-en-Caux and Archearius) held the fief of Neuville sur Tongue, in Normandy, and was father of

GILBERT DE NEVILE, who is said to have been admiral to the Conqueror; by his wife, Philicia, dau. of the Count de Damoys, he had a son,

GILBERT DE NEVILE, who founded Tupholme Abbey, ante 1168; m. Johanna, dau. of Roger de Clare, and left a son and heir,

GEOFFREY DE NEVILE, governor of Berwick-on-Tweed, m. Emma, dau. and heiress of Bertram de Bulmer, Lord of Brancepeth, in the Palatinate of Durham, and had, with a son, Henry, who d. s. p., an only dau.,

ISABEL DE NEVILE, heiress to her brother. This great heiress m. Robert Fitz-Maldred, Lord of Raby, in Durham (of the illustrous Saxon stock of the Earls of Northumberland), and by him had a son, GEOFFREY, who, adopting his maternal surname, and inheriting the estates, became

ROBERT, his successor.

Geoffrey, who, in the 54th HENRY III., was constituted governor of Scarborough Castle, and a justice itinerant. He m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir John Longvilliers, of Hornby Castle, in Lancashire, and d. in the 13th EDWARD I., being then seized of the manor of Appleby, and other lands in Lincolnshire: the castle and manor of Hornby, co. Lancaster; and Hoton-Longvilliers, and other manors in Yorkshire; the entire of which he acquired by his wife. He was ancestor of the NEVILLS, of Hornby, Chevet, Holbeck, and Skelbrooke (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

The elder son,

ROBERT NEVILL, had livery in the 30th HENRY III., upon doing his fealty, of all the lands which he inherited from his grandfather, Robert Fitz-Maldred. In the 42nd of the same reign, he had a military summons to march to the relief of the King of Scotland, and he was then constituted governor of the Castles of Norham and Werke. In the next year he was entrusted with Bamborough Castle, and two years afterwards made warden of all the king's forests beyond Trent; which was followed by the appointment of justice-itinerant for the pleas of those forests. In the 47th he was one of the barons who undertook for the king's observance of the ordinances of Oxford; and in the same turbulent period was made captain-general of all the king's forces beyond Trent, as also sheriff of Yorkshire, and governor of the castle of York; but notwithstanding these great trusts he subsequently joined the baronial banner, yet was fortunate enough, after the discomfiture of his party, not only to obtain his pardon, but to be constituted governor of Pickering Castle, in Yorkshire. He m. Ida, relict or dau. of Robert Bertram, and had a son,

ROBERT, who m. (54th HENRY III.), Mary, elder dau. and co-heir of Ralph Fitz-Randolph, Lord of Middleham, by which alliance he acquired that manor, with the manors of Houton, co. Norfolk, and Snape, co. York. He d. s. p., leaving a son, RANULPH, who s. his grandfather.

Robert de Nevill d. in 1282, and was s. by his grandson,

RANULPH, or RALPH DE NEVILL, 1st Baron Nevill, who, being in minority at the time of his grandfather's decease, obtained liberty of the king, that his friends might plough and manage his lands: and in the 13th EDWARD I., had livery of certain manors, part of his inheritance; soon after this he had a warm contest with the prior of Durham, about the presentation of a stag, upon St. Cuthbert's Day, in September (for full details of this contest see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage, NEVILL, Earl of Westmoreland). He was summoned to parliament as a baron, 8 June, 1294, and from that period to 18 Feb. 1331. His lordship was in the wars of France, temp. EDWARD I., and in those of Scotland in the next reign. He m. 1st, Euphemia, dau. of Robert de Clavering, by whom he had issue,

i. Robert, of Middleham, called from his love and show of finery the Peacock of the North, d. s. p. in his father's lifetime.

i. Margaret, m. William, 4th Lord Ross, of Hamlake.

ii. Anastacia, m. Walter de Fauconbridge.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Margery, dau. of John de Thweng, but had no further issue. He d. 1331, and was s. by his son,

RALPH, 2nd Baron Nevill, summoned to parliament from 20 Nov. 1331, to 20 Jan. 1336. In his father's lifetime he was retained by indenture to serve Henry Lord Percy for life, in peace and war, against all men except the king, with twenty men-at-arms, whereof five to be knights receiving £100 sterling per annum. He revived the dispute with the prior of Durham regarding the presentation of

V. Margaret, d. s. p.

Lord Nevill d. at Newcastle, 17 Oct. 1388, was buried in the south side of the nave of Durham Cathedral, and was s. by his eldest son,

RALPH, 1st EARL OF WESTMORELAND, summoned to parliament as Baron Nevill, of Raby, from 6 Dec. 1389, to 30 Nov. 1396. In 9 RICHARD II., during his father's lifetime, he was joined with Thomas Clifford, son of Roger, 3rd Lord Clifford, in the governorship of the city and castle of Carlisle, and was appointed a commissioner for the guardianship of the West Marches. In 14 RICHARD II. he was one of the commissioners appointed to treat with the Kings of France and Scotland touching a truce made by them with the King of England. In 21 RICHARD II. he was Constable of the Tower, and by charter, dated 29 Sept. 1397, he was advanced in full parliament to the dignity of EARL OF WESTMORELAND. His lordship was of the privy council to RICHARD II., and had much favour from that monarch, yet he was one of the most active in raising HENRY, Duke of Lancaster, to the throne, as HENRY IV., and was rewarded by the new king in the first year of his reign, with a grant of the county and honour of Richmond for his life, and with the great office of Earl Marshal of England. Soon after this he stoutly resisted the Earl of Northumberland in his rebellion, and forced the PERCYS, who had advanced as far as Durham, to fall back upon Prudhoe, when the battle of Shrewsbury ensued, in which the gallant Hotspur sustained so signal a defeat, and closed his impetuous career. The earl was afterwards governor of the town and castle of Carlisle, warden of the West Marches towards Scotland, and governor of Roxborough. He was also a knight of the Garter. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Margaret Stafford, dau. of Hugh, 2nd Earl of Stafford, K.G., for which marriage a dispensation was obtained from Pope URBAN V., the earl and his bride being within the third and fourth degrees of consanguinity; by this lady he had issue,

I. JOHN, Lord Nevill, who, in the 12th HENRY IV., was made governor of Roxburgh Castle for ten years, and the next year constituted warden of the West Marches towards Scotland. His lordship m. Lady Elizabeth Holland, dau. of Thomas, Earl of Kent, and sister and co-heir of Edmund, Earl of Kent, by whom (dying in 1423, his father still living) he left issue,
  1 RALPH, who s. as 2nd Earl of Westmoreland.
  2 John, slain at Towton, in 1461, m. Lady Anne Holland, dau. of John, Duke of Exeter, and widow of his nephew, John, Lord Nevill, and left a son,
    RALPH, who s. as 3rd Earl of Westmoreland.
  3 Thomas, m. Elizabeth Beaumont, dau. of Henry, 5th Lord Beaumont and was ancestor of NEVILL, of Weardale.
II. Ralph, who m. Margery, dau. and co-heir of Lord Ferrers, of Wemme, and left a son,
  John, of Oversley, who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Robert Newmarch, and left an only dau. and heir, Joane, wife of Sir William Gascoigne.
I. Maud, m. Peter, Lord Mauley.
II. Phillippa, m. Thomas, Lord Dacre of Gillesland.
III. Alice, m. 1st, Sir Thomas Grey, Knt. of Heton, and 2ndly, Sir Gilbert Seymour de Lancaster, Knt.
IV. Margaret, m. Richard, Lord Scrope of Bolton.
V. Anne, m. Sir Gilbert Umfravill.
VI. Margery, abbess of Barking.
VII. Elizabeth, a nun.

The earl m. 2ndly, Joane de Beaufort, dau. of John of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, by Katherine Swynford, and widow of Robert, Lord Ferrers of Wemme, by whom he had further issue,

III. RICHARD, who m. Lady Alice de Montacute, only dau. and heiress of Thomas, Earl of Salisbury, and was created EARL OF SALISBURY (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage).
IV. William, created LORD FAUCONBERG AND EARL OF KENT (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage).
V. George, created LORD LATIMER (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage).
VI. EDWARD (Sir), K.G., ancestor of the MARQUESS OF ABERGAVENNY.
VII. Robert, Bishop of Durham.

The earl, who was a Knight of the Garter, d. in 1563, and was s. by his son,

CHARLES, 6th Earl of Westmoreland. This nobleman, joining in the insurrection of Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland, in the 13th ELIZABETH, was attainted, and preserved his life only by first flying into Scotland, "where he found concealment and protection for a long time at Fernyhurst Castle, co. Roxburgh. Eventually he succeeded in effecting his escape to Flanders, but his vast inheritance was confiscated, and he suffered the extremity of poverty. Brancepeth, the stronghold of the Nevills in war, and Raby, their festive hall in peace, had passed into stranger hands, and nothing remained for the exiled lord. He was living in the Low Countries in 1572, on a miserable pittance allowed him by the bounty of the King of Spain." His lordship m. Lady Jane Howard, dau. of Henry, Earl of Surrey, and sister of Thomas; Duke of Norfolk, by whom he had issue,

I. Katherine, m. Sir Thomas Grey, of Chillingham, and d.s p.
II. Eleanor, d. unm.

The earl d. in 1584; under his attainder the old Barony of NEVILL, of Raby, and the Earldom of WESTMORELAND, both became FORFEITED.

SIR EDWARD NEVILL, K.G., 4th son of Ralph, 1st Earl of Westmoreland, by his 2nd wife, Joane, dau. of John of Gaunt, and uncle of Richard Neville, Earl of Warwick and Salisbury, commonly called the King Maker, m. Lady ELIZABETH BEAUCHAMP, only child of Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Worcester, by Isabel de Spencer his wife, and granddau. of William Beauchamp, K.G., 4th son of Thomas, Earl of Warwick, who was summoned to parliament from 23 Nov. 1392, to 26 Aug. 1408, as "Willielm Beauchamp, de Bergavenny," and d. 1419. Sir Edward thus becoming possessed of the castle and lands of Bergavenny, was summoned to parliament as BARON BERGAVENNY, from Sept. 1450 (29 HEN. VI.), to 19 Aug. 1472, (12 EDW. IV). His lordship was a Yorkist, and high in the confidence of EDWARD IV. He had issue by the heiress of the Beauchamps, Richard, who predeceased him; GEORGE, his successor; Alice, m. to Sir Thomas Grey, Knt.; and Katherine, m. to — Iwarby, Esq. His lordship m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Sir Robert Howard, Knt., and sister of John, Duke of Norfolk, by whom he had three daus., Margaret, m. to John Brooke, Lord Cobham; Catharine, m. to Robert Tanfield; Anne, m. to Lord Strange. He d. 18 Oct. 1476, and was s. by his son,

SIR GEORGE NEVILL (who had been knighted at the celebrated battle of Tewkesbury, 9 May, 1471), as 2nd LORD BERGAVENNY of this family. His lordship m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and heir of Sir Hugh Fenne, Knt., Sub Treasurer of England, and had by that lady, who d. 28 Sept. 1485, with other issue,

I. GEORGE, his successor.
II. Edward (Sir), of Aldington Park, in Kent, who was a military man of high reputation, and a knight-banneret in the time of HENRY VIII. He was eventually, however, attainted and beheaded, on the charge "of devising to maintain, promote, and advance, one Reginald Pole, late Dean of Exeter, enemy of the king, beyond the sea, and to deprive the king." Sir Edward Neville had m. Eleanor, dau. of Andrew, Lord Windsor, and widow of Ralph, Lord Scrope, of Upsal, by whom he left,

1 EDWARD, who s. as 5th BARON BERGAVENNY.
2 Henry, of Billingbeer in Berks, from whom descended the Nevilles of that co., ancestors of the Lords Braybrooke.
1 Catherine, m. to Clement Throckmorton, Esq. of Haseley, co. Warwick.

Lineage.

The family of NORREYS was settled at Sutton, in Lancashire, long before the time of HENRY III., and in 1311 acquired by marriage the Manor of Speke, in the same co.

SIR HENRY NORREYS, Knt. of Speke, had (with an elder son, William, ancestor of the NORREYS of Speke and Davyhulme co. Lancaster), another son,

JOHN NORREYS, of Bray, ancestor of

SIR WILLIAM NORRIS, of Yattenden, co. Berks, who was one of the knights of the body to EDWARD IV., and in the 2nd of HENRY VII. had a command in the king's army at the battle of Stoke. He m. 1st, Isabel, dau. and heir of Edmund Ingoldesthorp, and widow of John Nevill, Marquess of Montagu, and had three surviving daus. Sir William m. 2ndly, Lady Jane de Vere, dau. of John, Earl of Oxford, and had a son,

SIR EDWARD NORRIS, Knt., who m. Fridiswide, dau. and co-heir of Francis, Viscount Lovel, by whom he had, John, esquire of the body to HENRY VIII., m. Elizabeth, sister of Edmund, Lord Bray, but d. s. p.; and a younger son,

SIR HENRY NORRIS, who succeeded Sir William Compton as usher of the Black Rod 23 Oct. in the 18th of HENRY VIII. He was also esquire of the body to the king, one of the gentlemen of the privy chamber, and constable of Wallingford Castle. This was the Sir Henry Norris who, when Cardinal Wolsey was disgraced, met his Eminence on Putney-hill, and brought him a gracious and cheering message from King HENRY. The Cardinal, on receiving it, alighted from his mule, and embracing Norris, took from his own neck, and gave him a gold chain, to which was appended a piece of the true Cross. Sir Henry Norris afterwards fell a victim to the jealous suspicions of King HENRY VIII., and was most unjustly beheaded, 14 May, 1536, for alleged criminality with Queen Anne Boleyn. He m. Mary, dau. of Thomas, Lord Dacre of the South, and left issue, HENRY; and Mary, m. 1st, to Sir George Carew; 2ndly, to Sir Arthur Champernon. The son

SIR HENRY NORRIS, Knt. of Rycote, co. Oxford, having been accredited ambassador to the court of France in the 14th of ELIZABETH, and having fulfilled the duties of his mission to the entire satisfaction of his royal mistress, was summoned to parliament as 'Henricus Norris de Rycote, Chl'r,' from 8 May, 1572, to 24 Oct. 1597. His lordship m. Margary, dau. and co-heir of John, Lord Williams of Thame, and thus acquired the manor of Rycote, in Oxfordshire, where he was buried. A beautiful monument was erected to his memory in Westminster Abbey, his sons kneeling round him. He had issue,

William, marshal of Berwick, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Richard Morrison, Knt., and dying before his father, left an only child, FRANCIS, who s. as 2nd Lord Norris.
John (Sir), one of the most celebrated military characters of the reign of ELIZABETH.
Edward (Sir), governor of Ostend. Henry.
Thomas, President of Munster, and some time justice of Ireland. His only dau. and heiress, Elizabeth, m. Sir John Jephson, Knt. of Froyle, Hants, and was ancestor of SIR CHARLES-DENHAM-ORLANDO JEPHSON-NORREYS, Bart.

The baron d. in 1600, and was s. by his grandson,

FRANCIS NORRIS, 2nd Baron Norris of Rycote, who was created Viscount Thame and Earl of Berkshire, 28 Jan. 1620. He m. Lady Bridget De Vere, dau. and co-heir of Edward, 17th Earl of Oxford, and had an only dau.,

ELIZABETH, who m. Edward Wray, Esq., groom of the bedchamber to JAMES I., 3rd son of Sir William Wray, Knt. and Bart. of Glentworth, co. Lincoln, and had an only dau. and heir, BRIDGET WRAY, who m. 1st, the Hon. Edward Sackville, 2nd son of Edward, 4th Earl of Dorset; and 2ndly, Montagu, 2nd Earl of Lindsey (being his lordship's 2nd wife); and had issue, by the latter, JAMES BERTIE, of whom hereafter, as Lord Norris or Norreys; HENRY BERTIE, capt. in the army; and Mary Bertie, m. to Charles Dormer, 2nd Earl of Carnarvon, and d. s. p.

His lordship d. in the year that he had been advanced in the peerage, when the earldom of Berkshire and viscounty of Thame expired; but the barony of Norris, or Norreys, descended through his dau. to his great-grandson,

THE HONOURABLE JAMES BERTIE (son of Montagu, Earl of Lindsey, Lord Great Chamberlain of England), who was summoned to parliament as Baron Norreys of Rycote, 27 Oct. 1675 (with precedence from 8 May, 1572), and created EARL OF ABINGDON, 30 Nov. 1682. His lordship was lord-lieutenant and custos-rotulorum of the co. of Oxford from 1674 to 1697: he favoured and aided with a sum of £30,000, the coming in of the Prince of Orange, but opposed his accession to the throne, and the measures of his Court. He m. 1st, Eleanor, dau. and heir of Sir Henry Lee, Bart. of Ditchley, co. Oxford, and heiress of the family of DANVERS of Dauntsey, co. Wilts, and had six sons and three daus., of whom, the eldest, MONTAGU, succeeded him; and JAMES, the second son, who was b. 13 March, 1673, and who was seated at Stanwell, in Middlesex, which he had with his wife, and was M.P. for Middlesex, m. Elizabeth, only surviving dau. and eventual sole heir of George, 7th Lord Willoughby of Parham, and by the will of her uncle Charles, 10th Lord Willoughby of Parham, inheritrix of a great estate; he had by her (who d. 26 Sept. 1716) WILLOUGHBY 3rd Earl of Abingdon, and thirteen other children, of whom four other sons and two daus. lived to maturity; she added to his arms the heraldic achievements of Fiennes, Clinton, and Manners (see BURKE'S Royal Descents). The Earl of Abingdon m. 2ndly, in 1698, Catharine, eldest dau. and co-heir of Sir Thomas Chamberlayne, Bart. of Northbrook, and widow of Richard, 4th Viscount Wenman, but by that lady (who m. 2ndly, James Wroughton, Esq., Escot, Wilts) he had no issue. He d. 22 May, 1699, and was s. by his eldest son,

MONTAGU, 2nd earl. This nobleman m. 1st, 22 Sept. 1687, Anne, dau. and sole heir of Peter Venables, Baron of Kinderton, and lady of the bedchamber to Queen ANNE, and Her Majesty's attached friend, but by her (who d. 28 April, 1715,) had no issue; he m. 2ndly, at Beaconsfield, 13 Feb. 1717, Mary, the relict of General Charles Churchill, brother of the 1st and great Duke of Marlborough, and dau. of James Gould, Esq. of Dorchester, by which lady he had an only child, James, Lord Norreys, who d. 25 Feb. 1718. The earl, who assumed by royal licence, 10 Nov. 1687, the surname of VENABLES, before that of BERTIE, d. 15 June, 1743, and was s. by his nephew,

V. Anne-Georgina, b. 8 May, 1873; d. 11 April, 1874.

Lineage.

The family of Scarlett is one of antiquity. In 1625, BENJAMIN SCARLETT, of Eastbourne, in Sussex, m. Mary Kennard, of that place, and had by her a numerous family. He possessed, whether by acquisition or inheritance, lands at Eastbourne and other places, and was seised, jointly with his wife's maternal uncle, the Reverend John Giles, Rector of Penhurst, of the Manor of Haseldene, near Battle, in Sussex. Benjamin Scarlett's eldest son, by his wife Mary Kennard,

FRANCIS SCARLETT, who is styled "Captain" Francis Scarlett in various public documents acquired lands in the parish of Saint Andrews and elsewhere, in the island of Jamaica, and served as Member for St. Andrews in the first Legislative Assembly, held in Jamaica. Dying without issue, he devised an estate in that island, situated on the river Waggwater, in the parish of St. Andrews, to WILLIAM SCARLETT, at that time a student in the Middle Temple, the eldest son of his (the testator's) next brother, Thomas Scarlett, of Eastbourne. This WILLIAM SCARLETT emigrated to Jamaica on the death of his uncle Francis, and from him lineally descended

ROBERT SCARLETT, Esq., of Duckett's Spring and other estates, in the parish of St. James, in Jamaica, who m. Elizabeth Wright, a widow, the dau. of Philip Anglin, Esq. of Paridise Estate, in the same island. This lady, through her mother Mary, a dau. of John Lawrence, was lineally descended from Henry Lawrence, President of Cromwell's Council after he became Protector. Henry Lawrence, the President, was the descendant of a very ancient family in Huntingdonshire. Robert Scarlett by his marriage left,

I. Philip-Anglin, of Cambridge Estate, who married Sabina, dau. of Robert Bowen, Esq., of Retreat Estate; but left no issue male surviving.
II. JAMES, created LORD ABINGER.
III. Robert, M.D., of Duckett's Spring Estate, who m. Mary White, a granddau. of Colin Campbell, Esq.; but left no male issue surviving.
IV. William-Anglin (Sir), Knt., chief justice of Jamaica, who m. Mary, a dau. of Joseph Williams, Esq. of Luana Estate, in the parish of St. Elizabeth, in the island of Jamaica, and had issue,

Lineage.

The family of Acland is one of great antiquity. The pedigree recorded in the Visitation of Devon, A.D. 1620, commences with BALDWIN ECCELIN, whose son, BALDWIN ACALEN, of Acalen, in the parish of Land Key, Devon, was living temp. HENRY III., but the antiquity of the family is also shown by a deed in Pole's MS. Deeds and Charters, in which mention is made of HUGH DE ACALEN, temp. HENRY II. The Visitation pedigree carries down the family link by link to HUGH ACLAND, of Acland, living at the time the Visitation was made. He was eldest son of JOHN AKELAND, of Akeland, by Mary, his wife, dau. and co-heiress of Hugh Radcliffe, of Stepney, and elder brother of Sir John Acland, Knt. of Columb John, High Sheriff of Devon in 1608. The aforesaid

HUGH ACLAND, of Acland, living in 1620, m. 1585, Margaret, dau. of Thomas Monke, Esq., of Potheridge (aunt to General Monk), and had, with other issue, a son and heir.

SIR ARTHUR ACLAND, of Acland and Columb John, knighted 1606. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Robert Malet, Esq., of Wooleigh, co. Devon, and by her (who became the 2nd wife of Sir Francis Vincent, Bart.) he had issue, JOHN, his heir; Elizabeth, m. to Anthony Vincent, Esq., of Stoke d'Abernon; and Anne, d. unm. Sir Arthur d. 1614, and was s. by his son,

I. JOHN ACLAND, Esq., was created a Baronet 1 March, 1644-5; but the letters-patent having been destroyed during the civil wars, new ones were granted in 1677, with a special clause of precedency from the date of the first letters. Sir John was distinguished by his zealous devotion to the cause of royalty; and at one time the garrison of Columb-John was the only armed force (according to Lord Clarendon) which the unfortunate CHARLES I. had in the whole county of Devon. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Francis Vincent, Bart., by whom he had (with two daus., Eleanor, the wife of Sir John Davie, Bart., and Susanna, who m. 1st, Edward Halsall, Esq., and 2ndly, John Carleton, Esq.) three sons, who in turn inherited the baronetcy. At his decease, 24 Aug. 1647, he was s. by the eldest,

II. SIR FRANCIS, who d. unm. in 1649, and was s. by his brother,

III. SIR JOHN. This gentleman m. Margaret, dau. of Denys Rolle, Esq., of Stevenstone, co. Devon, and dying during his minority, in 1655, left one dau., Margaret, who m. Lord Arundel of Trerice, and a son, his successor,

IV. SIR ARTHUR, at whose decease in minority and unm. in 1672, the title reverted to his uncle,

V. SIR HUGH, who m. Anne, dau. of Sir Thomas Daniel, Knt. of Berwick Hall, co. York, by whom he had (with a dau., Elizabeth) six sons, viz.,

I. JOHN, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Acland, Esq. of Fremington, and, dying v. p. 1792, left,

1 Hugh, successor to his grandfather.

2 Richard, m. Anne, dau. of Peter Burrell, Esq., and had one son, and a dau. who m. Richard Hoare, Esq.

3 John, rector of Broadclist, whose only son m. a dau. of Doctor Oliver, of Bath.

1 Anne, m. to Sir John Davie, Bart.

II. Hugh.

III. Thomas, in holy orders, rector of South Brent, m. and left issue. IV. Charles.

V. Arthur, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Gilbert, Gent., and d. s. p. 31 May, 1740. His widow re-m. Charles Browne, Esq., and d. 20 Feb. 1754. VI. Francis.

Sir Hugh was s. by his grandson,

VI. SIR HUGH, M.P., who m. Cicely, eldest dau. and eventually sole heir (upon the decease issueless of her only sister, Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Palmer, Esq. of Fairfield, co. Somerset) of Sir Thomas Wrothe, of Petherton Park, Bart. (a lineal descendant of Sir Hugh de Plessetts, brother of John, Earl of Warwick, temp. HENRY III.) by whom (who m. 2ndly, the Rev. Thos. Troyte) he had surviving issue,

THOMAS, his successor.

Arthur, who on succeeding to the estates of his maternal relatives, the Palmers, at the decease of Peregrine Palmer, Esq., M.P. for the University of Oxford, settled on one of those, Fairfield, in Somersetshire. Mr. Acland m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Oxenham, Esq., of Oxenham, co. Devon, and d. in 1771, having had by her,

John (Sir) his heir, of Fairfield, co. Somerset, b. 11 Feb. 1756; m. 1st, in 1781, Elizabeth, dau. of Rev. Henry Fuller, and sister of John-Rose Fuller, Esq. of Rosehill, co. Sussex, and had issue, Hugh, b. in 1788, d. unm. in 1810; Peregrine, last baronet; Arthur, b. in 1791, d. unm. in 1810; Maria-Palmer; Frances-Anne; and Henrietta-Palmer. He m. 2ndly, 5 Nov. 1818, Sarah-Maria, dau. of Robert Knipe, Esq. of New Lodge, co. Herts (her ladyship d. 19 Sept. 1853), and by her had no issue. Mr. Acland assumed, by sign manual, the additional surname of PALMER in 1818, and was created a Baronet 9 Dec. the same year. He d. 23 Feb. 1831, and was s. by his son,

Sir Peregrine-Palmer Fuller-Palmer-Acland, of Fairfield, co. Somerset, b. 10 Nov. 1789; m. 7 Nov. 1815, Fanny, 2nd dau. of William Leader, Esq. of Putney Hill, Surrey, by whom (who d. 29 Feb. 1844) he had an only surviving dau.,

Isabella-Harriet, m. 11 Sept. 1849, to Sir Alexander-Bateman-Periam Hood, Bart., who adopted in consequence, by royal licence, the surnames of Fuller-Acland, in addition to and before that of Hood.

Sir Peregrine assumed, 12 Aug. 1834, the surname of FULLER, in addition to and before PALMER-ACLAND. He d. 25 Oct. 1871, when the title became EXTINCT.

Tom, d. in 1843.

Wrothe (Sir), b. in 1770, a lieut.-gen. in the army, and K.C.B.; who d. unm. in 1816.

Elizabeth, m. to Charles Grove, of Salisbury, M.D., and d. in May, 1843, leaving issue, 1 William-Chafyn Grove, Esq., of Zeals House, Mere, Wilts, who m. Eleanor, youngest dau. of Thomas Michell, Esq., of Standon House, Wilts, and has a son William; 2 Charles; 3 Harry-Thomas; 1 Frances-Harriet, widow of William Grove, Esq.; 2 Maria-Caroline, m. to George Bullock, Esq., and had a son, George Troyte-Bullock, Esq.

Frances, wife of Major-Gen. Richard Stovin.

Lineage.

The barony of Bruce of Whorlton, co. York, was conferred by CHARLES I. (1 Aug. 1641) upon

THOMAS BRUCE, 3rd Lord Bruce of Kinloss, who had previously (18 July, 1633) been elevated to the Scottish Earldom of Elgin. His lordship m. 1st, Anne, dau. of Sir Robert Chichester, Knt. of Raleigh, co. Devon, by whom (who d. in 1627) he had an only son, ROBERT, his successor. He m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. and co-heir of William, Lord Burghley, and widow of Henry de Vere, Earl of Oxford, but had no other issue. He d. in Dec. 1663, and was s. by his son,

ROBERT, 2nd Earl of Elgin, Baron Bruce of Kinloss, and Baron Bruce of Whorlton, who, for the very essential services rendered to CHARLES I., and his lordship's active exertions in promoting the Restoration, was created in the English peerage, 18 March, 1663-4, Baron Bruce of Skelton, co. York; Viscount Bruce of Amphill, co. Bedford; and Earl of Ailesbury, co. Bucks. He m. Diana, dau. of Henry Grey, 1st Earl of Stamford, by whom he had eight sons and nine daus. At the coronation of JAMES II. 23 April, 1685, the Earl of Ailesbury was one of the lords who bore St. Edward's staff, and he was appointed, 30 July following, LORD CHAMBERLAIN OF THE HOUSEHOLD. He d. 20 Oct. in the same year, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

THOMAS, 3rd Earl of Elgin, and 2nd Earl of Ailesbury, who m. 13 Aug. 1676, Elizabeth, only surviving dau. of Henry, Lord Beauchamp, son of William, Marquess of Hertford (afterwards 2nd Duke of Somerset), and at the death of her brother, William, 3rd Duke of Somerset, 26 Sept. 1671, sole heir to Tottenham Park and Savernake Forest, in Wiltshire, besides divers estates in that and other counties. By this great heiress his lordship had issue,

CHARLES, his successor, who was summoned to parliament in the lifetime of his father, as Lord Bruce.

Elizabeth, m. to George Brudenell, 3rd Earl of Cardigan (see infrd, "LINEAGE OF BRUDENELL"), by whom she had four sons; the youngest of whom,

THOMAS BRUDENELL, s. his uncle, the Earl of Aylesbury, in the Barony of Bruce of Tottenham.

The Earl of Ailesbury, although amongst the first to invite the Prince of Orange into England, as a mediator between the crown and the people, peremptorily refused to sanction his advancement to the throne, or to swear allegiance to the government of the Revolution, and having raised the suspicion of the Court of WILLIAM III., he was committed to the Tower, which so affected the countess that she died in childbed, 12 Jan. 1696-7. His lordship subsequently obtained leave from the King to reside at Brussels, where he m. Charlotte, Countess of Sannu, of the ancient and noble house of Argentau, in the duchy of Brabant, and by her (who d. 23 July, 1710,) had an only dau.,

Charlotte-Maria, who m. in 1722, the Prince of Horne, and d. in 1736, leaving several children.

His lordship d. in Nov. 1741, and was s. by his only surviving son,

CHARLES, 4th Earl of Elgin, and 3rd Earl of Ailesbury, who m. 1st, Lady Anne Saville, eldest dau. and co-heir of William, Marquess of Halifax, and had,

ROBERT, Lord Bruce, who m. Frances, dau. of Sir William Blacket, Bart., and d. s. p. in the lifetime of his father.

Mary, m. in 1728, to Henry Bridges, Marquess of Carnarvon, afterwards Duke of Chandos.

Elizabeth, m. to the Hon. B. Bathurst; d. s. p.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Lady Juliana Boyle, 2nd dau. of Charles, Earl of Burlington, but by that lady had no issue. He m. 3rdly, in 1739, Caroline, only dau. of Gen. John Campbell, of Mamore, who was afterwards Duke of Argyll, and by her had an only dau.,

Mary, m. in 1757, to Charles, Duke of Richmond, and d. in 1796, s. p.

In consequence of the failure of male issue, his lordship obtained, 17 April, 1746, by patent, the Barony of Bruce of Tottenham, co. Wilts, with remainder to his nephew, the Hon. Thomas Brudenell; and, dying 10 Feb. 1747, the earldom of Ailesbury, &c., became extinct: the Scottish titles devolved upon Charles, 9th Earl of Kincardine, and the barony of Bruce, created as above, descended to his nephew,

THE HON. THOMAS BRUDENELL, 2nd baron, who thereupon assumed the additional name and arms of Bruce. His lordship, b. in 1730; m. 1st, 17 Feb. 1761, Susanna, dau. of Henry Hoare, Esq. of Stourhead, co. Wilts, and relict of Viscount Dungarvan, by whom he had,

CHARLES, 1st Marquess.

Caroline-Anne, d. unm. in 1824.

Frances-Elizabeth, m. in 1799, to Sir Henry Wright-Wilson, Knt. of Chelsea Park, co. Middlesex, who d. in 1832. Lady Wilson d. in 1836.

He m. 2ndly, Feb. 1788, Anne, eldest dau. of John, 1st Earl of Moira. Lord Bruce was created, 8 June, 1776, EARL OF AILESBURY. His lordship d. 19 April, 1814, and was s. by his son,

CHARLES-BRUCE, 2nd earl, K.T., b. 14 Feb. 1773, who was created, 17 July. 1821, Viscount Savernake, Earl Bruce, and MARQUESS OF AILESBURY. He m. 1st, 10 April, 1793, Henrietta-Maria, dau. of Noel, 1st Lord Berwick, and by her (who d. 2 Jan. 1831 had issue

I. GEORGE-WILLIAM-FREDERICK, 2nd Marquess.

II. ERNEST-AUGUSTUS-CHARLES, present Marquess.

I. Maria-Caroline-Anne, m. 17 July, 1819, Comte de Mondreville, col. of the late royal garde-du-corps and knight of St. Louis, &c.; and d. in 1835.

II. Augusta-Frederica-Louisa, m. 1826, to Thomas-Frederick Vernon-Wentworth, Esq. of Wentworth Castle, co. York.

III. Mary-Anne-Jemima, d. in July, 1841.

IV. Aline, b. 31 July, 1877.

Lineage.

The first of the family mentioned in any charter, Nisbet informs us, is DUNCAN DE CARRICK, and from the document it appears that he lived in the reign of MALCOLM IV., which began about 1150. The grandson of Duncan, ROLAND, of Carrick, had a grant of the country of Carrick from Neil, Earl of Carrick, and was declared chief of his name. This grant was confirmed by ALEXANDER III. The 6th in lineal descent from this Roland was,

SIR JOHN KENNEDY, designated son of Sir Gilbert de Carrick in many authenticated writs, had a confirmatory charter from DAVID II. of the lands of CASTLYS, co. Ayr, with other lands which he had acquired with his wife, Mary, dau. of Sir Niel Montgomery. He was s. by his son,

SIR GILBERT KENNEDY, one of the hostages delivered to the English, in 1357, for the liberation of DAVID II. This gentleman m. 1st, Marion, dau. of Sir James Sandilands, of Calder, and had by her, two sons, Gilbert, who d. in the French wars, s. p.

THOMAS, of Bargany, ancestor of the late.
HEW-FERGUSON KENNEDY, Esq. of Bennane and Finnarts. (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry.)

Sir Gilbert m. 2ndly, and had a son,

SIR JAMES KENNEDY, who obtained from ROBERT III. a charter of confirmation of the bailiary of Carrick, "Dilecto consanguineo suo Jacobo Kennedy militi," &c. He m. the Lady MARY STEWART,* widow of George Douglas, Earl of Angus, and dau. of ROBERT III., and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR GILBERT KENNEDY, Knt., who was elevated to the peerage of Scotland, in 1452, by the title of Lord Kennedy; and, in 1460, was appointed one of the six regents of the kingdom during the minority of JAMES III. His lordship m. Catherine, dau. of Herbert, Lord MAXWELL, by whom he had three sons and two daus. The latter were,

Catherine, wife of Alexander, 2nd Lord Montgomery.
Marion the wife of Sir John Wallace, of Craigie.

His lordship was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, 2nd lord, who m. 1st, Jean, dau. of Alexander, Lord Montgomery, by whom he had a son, DAVID. His lordship m. 2ndly, Lady Elizabeth Gordon, dau. of George, Earl of Huntly, and by her had a son, Alexander, ancestor of the Kennedies of Gervanmains, and Barquhanny, and dau. Jean, m. to Archibald, Earl of Angus. He was s. in 508, by his eldest son,

DAVID, 3rd lord. This nobleman, being of the privy council of JAMES IV., was created by that monarch, in 1502, EARL OF CASSILIS. His lordship m. 1st, Agnes, dau. of William, Lord Borthwick, by whom he had three sons. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Thomas Boyd, Earl of Arran, relict of Alexander, Lord Forbes. The earl fell at the battle of Flodden, and was s. by his son,

GILBERT, 2nd earl, who m. Isabel, dau. of Archibald, Earl of Argyll, and was slain, Dec. 1527, in endeavouring to rescue JAMES V. from the Earl of Angus. He was s. by his son,

GILBERT, 3rd earl, who filled the high office of lord treasurer of Scotland, and assisted, as a deputed Scottish peer, in 1558, at the marriage of the ill-fated Mary Stuart with Francis, dauphin of France. The ceremony was celebrated with great pomp, but when the crown-matrimonial was demanded, the Scotch deputies, in a respectful but firm manner, discovered a fixed resolution of consenting to nothing that tended to introduce any alteration in the order of succession to the crown. This opposition to the views of the French court gave great offence, and occasioned a report that poison was administered to the deputies, of whom Lord Fleming d. at Paris, and the Earls of Cassilis and Rothes, and Bishop Reid, president of the Court of Session, at Dieppe, all three in one night, 28 Nov. 1558. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Alexander Kennedy, of Bargany, and had, with two daus.,

I. GILBERT, his successor.
II. Thomas, of Cullean, who received the honour of knighthood at the coronation of JAMES VI. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of David Macgill, of Cranston-riddel, and had three sons. Sir Thomas fell a victim to revenge, being assassinated by Kennedy, of Drummurchie. His youngest son,

SIR ALEXANDER KENNEDY, of Cullean, eventually carried on the line of the family. He m a dau. of Kennedy, of Ardmillan, and had two sons. The younger,

ALEXANDER, of Craigoch and Kilhenzie, m. Anna, youngest dau. of William Crawfurd, of Auchinames, and had issue, a son and a dau, viz.:

ALEXANDER KENNEDY, Esq., collector of the customs at New York, who m. Miss Massam, of that city, and d. in 1763, leaving a son, ARCHIBALD, capt. R.N., who inherited as 11th EARL OF CASSILIS.
Marion, who m. John Shaw, of Sornberg, and from whom descended the Rev. Chessborough le Poer Kennedy, M.A.

Sir Alexander was s. by his elder son,

JOHN KENNEDY, Esq. of Cullean, who m. the Hon. Margaret Hamilton, eldest dau. of John, 1st Lord Bargeny, and was s. by his son,

SIR ARCHIBALD KENNEDY, who was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 16 Dec. 1682. He m. the Hon. Elizabeth Leslie, dau. of David, 1st Lord Newark, and dying in 1710, was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN, 2nd baronet, who m. Jane Douglas, of the family of Mains, by whom he had twenty children. He d. 1742, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN, 3rd baronet, who d. in 1744, and was s. by his brother,

SIR THOMAS, 4th bart., 9th EARL OF CASSILIS.

Gilbert, 3rd earl, was s. by his elder son,

GILBERT, 4th earl, who m. Margaret, dau. of John, 9th Lord Glamis, and dying 1576, was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 5th earl, lord-treasurer of Scotland. This nobleman dying s. p. in 1615, was s. by his nephew,

JOHN, 6th earl, who m. 1st, Lady Jean Hamilton, dau. of Thomas, 1st Earl of Haddington, by whom he had,

Margaret, m. to William Burnet, Bishop of Salisbury.
Catherine, m. William, Lord Cochrane, son of the 1st Earl of Dundonald, who d. before his father, leaving issue.

His lordship m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of William, Earl of Errol, and widow of Lord Kerr, and by that lady had, with a dau., his successor, in 1668,

JOHN, 7th earl, who m. Susan, youngest dau. of James, 1st Duke of Hamilton, and dying 1701, was s. by his grandson,

JOHN, 8th earl, with whom the male issue of this branch of the family ceased. His lordship dying s. p. 7 Aug. 1759, the honours devolved upon

SIR THOMAS KENNEDY, 4th bart. of Cullean, who did not, however, obtain them until the House of Lords had resolved, 27 Jan. 1762, "that he had a right to the title and dignity of Earl of Cassilis, as heir male of David, 1st earl; and to the title of Lord Kennedy, as heir of Gilbert, 1st lord." The earl dying unm. 30 Nov. 1775, was s. by his brother,

DAVID, 10th earl, at whose decease, 8 Dec. 1792, without issue, this branch became also extinct, and the honours passed to his kinsman (revert to descendants of Hon. Thomas Kennedy, 2nd son of 3rd earl),

ARCHIBALD KENNEDY, capt. R.N., as 11th Earl of Cassilis. His lordship, who was a distinguished officer, m. twice, and

His Lordship, who was M.P. for Dorchester 1847 to 1856, and for the county of Dorset, 1856 to 1876, was raised to the Peerage 15 Jan. 1876.

Lineage.

SIR HILDEBRAND DE ALINGTON, Under Marshal to WILLIAM THE NORMAN at the battle of Hastings, had Alington Castle, by gift of the CONQUEROR.

SIR ALAN DE ALINGTON, "who," to quote an old family pedigree, "was in great favour with WILLIAM RUFUS, and a great devisor of building, and was thought to be the chief doer for the building of Westminster Hall, which then was Palatium Regium, and by King HENRY I. converted to the use it now is and much beautified by EDWARD III.," was father of

SIR SOLOMON DE ALINGTON, Knt., "was in great authority in the reign of HENRY I., and builded the Castell of Alington, where he erected one notable tower after his own name, called the 'Solomon's Tower.'" The present Lord Alington has still in his possession at Crichel certain documents consisting of grants from the Crown, pardons, &c., relating to the Alingtons during the reign of HENRY I. and subsequent kings. Sir Solomon's descendant,

SIR WILLIAM ALINGTON, Knt., privy councillor to King HENRY VI., treasurer of Normandy in the time of HENRYS V. and VI., and also of Ireland, m. Joane, dau. and heir of Sir Wm. Burgh, lord chief justice of the Court of King's Bench (2 RICHARD II.), and had a son,

WILLIAM ALINGTON, of Horseheath, in Cambridgeshire, sheriff of Cambridge and Huntingdon (16 HENRY VI.), who had issue. The eldest son,

WILLIAM ALINGTON, Esq., high sheriff of the counties of Cambridge and Huntingdon, temp. EDWARD IV., m. Elizabeth, only dau. and heiress of JOHN DE ARGENTINE,* and acquired by her the manor of Wymondeley, in the co. of Hertford, held in grand serjeantry, by service of presenting the first cup at the coronation of the kings of England; which service was claimed and allowed at the coronation of King JAMES II., and has ever since been performed by the lords of that manor. From this William Alington and Elizabeth, his wife, derived

SIR GILES ALINGTON, who m. Mary, only dau. and heiress of Sir Richard Gardiner, Knt., and had several children, of whom three of the younger sons, George, John, and Richard, were the founders of families: GEORGE ALINGTON, the 2nd son, being the direct ancestor of the ALINGTONS, of Swinhope, co. Lincoln (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry). Sir Giles was s. by his eldest son,

GILES ALINGTON, Esq., of Horseheath, co. Cambridge; high sheriff of that shire 22nd HENRY VIII., and of Huntingdon, 37th of the same monarch. He appears to have attended King HENRY VIII. as master of the ordnance at the siege of Boulogne, by the inscription of a clock which he brought from that siege, and affixed over the offices at Horseheath Hall, in which was the alarum bell of the garrison of Boulogne. He d 1586, and from him descended,

WILLIAM ALINGTON, Esq., of Horseheath Hall, co. Cambridge, who was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, as BARON ALINGTON, of Killard, 28 July, 1642. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Lionel Tollemache, Bart., of Helmingham, by whom he had, with five sons, three daus., viz.,

Elizabeth, m. to Charles, Lord Seymour, of Troubridge.

Catherine, m. to Sir John Jacob, Bart., of Gamlinghay.

Lord Alington was s. by his 2nd, but eldest surviving son,

WILLIAM ALINGTON, 2nd baron, who was created a peer of England on 5 December, 1682, by the title of BARON ALINGTON, of Wymondley, in the co. of Herts. His lordship m. 1st, Catherine, 2nd dau. of Henry, Lord Stanhope, son of Philip, 2nd earl of Chesterfield, by whom he had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Joanna, dau. of Baptist, Lord Campden, and had a dau., JULIANA, who m. Scroope, Lord Howe, and was grandmother of RICHARD, EARL HOWE, the great admiral, whose co-representatives are Earl Howe and the Marquess of Sligo. Lord Alington m. 3rdly, Diana, dau. of William Russell, 1st Duke of Bedford, by whom he had one surviving son, and two daus., viz.,

* It is worthy of notice that after the lapse of 500 years the manor of Willhampton, which belonged to the De Argentine family, is now in the possession of their representative, Lord Alington, of Crichel.

Diana, m. Sir George Warburton, Bart., of Arley, co. Chester, and d. in 1705, leaving an only dau., DIANA, who m Sir Richard Grosvenor, Bart., of Eaton, co. Chester, but had no issue. Sir Richard, who acquired a third part of the Alington estates with his wife, purchased the shares of Lady Howe and Sir Nathaniel Napier, and thus became possessed of the entire manor of Wymondley, which entitled him to present the first cup of silver at the coronations of GEORGE II. and GEORGE III.

CATHERINE, m. to Sir NATHANIEL NAPIER, Bart., of Middlemarsh Hall, co. Dorset. Of this lady presently.

His lordship d. in 1684, and was s. by his son,

GILES ALINGTON, 3rd baron of the Irish creation, and 2nd of the English. This nobleman dying in his tenth year, anno 1691, the English peerage EXPIRED, while that of Ireland reverted to his uncle,

The HON. HILDEBRAND ALINGTON, son of the 1st lord, as 4th baron, who d. s. p. in 1722, when the Irish barony of ALINGTON OF KILLARD likewise became EXTINCT.

The Hon. CATHERINE ALINGTON, sister and coheiress of GILES, 3rd Lord Alington, m. Sir Nathaniel Napier, Bart., of More Crichel, M.P. for Dorsetshire, temp. WILLIAM III. and ANNE, and dying at Crichel, was buried in Minterne Church, where a monument was erected to her memory. Her dau., DIANA, became eventually sole heiress of the Napiers and Alingtons, and m. HUMPHREY STURT, Esq., of Horton, co. Dorset, and by him (who d. 1 Feb. 1739-40) left (with three daus., Diana, Catherine, wife of R. Stone, Esq., and Mary, wife of Hon. G. Shirley) one son,

HUMPHREY STURT, Esq., of Horton, who inherited at the decease of his first cousin, Sir Gerard Napier, Bart., 1765, the estates of his maternal ancestors, and represented Dorsetshire in Parliament from 1754 till his death 1786. He m. 1756, Mary, only dau. and eventual heiress of Charles Pitfield, Esq., of Hoxton, by Dorothy, his wife, dau. and heir of Solomon Ashley, Esq., and had (with five daus., of whom Eliza-Bizarre was m. to Augustus Butler-Danvers, brother of the Earl of Lanesborough; and Diana, m. to Sir William-Mordaunt Miller, Bart.) several sons, of whom were HUMPHREY-ASHLEY, of Horton, m. 1781, Mary, dau. of Rev. Edward Woodcock, LL.D., Rector of Watford, Herts. He sold the manor and estate of Horton to the Earl of Shaftesbury, and d. 11 June, 1825, without issue.

CHARLES, on whom his father settled his unentailed estate.

The 2nd son,

CHARLES STURT, Esq., of Crichel, co. Dorset, m. 1788, Lady Mary-Anne-Ashley Cooper, dau. of Anthony Ashley, 4th Earl of Shaftesbury, and had issue, HENRY-CHARLES, his heir.

Mary-Ann, m. to Rev. Frederick Ricketts, Rector of Eckington, co. Derby, dec., and chaplain to Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte.
Emily, dec.

HENRY-CHARLES STURT, Esq., of Crichel, co. Dorset, formerly M.P. for the county, b. 1795; m. July, 1820, Lady Charlotte-Penelope Brudenell, 2nd dau. of Robert, 6th Earl of Cardigan, and d. 14 April, 1866, having, by her ladyship (who d. 7 April, 1879), had issue, HENRY-GERARD, now Lord Alington.

Humphrey-Ashley, b. 2 Jan. 1827; d. unm. June, 1849.

Lineage.

ALANUS DE BUCHENHALL, who held the lordship of Buchenhall (now Buckenhall), in Staffordshire, in the reign of King EDWARD I., is stated to have been ancestor of the numerous branches of Allen, Allyn, Alleyn, and Alleyne, respectively seated at Buckenhall, Brockhouse, Garrishall, Uttoxeter, co. Stafford, Blackwell, co. Durham, and other places.

GEORGE ALLEYNE, otherwise ALLEN, of Chartley, co. Stafford, had a son,

RICHARD ALLEYNE, Esq. of Grantham, in Lincolnshire, who m. two wives; by the 1st, he had JOHN, hereafter mentioned; and by the 2nd the dau. of John Sheldon, Esq. of Beoley, in Worcestershire, he had a dau., Elizabeth, who m. — Leverett; and four sons, viz., 1 Henry, of Buckminster, in Leicestershire (who m. Anne, dau. of Richard Pecke, Esq. of Wakefield, in Yorkshire, and had three sons and three daus.); 2 Thomas, who had a dau., Bridget; 3 Richard, father of George, Margaret, and Isabella; and 4 George, who m. Thomasine Ellis, of Holland, in Lincolnshire.

JOHN ALLEYNE, the only son of his father's 1st marriage, was great-grandfather of REYNOLD ALLEYNE, one of the first Adventurers to the settlement made in the island of Barbados. He acquired a considerable estate there, on which he built a capital residence, named by him Mount Alleyne. He m. Mary Skeet, and had a son, ABEL ALLEYNE, a member of the Barbadian Council, and a lieutenant-general in that island. He m. Elizabeth Denzy, and had three sons and four daus.

REYNOLD ALLEYNE, Esq., the 2nd son, seated himself at the Four Hills, Barbados, was a member of the Assembly at St. Andrew's, and chief judge of the Bridge Court, in the island. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of John Gay, and had four daus. (viz., 1 Elizabeth, wife of — Forster, of Forster's Hall; 2 Isabella, wife of Joseph Gibbes, of Plumbtree; 3 Ruth, wife of John Holder, of Joe's-river; and 4 Christian, wife of John Gibbes, of the Castle) and four sons, viz., 1 JOHN; 2 Abel; 3 Reynold; and 4 Thomas.

JOHN ALLEYNE, Esq. (the eldest son and heir), of Four Hills, was of Magdalen College, Oxford, and d. at Bath, in 1730, leaving, by Mary his wife, dau. of William Terril, Esq. of Cabbage-tree Hall (sole heiress of her mother, Rebecca, dau. and co-heiress of Colonel Robert Spire, of Mount Stedfast), two sons and three daus., viz., 1 Reynold, who d. unm.; and 2 JOHN-GAY, of whom presently; 1 Mary, who m. Admiral Sir Charles Knowles, Bart.; 2 Rebecca, who m. William, Viscount Folkstone, afterwards Earl Radnor; and 3 Reynoldia, who d. unm.

JOHN-GAY ALLEYNE, Esq., the 2nd son, b. 28 April, 1724, succeeded to his father's estates at the early age of six years. Being chosen into the Assembly for St. Andrew's in 1757, he acquired distinction and so strongly recommended himself, by his indefatigable attendance, as from thenceforth to secure an annual re-election. On the occasion of a pamphlet published by him, in vindication of the honour of the island, respecting the expedition to Guadaloupe, he received in his place the unanimous thanks of the Assembly; and on a vacancy of the chair in 1767, he was, with the same unanimity, placed in it, which he constantly filled while his health permitted his residence in the island, and which he finally resigned June 6, 1797. He was created a BARONET in 1769. He m. 1st, Christian, 4th dau. and co-heiress of Joseph Dottin, Esq. of Black Rocks (by Anne, only dau. and heir of Edward Jordan), and had one son, who d. in infancy. He m. 2ndly, in 1786, Jane-Abel, dau. of Abel Alleyne, Esq., by whom he left issue, REYNOLD-ABEL, 2nd baronet.

Lineage.

GILBERTUS DE HEMMEHURST occurs in Pipe Roll, A.D. 1215; ROGERUS DE HEMHURSTE, in the Chartulary of Bayham Abbey, temp. EDWARD II. or III.: and WALTER DE EMHURST of Pembury, in the Subsidy Rolls, 1338-1348. In the 25th EDWARD III. the name appears by record to be written de Amherst.

In the 22nd year of RICHARD II.,

JOHN AMHERST was living at Amherst, in the parish of Pebenbury, alias Pembury, co. Kent, and from him descended

THOMAS AMHERST, of Amherst, not 21 in 1489, as appears from the will of his father, Thomas. By his wife, a sister of Thomas Bowregge, of Capell, he left four sons, viz.,

i. JOHN, of whom presently.

ii. Nicholas, ancestor of WILLIAM-AMHURST TYSSEN-AMHERST, Esq. of Amherst, co. Kent; Didlington, co. Norfolk and Hackney, co. Middlesex (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

iii. William, of Pembury. iv. Richard, of Headcorn.

The eldest son,

JOHN AMHERST, of Amherst, living 1560, m. Parnell Raynes, and dying in 1578, left, inter alios, a son and heir,

RICHARD AMHERST, of Amherst, who m. Margaret Rixon, and left three sons, viz.,

i. Richard, of Bayhall, Kent, serjeant-at-law, and serjeant to Queen ELIZABETH. The male line of this learned person ceased with his grandson, CHARLES AMHERST, Esq., who d. unm. in 1705.

ii. William, who left a dau. Mary, m. to John Champs, Esq. of Tunbridge. iii. JEFFERY.

The youngest son.

THE REV. JEFFERY AMHERST, rector of Horsemonden, in Kent, m. Joan, dau. of John Barnden, Gent., and had, with one dau., three sons, viz.,

Arthur, M.D., d. 2 July, 1678, aged 63, leaving two sons JEFFERY, of Fish Hall, near Tunbridge, and William, and two daughters.

Richard, d. before his father, leaving a son and dau.

JOHN.

The youngest son,

JOHN AMHERST, Esq., barrister-at-law, and one of the Benchers of Gray's Inn, m. thrice, but had issue by his first wife (Margaret, dau. of Jeffery Kirby, Alderman of London) only. He d. in 1691, and was s. by his only surviving son,

JEFFERY AMHERST, Esq., barrister-at-law, and Bencher of Gray's Inn, the first of the family seated at Riverhead, Kent. He d. 1713, leaving by Elizabeth, his 1st wife, dau. of Henry Yate, Esq., of Warnham, an only surviving son,

JEFFERY AMHERST, Esq. of Riverhead, barrister-at-law, and a Bencher of Gray's Inn, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Kerrill, Esq. of Hadlow, co. Kent, and had issue,

i. Sackville, d. unm. in 1763.

ii. JEFFERY, created LORD AMHERST.

iii. John, admiral of the Blue, d. s. p. 1778.

1 WILLIAM-PITT, 1st Earl Amherst.

2 Elizabeth, m. to John Hale, Esq., and d. in 1826.

i. Elizabeth, wife of the Rev. John Thomas, d. in 1779. This lady was celebrated for her poetic talents.

ii. Margaret, d. unm. in 1785.

The 2nd son,

JEFFERY AMHERST, Esq., having acquired high military reputation as commander-in-chief of the British army in North America, from 1758 to 1764, was made a knight of the Bath in 1761, and elevated to the peerage 20 May, 1776, as Baron Amherst, of Holmesdale, co. Kent. His lordship was constituted, in 1778, commander-in-chief of his majesty's land forces in Great Britain; and he was created, 30 Aug. 1788, Baron Amherst, of Montreal, co. Kent, with remainder to his nephew, William-Pitt Amherst, Esq. He m. 1st, Jane, only dau. of Thomas Dalison, Esq. of Hamptons, in Kent; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Gen. the Hon. George Cary, but had no issue. Lord Amherst received a field-marshal's baton in 1796. He d. 3 Aug. 1797, aged 81, when the first barony expired, but the second devolved, according to the limitation of the patent, upon his nephew,

WILLIAM-PITT AMHERST, 2nd baron, b. 14 Jan. 1773, who was at one time ambassador to China, and subsequently governor-general of India, and who was created Viscount Holmesdale and EARL AMHERST, 2 Dec. 1826. He m. 1st, 24 July, 1800, Sarah, relict of Other-Hickman, 5th Earl of Plymouth, and dau. and co-heir of Andrew (Archer), Lord Archer, by whom (who d. 27 May, 1838) he had issue to survive infancy, Jeffery, b. 19 Aug. 1802; d. unm. at Barrackpore, 2 Aug. 1826.

ANGLESEY.

ANGLESEY, MARQUESS OF (Sir Henry-William-George Paget), Earl of Uxbridge, co. Middlesex, and Baron Paget, of Beaudesert, co. Stafford, and a baronet, b. 9 Dec. 1821; s. his father as 3rd marquess, 7 Feb. 1869; m. 7 June, 1845, Sophia, dau. of the late James Eversfield, Esq. of Denne Park, co. Sussex.

Lineage.

WILLIAM PAGET, one of the Serjeants-at-Mace of the city of London, left, with other children,

WILLIAM PAGET, who, after receiving the rudiments of education under the famous Lilly, in St. Paul's School, and passing through the University of Cambridge, entered the family of Stephen Gardiner, Bishop of Winchester, and was thence introduced into political life. In the 21st of HENRY VIII., Paget went to France to obtain the opinions of the learned in that kingdom, touching his royal master's divorce from Queen KATHERINE; and thenceforward, during the remainder of HENRY's reign, we find him actively and confidentially employed, often as a diplomatist upon secret and important missions, and at one time filling the office of secretary of state. He received the honour of knighthood, and had a legacy of £300 from the king, who constituted him one of his executors, and of the council to EDWARD VI. Sir William Paget subsequently formed a close alliance with the Protector SOMERSET, and thus retained the opportunity of devoting his great abilities to the services of the state. On 14 Feb. 1546-7, he was elected a Knight of the Garter; and was summoned to parliament as Baron Paget, of Beaudesert, co. Stafford, 23 Jan. 1552. In the government of the Protector he took a prominent part, and participated in the downfall of his patron. He was committed to the Tower, fined £6000 by the Star Chamber, and divested of the insignia of the Garter. His disgrace was not, however, of long endurance; within a short time he obtained his liberty, with a general pardon for all offences, and a remission of the debt due to the crown. On the death of EDWARD, he espoused the cause of MARY and after her accession to the throne was sworn of the privy council. He had also a restoration of the Garter, and obtained several important grants from her majesty. He was afterwards appointed lord privy seal. When ELIZABETH succeeded, in 1558, he retired from public life at his own request; and Camden informs us, that her majesty "retained an affection and value for him, though he was a strict zealot of the Romish Church." His lordship m. Anne, dau. and heir of Henry Preston, Esq., son of Lawrence, 2nd son of Thomas Preston, Esq. of Preston Patrick and Nether Levens, co. Westmoreland, and dying in 1563, was s. by his eldest son,

SIR HENRY PAGET, K.B. (so made at the coronation of MARY), summoned to parliament as Baron Paget, 30 Sept. 1566. He m. Catherine, dau. of Sir Henry Knevet, of Buckenham, in Norfolk, and had an only daughter, Elizabeth-Paget, who d. an infant. His lordship d. 1568; his brother,

THOMAS PAGET, was summoned to parliament as BARON PAGET, from 4 April 1571 to 6 Jan. 1581. He was attainted, with his brother, Charles Paget, by parliament, on suspicion of favouring the Queen of Scots, and his property confiscated. He m. Nazaret, dau. of Sir Henry Newton, of Barr's Court, co. Somerset, and was s. at his decease, 1589, by his only son, WILLIAM, 4th baron, who was restored by parliament in the 1st of JAMES I. to his rank and honours, and was summoned to parliament from 5 Nov. 1605, to 7 March, 1628. His lordship m. Lettice, dau. and co-heir of Henry Knolles, Esq. of Kingsbury in Warwickshire (by Margaret his wife, dau. and heir of Sir Ambrose Cave, Knt., chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, and Margery his wife, dau. and co-heir of William Willington, Esq. of Barcheston, co. ANSTRUTHER.

CARMICHAEL-ANSTRUTHER, SIR WINDHAM-CHARLES-JAMES, of Carmichael House, Lanarkshire, a Baronet of Nova Scotia and of Great Britain, Heritable Carver of the Royal Household in Scotland, a Deputy Lieutenant for Lanarkshire, M.P. for South Lanarkshire, b. 1824; s. his father as 9th and 5th bart., 15 Sept. 1869; m. 4 Sept. 1872, Janetta, only dau. of Robert Barbour, Esq. of Bolesworth Castle, Cheshire, and has issue a son and heir, WINDHAM-ROBERT, b. 26 March, 1877.

Lineage.

This great family has ranked among the barons of Scotland during upwards of seven centuries. In the year 1100 William de Candela was Lord of Anstruther. As, at that early period, it was customary for nobles to adopt their surnames from their lands, it was rare to find a Scottish baron who possessed a family name besides his territorial designation. One of the few who had this distinction was William, Lord of Anstruther. He had already a noble name, and in 1100 he was one of the most considerable of the barons in Fife. Thus, the nobility of this family is ascertained during the last eight centuries.

WILLIAM DE CANDELA, Lord of Anstruther, lived through the reign of King DAVID I., and did not die until the commencement of that of MALCOLM IV., who ascended the Scottish throne in 1153. William's son,

WILLIAM DE CANDELA, Lord of Anstruther, was a pious benefactor to the Abbey of Balmerino, and d. in the reign of King WILLIAM THE LION, which commenced in 1165. His son,

HENRY, in compliance with the usage of Scotland, assumed the name of his lands as his surname, and disused that of De Candela. He is styled Henricus de Anstruther Dominus de Anstruther in a charter wherein he confirms his father's pious donations to the Abbey of Balmerino in 1221, in the reign of King ALEXANDER II. He was a benefactor to the monastery of Dryburgh. His son,

HENRY DE ANSTRUTHER, Lord of Anstruther, was also a pious benefactor to the religious houses of Balmerino and Dryburgh in charters granted during the reign of King ALEXANDER II. He was a crusader, and accompanied St. Louis to the East. He assumed for his arms the three nails of the cross, now represented by three sable piles on a silver shield In his old age he was compelled to swear fealty for his Barony of Anstruther to EDWARD I. of England in 1292 and 1296. His son,

WILLIAM DE ANSTRUTHER, Lord of Anstruther, lived in the reign of King ROBERT I. He confirmed the donations of his ancestors to the abbey of Dryburgh. He was father of

HENRY DE ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther, who was father of

RICHARD DE ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther, who lived to a great age, and d. in the reign of King JAMES I. of Scotland. He was father of

ROBERT DE ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther, who d. in the reign of King JAMES III. He m. Elizabeth Balfour, a dau. of the ancient Fifeshire house of Balfour, since raised to the peerage by the title of Lord Burleigh. By her he had issue, I. Andrew, his successor; II. Robert, an officer in the Scots guard of LOUIS XII., King of France; III. David, an officer in the Scots guard of LOUIS XII., King of France. He m. a French lady of rank, and was ancestor of a long line of Barons d'Anstrude, Seigneurs de Barry. He was s. by his eldest son,

ANDREW ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther. He got a charter of his Barony of Anstruther in 1483. He fell with King JAMES IV. at Flodden in 1513. He m. Christina, dau. of Sir James Sandilands, of Calder, descended from Sir James Sandilands, and Princess Joanna of Scotland, dau. of King ROBERT II., and ancestor of Lord Torphichen. He was s. by his son,

JOHN ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther. He had charters dated 1527 and 1542. He m. Margaret Douglas, dau. of Thomas Douglas, of Lochleven, descended from Sir William Douglas, of Lochleven, by Lady Marjory Lindsay, granddau. of King ROBERT II., and ancestor to the Earls of Morton. He had a son, ANDREW ANSTRUTHER, who was killed during his father's lifetime at the battle of Pinkie in 1542, and who, by his wife, Margaret, dau. of Thomas Abercrombie, of Abercrombie, ancestor to the Baronet of Birkenbog, and the Lords Abercrombie and Dunfermline, had a son,

JOHN ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther, who s. his grandfather in 1548. He lived to a great age, and d. in 1610. By Margaret Clephane, dau. of George Clephane, of Carslogie (a family now represented by the Marquess of Northampton), he had issue a son, who died before him,

SIR JOHN ANSTRUTHER, a special favourite of King JAMES VI., who in 1585, appointed him his Hereditary Grand Carver, an office which is still held by the head of the Anstruther family; in 1592 he was appointed by that monarch master of the royal household, and d. in 1606. He m. Jean, dau. of Sir Thomas Scott, of Abbott's Hall, Lord Justice Clerk of Scotland (of the House of Scott of Balwearie), by Agnes Moncrieff, of Moncrieff, by whom he had issue, two sons and five daus. Of the sons, William was heir to his grandfather and Robert carried on the line of he family. Of the daus., Jean was wife, 1st of James Douglas, commendator of Melrose, son of the Earl of Morton, and ancestor to the Earls of Morton; and 2ndly, of Sir J. Riddell, Bart. of Riddell. Sir John Anstruther's eldest son,

SIR WILLIAM ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther, s. his grandfather in 1610. He was gentleman of the bedchamber to King JAMES VI.; he was made knight of the bath at his coronation in London in 1603; he was gentleman of the privy chamber to King CHARLES I.; he m. Euphemia, dau. of Sir Andrew Wemyss, of Myrecairney, a lord of session; but dying without issue he was succeeded by his nephew, eldest son of his brother Sir Robert,

SIR ROBERT ANSTRUTHER, gentleman of the bedchamber to King JAMES I, privy councillor to King CHARLES I. In 1620 he was ambassador extraordinary to the King of Denmark, with whom he was in especial favour as a boon companion no less than as a diplomatist. In a protracted revel, the Danish King was so much delighted with his convivial powers that he actually resigned the Danish crown to him, with which Sir Robert was invested during the remaining days of the feast. In 1627 he was ambassador to the Emperor of Germany. He was also sent by King CHARLES I. and the Elector Palatine as their plenipotentiary to the Germanic Diet at Ratisbonne, and in 1630 he was ambassador to the princes of Germany at Heilbronn. This distinguished statesman and diplomatist married Catherine Swift, dau. of Sir Edward Swift, of Rotherham, and sister of Barnham Swift, Lord Viscount Carlingford, and Penelope Swift, Countess of Dumfries; by her he had issue, I. Robert; II. PHILIP. Robert the eldest son inherited the Swift estates of Wheatley near Doncaster: he m. Anne Corbett, dau. of Sir John Corbett, of Stoke in Salop, by whom he had issue, Jane, b. 1652; Frances, b. 1653. He d. without male issue, and the line of the family was carried on by the ambassador's second son,

SIR PHILIP ANSTRUTHER, of Anstruther. He succeeded to the estate of Anstruther at the death of his uncle Sir William. He was a zealous and devoted Royalist, had a high command in the King's army, and was taken prisoner at the battle of Worcester. He was severely fined by Cromwell, and his estates were sequestered until the Restoration. He m. Christian, dau. of General Sir James Lumsden, of Innergelley, a distinguished general in the service of Gustavus Adolphus, King of Sweden, by whom he had five sons, two of whom he lived to see baronets and the three others knights,

I. SIR WILLIAM, his heir.
II. Sir James Anstruther, of Airdrie. His son, General Philip Anstruther, of Airdrie, M.P., left no succession.
III. Sir Robert Anstruther, of Balcaskie, created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1694. (See ANSTRUTHER, Bart. of Balcaskie.)
IV. Sir Philip Anstruther, of Anstrutherfield, who, with other issue, had a son and heir, Philip, and a dau. Christian, wife of John Stewart, 6th Earl of Traquair, mother of the 7th earl.
V. Sir Alexander Anstruther, m. Jean Leslie, titular Baroness Newark, by whom he had, with other issue, William, 3rd, and Alexander, 4th titular Lords Newark. (See BURKE'S Dormant and Extinct Peerage.)

ANTRIM, EARL OF (William-Randal M'Donnell), and Viscount Dunluce, in the peerage of Ireland; b. 8 Jan. 1851; s. his father 19 Dec. 1869; m. 1 June, 1875, Louisa-Jane, 3rd dau. of the late Hon. General Charles Grey, and niece of Earl Grey, K.G., and has issue, RANDALL-MARK-KERR, Viscount Dunluce, b. 10 Dec. 1878.

Sybil-Mary, b. 26 March, 1876.

Lineage.

Descended from the Lords of the Isles, the McDonnells of Antrim have long held high position in the north of Ireland. One line, sprung from COLL KITTAGH, was represented by the late RIGHT HON. SIR ALEXANDER MCDONNELL, Bart.; and another line is that of the noble House of Antrim.

SIR RANDAL MAC SORLEY MAC DONNELL, of Dunluce, co. Antrim, son of Sorley Buy, was created, 28 May, 1618, Viscount Dunluce, and advanced, 12 Dec. 1620, to the EARLDOM OF ANTRIM. His lordship dying 10 Dec. 1636, was s. by his elder son,

RANDAL, 2nd earl, b. in 1609. This nobleman, for the many essential services he had rendered to the crown, was advanced to the dignity of MARQUESS OF ANTRIM, by CHARLES I., 26 Jan. 1644. His lordship m. 1st, in 1635, Lady Catherine Manners, dau. and heir of Francis, 6th Earl of Rutland, and widow of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham; and 2ndly, Rose, dau. of Sir Henry O'Neile, Knt. of Shane's Castle, co. Antrim, but had no issue. He d. 3 Feb. 1682, when the marquessate expired, but the other honours devolved upon his brother,

ALEXANDER, as 3rd earl, b. in 1615. This nobleman, who actively espoused the cause of JAMES II. in Ireland, in the war of the Revolution, was attainted of high treason, but being subsequently included in the treaty of Limerick his lands and honours were restored. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Elizabeth Annesley, 2nd dau. of Arthur, 1st Earl of Anglesey, by whom (who d. 4 Sept. 1672) he had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Helena, 3rd dau. of Sir John Burke, Knt. of Derrymaclaghtny, co. Galway, and dying in 1699, was s. by his only son,

RANDAL, 4th earl, b. in 1680; m. Rachel, eldest dau. of Clotworthy, Viscount Massereene, and dying 19 Oct. 1721, was s. by his only son, ALEXANDER, 5th earl, b. 22 July, 1713. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Matthew Pennefather, Esq., comptroller and accountant-general of Ireland, but by her had no surviving issue. He m. 2ndly, in 1739, Anne, eldest dau. and heir of Charles-Patrick Plunket, Esq. of Dillons-Town, co. Louth, M.P., by whom he had one son and two daus., Rachael, wife of Joseph Sandford, Esq., and Elizabeth-Helena, wife of Col. Callander. He m. 3rdly, Catherine, youngest dau. of Thomas Meredyth, Esq. of Newtown, co. Meath, and widow of James Taylor, Esq., without issue. He d. 13 Oct. 1775, and was s. by his son,

RANDAL-WILLIAM, 6th earl, b. 4 Nov. 1749. His lordship m. 3 July, 1774, Letitia, eldest dau. of Hervey Morres, 1st Viscount Mountmorres, and relict of the Hon. Arthur Trevor, only son of Arthur, Viscount Dungannon, by whom (who d. in 1801) he had issue,

ANNE-CATHERINE, his successor.

CHARLOTTE, late countess.

The earl, having no male issue, obtained a new patent, dated 2 May, 1785, creating him Viscount Dunluce, and EARL OF ANTRIM, with remainder to his daughters primogeniturely; and in Aug. 1789, his lordship was advanced to the MARQUESSATE OF ANTRIM, but without any special reversionary grant. He d. 28 July, 1791, when all the honours ceased, except the patent of 1785, which devolved, according to the special limitation, upon his elder daughter,

ANNE-CATHERINE, as Countess of Antrim. Her ladyship, b. 12 Aug. 1775, m. 1st, in 1799, Sir Henry-Vane Tempest, Bart., and by him, who d. 1 Aug. 1813, had an only dau., LADY FRANCES-ANNE-EMILY-VANE, who inherited her father's great estates, m. Charles-William, Marquess of Londonderry, and died his widow, 20 Jan. 1865. The countess m. 2ndly, 24 May, 1817, Edmund Phelps, Esq., who assumed the surname of M'Donnell, and d. 30 May, 1852, aged 72. Her ladyship d. 30 June, 1834, and was s. by her sister,

CHARLOTTE KERR, as Countess of Antrim, b. 11 Feb. 1778, who m. 18 July, 1799, Vice-Admiral Lord Mark-Robert Kerr, 3rd son of William-John, 5th Marquess of Lothian, and by him (who d. 9 Sept. 1840) had issue,

CHARLES-FORTESCUE, Viscount Dunluce, d. unm. 28 July, 1834.

Argyll; Chancellor of the Uni-

* There is authority for both LORNE and LORN. In the regrant of the Dukedom of Argyll, the grantee (afterwards the famous Duke John) is styled Marquess of "Lorn," but throughout the grant the title and lands are otherwise spelt "Lorne." The 1st Duke, his father, and his grandfather, all used the final "e."

Lineage.

Eight centuries ago, Gillespick Campbell acquired, by marriage with an heiress, the lordship of Lochow, in Argyllshire, and from him descended,

SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, of Lochow, who, distinguished as well by the great acquisitions he had made to his estate, as his achievements in war, obtained the surname of MORE, or GREAT; and from him the chief of the house is in the Gaelic styled, to this day, MAC CALLUM MORE. He was knighted by ALEXANDER III., 1280, and was one of the nominees, 1291, on the part of ROBERT BRUCE, in the contest for the crown of Scotland. This renowned and gallant chieftain was slain in a conflict with his powerful neighbour, the Lord of Lorn, at a place called the String of Cowal, where a great obelisk is erected over his grave. The event occasioned continued feuds for a series of years between the houses of Lochow and Lorn, which terminated at last by the marriage of the first Earl of Argyll with the heiress of Lorn. Sir Colin m. a lady of the name of St. Clair, and had,

NIEL, his successor.

Donald, progenitor of the Campbells of Loudoun.

Dugald (Sir), who swore fealty to EDWARD I. in 1299, but afterwards joined ROBERT BRUCE.

Arthur, who, having sworn fidelity with his brother to KING EDWARD, like him, afterwards joined ROBERT BRUCE, from whom he obtained two charters of the constabulary of Dunstaffnage, with the mains thereof.

Duncan, likewise a supporter of the BRUCE.

Sir Colin was s. by his eldest son,

SIR NIEL CAMPBELL, who was knighted by ALEX. III. towards the close of that monarch's reign. He swore fealty, with his brothers, in 1296, to KING EDWARD, but afterwards joining ROBERT BRUCE, adhered to him in prosperity and adversity, and fought by his side in almost every field, from the battle of Methven to that of Bannockburn. The king had so high a sense of Campbell's services that he gave him his sister, Lady Mary Bruce, in marriage, and granted to him and his said wife, and John their son, all the lands which belonged to David de Strathbogie, Earl of Atholl. When the triumph of Bannockburn had decided the independence of Scotland, Sir Niel Campbell was one of the great barons in the parliament which met at Ayr, 26 April, 1315, and fixed the succession to the crown. By the Lady Mary Bruce he had three sons, viz.,

COLIN.

John (Sir), of Moulin, who, upon the forfeiture of David de Strathbogie, 11th Earl of Atholl, was advanced to that earldom. He fell at the battle of Halidon Hill, 1333; and dying without issue, the Earldom of Athol reverted to the crown.

Duncan, of Menstrie.

Sir Niel d. in 1316, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, of Lochow, who accompanied the king into Ireland, in 1316, to assist in placing his brother, Edward Bruce, upon the throne of that kingdom. Sir Colin, in 1334, assisted the Steward of Scotland in the recovery of the CASTLE OF DUNOON from the English, which gave the first turn of fortune in favour of KING DAVID BRUCE, and he was in consequence appointed heritable governor of that fortress. He m. a lady of the house of Lennox, and had three sons and a dau., viz., ARCHIBALD; John, whence derive the Campbells of Barbeck, Succoth, and others (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry); Dugald; and Allicia, m. to Allan Lauder, of Hatton. He d. in 1340, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR ARCHIBALD, or GILLESPICK CAMPBELL, of Lochow, who was s. by his son,

SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, of Lochow, who m. Margaret, 2nd dau. of Sir John Drummond, of Stobhall, and sister of Annabella, Queen Consort of ROBERT III., by whom he had issue,

I. DUNCAN.

II. Colin, of Ardkinglas, represented by CALLANDER of Craigforth. III. Donald.

I. Christian, m. to Duncan Macfarlane, of Arrochar.

Sir Colin was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

SIR DUNCAN CAMPBELL, of Lochow, who assumed the designation of ARGYLL, and was raised to the dignity of a lord of parliament by JAMES II., in 1445, by the title of Lord Campbell, having, in the previous reign, been of the privy council, and been appointed the king's justiciary, and lord-lieutenant of the co. Argyll. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Marjory Stewart, dau. of Robert, Duke of Albany, Regent of Scotland, and had three sons, viz.,

Celestine, who d. young.

Archibald, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir John Somerville, of Carnwath; and dying before his father, left a son, COLIN, who s. his grandfather.

Colin (Sir), ancestor of the Campbells of Glenorchy and Glenfalloch, now EARLS OF BREADALBANE.

Lord Campbell m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Sir John Stewart, of Blackhall, natural son of ROBERT III., and had three more sons, viz., Duncan of Auchinbreck, ancestor of the Campbells of Glencardell, Glensaddell &c.; Niel, ancestor of the Campbells of Ellengreig and of Armadale; and Arthur (or Archibald), ancestor of Campbell of Otter, now extinct. Lord Campbell was one of the hostages for the redemption of JAMES I., in 1424, and his annual revenue at that time was stated to be fifteen hundred marks, a larger income than that of any other of the hostages. He d. at the close of the year 1453, and was s. by his grandson,

COLIN, 2nd Lord Campbell, who was created Earl of Argyll, 1457. His lordship was appointed master of the king's household in 1464; and after filling several most important public situations, as ambassador to the courts of England and France, justiciary, &c., he was eventually made LORD HIGH CHANCELLOR OF SCOTLAND. He m. Isabel Stewart, eldest dau. and co-heiress of John, Lord of Lorn, and in consequence, added the galley to his achievement, with the designation of Lord Lorn to his other titles. Of this marriage there were, with seven daus., two sons, viz.,

ARCHIBALD, his successor.

Thomas, ancestor of the Campbells of Lundie.

The earl d. 10 May, 1493, and was s. by his elder son,

ARCHIBALD, 2nd Earl of Argyll, who fell in the command of the vanguard at the Battle of Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, leaving, with a numerous family besides (by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of John, Earl of Lennox),

COLIN, his successor.

John (Sir), of Calder, ancestor of the Earl of Cawdor.

He was s. by his son,

COLIN, 3rd Earl of Argyll. This nobleman was appointed, in 1528, lieutenant of the borders, warden of the marches, heritable sheriff of Argyllshire, justice-general of Scotland, and master of the king's household. His lordship m. Lady Jane Gordon, dau. of Alexander, Earl of Huntly, and dying in 1533, was s. by his eldest son,*

ARCHIBALD, 4th earl. This nobleman was the first person of importance in Scotland who embraced the Protestant religion, and he became subsequently a strenuous advocate for the Reformation. He m. 1st, Helen, dau. of James, Earl of Arran, and had one son,

* His 2nd son, John, was ancestor of the Campbells of Lochnell; and his 3rd, Alexander, became dean of Moray.

ARCHIBALD, his successor.

He m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of William Graeme, Earl of Menteith, by whom he had, with two daus.,

COLIN, who s. as 6th earl.

His lordship d. in 1558, and was s. by his eldest son,

ARCHIBALD, 5th earl, who, at the breaking out of the civil wars in Scotland, espoused the cause of Queen MARY, and commanded her Majesty's forces at the battle of Langside, in 1568. After the assassination of the Regent MORAY, the Earl of Argyll, and other noblemen of the queen's party, assembled at Linlithgow, 10 April, 1570, and his lordship was then constituted, with the Duke of Chatelherault and the Earl of Huntly, her Majesty's lieutenant in Scotland. When the Regent LENNOX fell in 1571, by assassination too, he was candidate for the regency; but not succeeding, he was sworn of the privy council, and the next year constituted LORD HIGH CHANCELLOR. His lordship m. 1st, the Lady Jane Stuart, natural dau. of JAMES V. (This lady was at supper with her sister, Queen MARY, when Rizzio was murdered, 9 March, 1566; and she stood sponsor, as proxy for ELIZABETH of England, at the baptism of JAMES VI.) The earl m. 2ndly, Lady Joanna Cunningham, 2nd dau. of Alexander, 5th earl of Glencairn, but had no issue. He d. in 1575, when the estates and honours devolved upon his half-brother,

SIR COLIN CAMPBELL, of Boquhan, as 6th earl, who was sworn of the privy council in 1577, and appointed lord high chancellor of Scotland in two years afterwards: by his 2nd wife, Agnes, dau. of William Keith, earl marischal, and widow of James, Earl of Moray (the Regent), he had,

ARCHIBALD, his successor.
Colin, of Lundie, created a Baronet.

His Lordship d. in 1584, and was s. by his elder son,

ARCHIBALD, 7th earl, a military officer of high reputation, who, after distinguishing himself in arms at home, entered the service of Philip III. of Spain, and obtained renown in the wars of that monarch against the States of Holland. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Anne Douglas, dau. of William, Earl of Morton, by whom he had, with four daus.,

ARCHIBALD, his successor.

He m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir William Cornwallis, of Brome, and had, with a dau., another son, James, created Earl of Irvine in 1642, who d. s. p., when the dignity expired.

The earl d. in 1638, and was s. by his elder son.

ARCHIBALD, 8th earl, who was advanced to the Marquessate of Argyll, by letters patent, dated 15 Nov. 1641. This nobleman resigned into the hands of CHARLES I. the justiciaryship of all Scotland, which had been in his family for several ages, reserving only to himself and his heirs the jurisdiction of the Western Isles, and of Argyll, and wherever else he had lands in Scotland, which arrangements were ratified by act of parliament in 1633. His lordship, who was so deeply engaged in the Scottish affairs of his time, and generally so mysteriously, that to treat of his career would produce rather a series of conjectures than of facts, acted a prominent part during the civil war, was the first commissioner from Scotland to the parliament of England, and commander-in-chief of the Covenanters, when defeated by Montrose at Inverlochie and Kilsyth; but after the king's murder, when Scotland, as with one voice, demanded the acknowledgment of CHARLES II., Argyll asserted his majesty's cause, and at the king's coronation at Scone, 1 Jan. 1650-1, had the honour of placing the crown upon his majesty's head. Subsequently, however, he assisted in the ceremony of proclaiming CROMWELL, Protector, and signed an engagement to support the usurper's government. On the restoration of the monarchy, the marquess immediately repaired to London, for the purpose of congratulating the king; but his majesty, refusing to see him, ordered his committal to the Tower, where he remained until December following, when he was sent back to Scotland by sea, and narrowly escaped shipwreck. He was soon afterwards tried for high treason, and condemned to death, 25 May, 1661. In two days subsequently, he wrote a long letter to the king, vindicating his memory, and imploring protection for his poor wife and family; dined at noon with his friends with great cheerfulness; and was accompanied by several of the nobility to the scaffold; where, after an interval of devotion, his head was struck off by the maiden at the market-cross of Edinburgh. He m. his cousin, Margaret, second dau. of William Douglas, Earl of Morton, by whom he had (with three daus., Anne, d. unm.; Jane, m. Robert, 1st Marquess of Lothian; and Mary, m. 1st, to George, Earl of Caithness, and 2ndly, to John, Earl of Breadalbane) two sons,

I. ARCHIBALD, his successor.
II. Neil, of Armaddie, co. Argyle, governor of Dumbarton Castle, who m. 1st, 28 Jan. 1688, Lady Vere Ker, 3rd dau. of William, Marquis of Lothian, and by her had issue, Charles; Archibald, D.D., a Bishop of the Scotch Episcopal Church, consecrated at Dundee 1711, and at London 1744; and Anna, m. to Capt. James, 2nd son of Sir Alexander Menzies, 1st Bart. of Weem. Lord Neil m. 2ndly, Susanna, dau. of Sir Alexander Menzies, 1st Bart. of Weem, by whom he had two daus., Christian, m. to her cousin, Sir Robert Menzies, 2nd Bart.; and Susan, m. to J. Stewart, of Urrard. Lord Neil d. 1693, and was s. by his eldest son, Charles Campbell, who joined his uncle's invasion, and was tried and condemned, but had his sentence commuted. He made over Armaddie to the Earl of Breadalbane; he m. and left daus.

The Marquis was s. by the elder of two sons,

ARCHIBALD, 9th earl, who, in 1663, was restored to the estates and honours of his family, as Earl of Argyll. This nobleman, for refusing to subscribe to the Test Act, was found guilty of high treason, 19 Dec. 1681, and sentenced to death, but effected his escape from the Castle of Edinburgh, under the disguise of a page, holding up the train of Lady Sophia Lindsay, his step-daughter, and departed the kingdom: he was subsequently taken, in an abortive attempt to invade Scotland in the beginning of the reign of JAMES II., and executed at the same place, and in the same manner, as his father, 30 June, 1685. His lordship m. 1st, Lady Mary Stuart, dau. of James, Earl of Moray, by whom he left, with other issue,

I. ARCHIBALD, his successor.
II. John of Mamore, M.P. for Argyllshire, 1700; m. Elizabeth, dau. of John, 8th Lord Elphinstone; and, dying in 1750, left, with other children,*

JOHN, who inherited as 4th Duke of Argyll.

III. Charles, M.P. for co. Argyll, 1741; d. unm. same year.
IV. Neil, d. unm.

The earl was s. by his eldest son,

ARCHIBALD, who was acknowledged Earl of Argyll by the convention of estates in Scotland, anno 1689, before the reversal of the attainder against his father, and was created by the new monarch, after the revolution, in recompence for the services he had rendered in promoting that measure (23 June, 1701), Lord Inverary, Mull, Morvern and Tiry; Viscount of Lochow and Glenilla; Earl of Campbell and Cowal; Marquess of Kintyre and Lorn; and DUKE OF ARGYLL, to him and his heirs male whatsoever. His grace m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Lionel Tollemache, of Helmingham, co. Suffolk, by Elizabeth, Countess of Dysart and Duchess of Lauderdale, and by her (who d. May, 1735) left two sons, John and Archibald, with a dau. Anne, m. to James Stewart, 2nd Earl of Bute. He d. 28 Sept. 1703, and was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, 2nd duke, b. in 1678. This nobleman, a great military commander, was created a British peer, by Queen ANNE, 29 Nov. 1705, as Baron Chatham and Earl of Greenwich, and advanced to the DUKEDOM OF GREENWICH, 27 April, 1719. In 1715, on the breaking out of the insurrection in Scotland, his grace took the command of the Royal army, and fought the battle of Sheriffmuir. In 1735-6, he was constituted field-marshal of all his majesty's forces. No less distinguished in the council than the field, the Duke is thus immortalized by Pope:—

"Argyll, the State's whole thunder born to wield,
And shake alike the senate and the field."

His grace m. 1st, Mary, dau. of John Browne, Esq., but by that lady had no issue; he m. 2ndly, Jane (one of the maids of honour to Queen ANNE), dau. of Thomas Warburton, Esq. of Winnington, co. Chester, and had issue,

I. CAROLINE, m. 1st, Francis, Earl of Dalkeith; and 2ndly, the Rt. Hon. Charles Townshend. This lady was created BARONESS GREENWICH, 19 Aug. 1767 (see BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage), and d. in 1794, leaving a dau., Anne, who m. 1st, 1779, Richard Wilson, Esq. of Tyrone; and 2ndly, John Tempest, Esq. of Lincolnshire.
II. Anne, m. William Wentworth, Earl of Strafford, but d. s. p.
III. Jane, d. young, Jan. 1735.
IV. Elizabeth, m. the Rt. Hon. James Steuart-Mackenzie, brother of John, Earl of Bute.
V. Mary, m. Edward, Viscount Coke, heir-apparent of Thomas, Earl of Leicester, but d. s. p.

His grace d. Oct. 1743, and as he left no male issue, his English honours ceased, while those of Scotland devolved upon his brother,

* Of John Campbell of Mamore's younger children, the 3rd son, William, was of Lyston Hall, Essex; the eldest dau., Mary, was Countess of Rosebery; and the youngest, Primrose, the wife of Simon, Lord Lovat.

ARCHIBALD, 3rd Duke of Argyll, b. at Ham House, Surrey, June, 1682, who had been created previously (29 Oct. 1706,) a peer of Scotland, by the titles Lord Oransay, Dunoon, and Arase, and Viscount and Earl of Ilay. His grace was at the head of the government of Scotland. He m. Miss Whitfield, but d. without issue, 15 April, 1761, when his own immediate honours became extinct, while those of his family descended to his cousin,

JOHN, 4th duke, K.T. (revert to the Hon. John Campbell, of Mamore, 2nd son of Archibald, 9th earl.) This nobleman m. in 1720, Mary, dau. of John, 2nd Lord Bellenden, and had five children, viz.,

JOHN, Marquess of Lorn.
Henry, killed in the battle of Lauffeldt, 1747.
Frederick, Lord Clerk Register, m. 28 March, 1769, Mary, dau. of Amos Meredith, Esq., and widow of Lawrence, 4th Earl Ferrers, but had no issue. He d. 8 June, 1816. His wife was unfortunately burnt to death at her ladyship's seat at Coomb Bank, Kent, 25 July, 1807.
William, who m. Sarah, dau. of Ralph Izard, of South Carolina, and had one son and two daus., viz., William; Louisa, m. in 1799, the Rt. Hon. Sir Alexander Johnston, F.R.S., President of Council in Ceylon, and d. 7 May, 1852; and Caroline, who d. unm.
Caroline, m. 1st, to Charles, 3rd Earl of Ailesbury: 2ndly, to Field Marshal the Rt. Hon. Henry-Seymour Conway.

The duke d. 17 Nov. 1770, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 5th duke, b. in 1723; created a peer of England, during the lifetime of his father, as Baron Sundridge, of Coomb Bank, in Kent, 19 Dec. 1766, with remainder to his brothers, Frederick and William. His grace m. 3 March, 1759, Elizabeth, relict of James, 6th Duke of Hamilton, and 2nd dau. of John Gunning, Esq. of Castle Coote, co. Roscommon, by his wife, Hon. Bridget Bourke, dau. of Theobald, 6th Viscount Bourke, of Mayo (see GUNNING, Bart.). By this lady, one of the greatest beauties of the Court of GEORGE III., who was created a peeress of Great Britain, as Baroness Hamilton, of Hambledon, in Leicestershire, 4 May, 1776, and d. 20 Dec. 1790, he had issue,

I. GEORGE-WILLIAM, 6th duke.
II. JOHN-DOUGLAS-EDWARD-HENRY, 7th duke.
I. Augusta, m. Gen. Clavering, and d. 22 June, 1831.

Lineage.

The Armstrongs of the Border were at the head of a numerous and warlike clan, who, upon all differences that arose between the two crowns, made frequent inroads into the northern counties of England, assisted occasionally by the other neighbouring clans of their alliance. The most famed leader of these bold and adventurous men was,

JOHN ARMSTRONG, the laird of Giltknock Hall, in the parish of Canaby, and county of Eskedale, who was executed, together with many of his retainers, by King JAMES V.'s orders, at Carlingrig, about the year 1530.

ANDREW ARMSTRONG, stated to have been born in the Castle of Mangerton, 1576, and to have been a descendant of John Armstrong, of Giltknock Hall, migrated in the commencement of the seventeenth century, to the north of Ireland, and established himself in the county of Fermanagh. At the breaking out of the Rebellion in 1641, he embraced a military life, and served as an officer of horse in the army of CHARLES I. for several years, with great reputation. He m. 1stly, a lady named Alexander, of Scottish descent, and had by her, one son and one dau.,

1. Andrew, who married, and had one son and three daus,
   1 Richard, who m. a dau. of Mr. Armstrong, of Forelock, in the King's County, and dying in 1720, left, with several daus. two sons, viz.,
     John, who m. and had several children.
     Thomas, was made an ensign in Col. Philip's regiment of foot, in North America, in 1731, and became lieutenant in 1737; he d. unm.
   2 Rebecca, m. to Mr. Johnston.
   3 Mary, m. Thomas Robinson, of Knockshegowna, co. Tipperary, and had, inter alios, a son, Andrew Robinson, colonel of the 38th regt., equerry to the Princess Dow. of Wales, and major-gen. of his Majesty's forces.

Andrew Armstrong m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of M. Johnston, Esq., and had by that lady, with daus., five other sons,

I. EDMUND, of whom presently.
II. THOMAS, ancestor of the ARMSTRONGS of Ballycumber.

Lineage.

ROGER DE ARUNDELL, at the General Survey, was found possessed of twenty-eight lordships in the co. Somerset; from him descended,

SIR JOHN ARUNDELL, of Lanherne, co. Cornwall, K.B., b. 1367, who m. Eleanor, dau. and heir of Sir William Lamborne, Knt. of Lamborne, co. Cornwall, by the heiress of Ralph Le Sore, of Tolverne, by Mabel, his wife, sister and co-heir of Sir Maurice Berkeley, and had three sons, viz.,

JOHN, his successor.

Thomas (Sir), of Tolverne, parish of Filleigh, Cornwall, whose will bears date 1433. By Mary-Frances, his wife, he was father of Sir John Arundell, of Tolverne, ancestor of the ARUNDELLS of TOLVERNE, whose male representative,

SIR THOMAS ARUNDELL, knighted by King JAMES I., sold Tolverne; he was son of Sir John Arundell, of Tolverne, by Ann, his wife, dau. of Thomas Godolphin, Esq. He d. in 1630, leaving, by Bridget, his wife, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Mohun, of Hall, parish of Lanteglos-juxta-Fowey, a son and heir,

COL. JOHN ARUNDELL, of Treethall, parish of Tythney, Cornwall, Deputy-Governor of Pendennis Castle, and colonel in the royal army. He m. Mary, dau. of John Coke, Esq., of Tregassow, and d. in 1671, leaving a son, JOHN ARUNDELL, Esq. of Treethall, who was grandfather of ROBERT ARUNDELL, Esq. the last male descendant of Arundell of Tolverne.

III. Humphrey, m. Joane, sister and heir of Sir John Coleshall, Knt., and had issue,

1 JOHN, Bishop of Exeter. 2 Humphrey (Sir), d. s. p.

Sir John was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN ARUNDELL, who m. Elizabeth de Rochford, Lady of Biddeford, and was s. by his son,

SIR JOHN ARUNDELL, one of the gallant commanders in France, temp. HENRY VI. He m. 1st. Elizabeth de Morley, dau. of Thomas, Lord Morley, and had a dau.,

Anne, who m. James Tirrel, Esq.

Sir John m. 2ndly, Katherine, relict of Sir William Stafford, of Frome, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Chideocke, of Chideocke and Caundle, co. Dorset (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage, art. FITZPAYNE), by whom he had one son and six daus.; he was s. by the former,

SIR THOMAS ARUNDELL, K.B., who m. Catherine, dau. of Sir John Dynham, and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN ARUNDELL, of Lanherne, in Cornwall, K.B., and a knight-banneret. This gentleman m. 1st, the Lady Eleanor Grey, dau. of Thomas, Marquess of Dorset, and had issue,

John (Sir), of Lanherne, ancestor of the Arundells of Lanherne, in Cornwall, and of Chideocke, Dorset.

THOMAS, of whom presently.

Sir John m. 2ndly, Jane, dau. of Sir Thomas Granville, and had a dau., Mary, who m. Robert Ratcliffe, Earl of Sussex. The second son,

SIR THOMAS ARUNDELL, Knt., had, by gift of his father, WARDOUR CASTLE, co. Wilts, formerly a possession of the crown. This gentleman was created a knight of the Bath, at the coronation of ANNE BOLEYN; but being convicted, temp. EDWARD VI., with Edward, Duke of Somerset, of conspiring the murder of John Dudley, Duke of Northumberland, he was beheaded 26 Feb. 1552. Sir Thomas m. Margaret, dau: and co-heir of Lord Edmund Howard, 3rd son of Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, and sister of Catharine, 5th wife of HENRY VIII., by whom he left one dau. and a son,

SIR MATTHEW ARUNDELL, of Wardour, who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Henry Willoughby, Knt. of Wollaton, co. Nottingham, and dying in 1598, was s. by his elder son,

SIR THOMAS ARUNDELL, of Wardour. This gallant person went, at a very early age, to Germany, and serving as a volunteer in the imperial army in Hungary, took the standard of the Turks with his own hand, in an engagement at Gran; for which heroic achievement he was created by RODOLPH II., Emperor of Germany, a Count of the Holy Roman Empire. The patent of creation, dated at Prague, 14 Dec. 1595, confers the honour upon Sir Thomas, and his heirs male, and female for ever. Upon Sir Thomas's return to his native country, he was elevated to the peerage (4 May, 1605), as BARON ARUNDELL of Wardour. His lordship, who was surnamed the Valiant, m. 1st, Lady Maria Wriothesley, dau. of Henry, Earl of Southampton, and had issue,

THOMAS, his successor.

William, of Hornisham, co. Wilts, whose only dau. Mary, m. Sir Henry Tichborne, Baronet.

Elizabeth, m. to Sir John Philpot.

Lord Arundell m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Miles Phillipson, Esq., and had several other children. He d. 7 Nov. 1630, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 2nd baron, who m. Blanch, 5th dau. of Edward Somerset, Earl of Worcester. This lady, during the absence of her husband, defended Wardour with great resolution and only a handful of men, for nine days, against the Parliamentarians under Sir Edward Hungerford and Edmund Ludlow, and surrendered eventually on honourable terms. The besiegers, however, violating the treaty, were dislodged by the determination of the noble proprietor, who directed, on his return, a mine to be sprung under the castle, and thus sacrificed that noble and magnificent structure to his loyalty. His lordship d. of wounds received at the battle of Lansdowne, 19 May, 1648, and was s. by his son,

HENRY, 3rd baron. This nobleman was one of the persons committed to prison in 1678, upon the information of the infamous Titus Oates, and suffered five years' incarceration. His lordship, after his release, was sworn, in 1685, of the privy council, and constituted lord-keeper of the privy-seal in the following year, when he was honoured with the Order of the Bath. On the abdication of JAMES II., Lord Arundell* retired to Breamore, in Wilts, where he d. 28 Dec. 1694, and was s. by his eldest son (by Cecily, dau. of Sir Henry Compton, Knt. of Brambletye, co. Sussex, and widow of Sir John Fermor, Knt.),

THOMAS, 4th baron, who m. Margaret, dau. of Thomas Spencer, Esq. of Upton, co. Warwick, and widow of Robert Lucy, Esq. of Charlecote, in the same co., and was s. at his decease, in 1712, by his eldest son,

HENRY, 5th baron. This nobleman m. Elizabeth, dau. of Thomas Panton, Esq., and dying 20 April, 1726, was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY, 6th baron, b. 4 Oct. 1694. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth-Eleanor, dau. and heiress of Baron Everard, of the principality of Liege, one of the Barons of the Holy Roman Empire, and had several children, of whom were,

I. HENRY, his successor.

II. James-Everard (3rd son), m. in 1751, Anne, dau. and heir of John Wyndham, Esq. of Ashcombe, Wilts, and d. in 1803, having had issue,

JAMES-EVERARD, who inherited as 9th LORD ARUNDELL.

Thomas-Raymond, of Ashcombe, Wilts, b. 1765; m. 1792, Elizabeth-Mary-Anne, dau. of Sir Edward Smythe, Bart. of Acton Burnell, co. Salop, and d. 18 Jan. 1829, having had,

1 Thomas-Raymond, deceased.

2 HENRY-RAYMOND, b. 27 June, 1799; m. 1st, in 1827, Mary-Isabel, 2nd dau. of Sir Thomas-Hugh-Clifford Constable, Bart., by whom (who d. 1828) he has a son,

Theodore, b. 17 June, 1828; m. 1854, his cousin, Louisa, 2nd dau. of John Hussey, Esq. of Nash Court, co. Dorset; and has issue, Raymond-Robert, b. 1856; Edgar-Clifford, b. 1859; Gerald-Arthur, b. 1861; Agnes-Mary, Blanche-Mary, and Maud-Mary.

ASHBURNHAM.

ASHBURNHAM, EARL OF (Bertram Ashburnham), and Viscount St. Asaph, in the peerage of Great Britain, and Baron Ashburnham in the peerage of England; b. 28 Oct. 1840; s. his father as 5th earl, 22 June, 1878.

Lineage.

This family, which derives its name from Ashburnham, anciently Esburnham, "the Saxon House of the Ashburn" (a small stream in Sussex so designated in Drayton's Polyalbion), is described by Fuller in his Worthies as "a family of stupendous antiquity," and Nisbet adds, that "it is one of the ancientest families in England which can be instructed to have been of good account in England before the Conquest." These statements are borne out by the testimony of ancient records and trustworthy writers. There is scarcely a pedigree, deduced from so remote a period, so capable of proof as this of the old house of Ashburnham of Ashburnham.

BERTRAM DE ESBURNHAM was Sheriff of the counties of Surrey, Sussex, and Kent, and Constable of Dover Castle in the reign of King HAROLD. In 1066, he defended that Castle against WILLIAM I. (the Conqueror), for which reason, WILLIAM, on his winning the crown of England, caused him and both his sons, Philip and Michael, to be beheaded. His elder son,

PHILIP DE ESBURNHAM, who was put to death with his father, had a son,

REGINALD DE HESSEBURNEHAM, who gave to the church of St. Martin, of Battle, all the land which they had in Hou, called Chelland. The original grant is in the possession of the present Earl of Ashburnham; it gives to Alred of St. Martin's "all the lands of Dudewell in fee, paying yearly half a mark, saving the rights to the King, the Church, and the Earl." Reginald was s. by his son,

STEPHEN DE ESBURNHAM, who confirmed to the church of St. Martin, of Battle, and to the monks there serving God, for the health of his soul and the souls of his ancestors and successors, the gift which his father, Reginald, gave for ever, in pure and free alms, viz., all that land which they had in Hou, called Chelland, with the land which he gave them in Denne, with two saltworks in the marsh belonging to the said land, with all other appurtenances, in wood, in plain, and in marsh, to hold for ever in pure alms. There is also another deed in Lord Ashburnham's custody, being a confirmation by this Stephen to the Monks of Robertsbridge, of the lands of Dudewell, which the said monks held of Reginald, his father, and of him. Stephen was s. by his son,

SIR RICHARD DE ESBURNHAM, who confirmed to the monks of Robertsbridge, the gift that Stephen, his father, made to them of the whole lands of Dudewell. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Maltravers (who bore for arms sa., fretty or., Roll HENRY III.), and had a son,

SIR RICHARD DE ESBURNHAM, who is certified in the reign of HENRY III., as holding two knights' fees of Alice, dau. and heir of Henry, Earl of Ewe, and wife of Ralph de Ysondon, son of Geoffrey Luzignan, Earl of Aquitaine, as of the honor of Hastings. He m. Katherine, dau. of Sir Richard Peverell, and had two sons, SIR HAMOND, his successor, and Sir Bartholomew, who held, anno 38 HENRY III., 20*l.* per annum land of the king, and was summoned that year to attend the King at London, in Easter, with horse and arms, and to march to Portsmouth in order to proceed to Gascony to oppose the King of Castile. The elder son,

SIR HAMOND DE ESBURNHAM, m. Maud, dau. of Thomas Elton, of Elton, co. Sussex, and was s. by his son,

SIR RICHARD ESBURNHAM, who m. Isabel, dau. of Sir Thomas Morville, and had a son and heir,

SIR JOHN ESBURNHAM, who appears on a roll of arms, temp. EDWARD II., as "Sire Johan de Ascheborhnam," bearing the family arms, viz., gu., a fess betw. six mullets ar. He was summoned, 25 EDWARD I., to attend the King at London, on the Sunday after the octave of St. John the Baptist, with horse and arms, to go beyond the seas for his own honor and the profit of the realm. Sir John m. Joan, dau. of Richard Covert, of Sullington, co. Sussex, and had a dau., Mabel, m. Simon Lunsford, and a son and heir,

JOHN ESBURNHAM, sheriff of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, 19 RICHARD II., and in the two succeeding years one of the representatives in Parliament for that county. He m. Mary, dau. of Isley, of Sundridge, co. Kent, and was s. by his son,

JOHN ASHBURNHAM, sheriff of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, anno 3 HENRY IV., and one of the Commissioners of Array in the co. of Sussex, anno 3 HENRY V. He m. Elizabeth Finch, and was s. by his only son,

THOMAS ASHBURNHAM, one of those of prime quality in the co. of Sussex, that made oath on behalf of himself and his retainers to observe the laws then made, anno 12 HENRY VI. He m. Sarah, dau. and heir of Henry Waunsey, lineally descended from Sir Nicholas de Wauncy, sheriff of the counties of Surrey and Sussex, anno 34 HENRY III., and had issue,

I. JOHN, his heir.
II. Richard, of Bromhead, co. Sussex, m. the dau. and heir of Sir John Stoneling, and was ancestor of Ashburnham, Bart. of Bromham.

Lineage.

This family, one of the most eminent in Scotland, was at one time invested with the absolute sovereignty of the Isle of Man. "Freskine," says Sir Robert Douglas, "a gentleman of Flemish origin, came into Scotland during the reign of David I., and obtained from that munificent sovereign the lands of Strathbrock, co. Linlithgow. Soon after the insurrection of the Moraymen, in 1130, Freskine, who probably contributed by his skill and bravery to the subdument of these ancient people, acquired from the same prince some of the most fertile districts in the lowlands of Moray, and built a fortalice at Duffus, where he resided, the massy ruins whereof are still remarkable." The descendant of this distinguished person,

Walter, inheriting his paternal lands at Moray, was distinguished by the surname of De Moravia, or Moray. From this Walter de Moravia, descended the Morays, Lords Bothwell, the Morays of Abercairny, and

Sir William de Moravia, who acquired the lands of Tullibardine with his wife, Adda, dau. of Malise, Seneschal of Strathern, as appears by charters dated in the years 1282 and 1284. He was s. by his son,

Andrew Murray, of Tullibardine. When Edward Baliol invaded Scotland, in 1332, this Andrew Murray, favouring his pretensions, contributed greatly to the decisive victory obtained by Baliol at Duplin, by fixing a stake in a ford in the river Earn, through which his army passed and attacked the Scots. This rendered Murray so obnoxious that, when he was made prisoner in a couple of months after, he was immediately put to death for his adhesion to Baliol. He left a son,

Sir William Murray, of Tullibardine, from whom lineally descended (the 5th in succession)

Sir William Murray, of Tullibardine, living in 1482 and 1511, who had, with other issue,

William, his successor.
Andrew (Sir), ancestor of the Viscounts Stormont.

Sir William was s. by his eldest surviving son,

William Murray, of Tullibardine, whose grandson,

Sir William Murray, of Tullibardine, m. in 1547, Lady Agnes Graham, dau. of William, 2nd Earl of Montrose, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir John Murray, 12th feudal Baron of Tullibardine, master of the household and one of the privy council of James VI., who was created Lord Murray of Tullibardine, 25 April, 1604, and 10 July, 1606, Earl of Tullibardine. His lordship m. Catharine, dau. of David, Lord Drummond, and had, with other issue,

William, his successor.
Patrick, of Castletown, afterwards Earl of Tullibardine.
Mungo, who became 2nd Viscount Stormont, but d. issueless.

The earl d. in 1609, and was s. by his eldest son,

William, 2nd earl, who, with his cousin, David, Viscount Stormont, when a very young man, had the good fortune to be instrumental in the rescue of the king, at Perth, from the attempt of the Earl Gowrie and his brother, in 1600. For this signal service he obtained the hereditary sheriffship of Perthshire, which has since continued in the family. His lordship m. 1st, in 1602, Cecilia, eldest dau. of Sir John Wemyss, of Wemyss, but had no issue; he m. 2ndly, Lady Dorothea Stewart, eldest dau. of John, 5th Earl of Athole (at whose decease, without male issue, the earldom of Athole reverted to the crown), by whom he had issue, John, who became Earl of Athole; and Mary, m. to Sir John Moncrieffe, of Moncrieffe, Bart. The earl, a short time before his decease, having petitioned Charles I., setting forth that his countess was the eldest dau. and heir of line of John, Earl of Athole, and that the family of Stewart of Innermeath, which had obtained the title at that nobleman's decease, had become extinct, the king graciously promised to revive the dignity in her posterity; when his lordship, wishing to prevent the junction of the earldoms of Athole and Tullibardine, and for the purpose of forming two noble families, resigned the latter dignity to the crown in favour of his brother, PATRICK MURRAY, which disposition was confirmed by patent under the great seal, anno 1629. The earldom of Tullibardine came back, however, to the Athole line, upon the demise of Earl Patrick's son, JAMES, 4th earl, who outlived his male issue. William, 2nd Earl of Tullibardine, d. in 1626, and was s. by his son,

JOHN MURRAY, who, on 6 Aug. 1628, was served heir to John, Earl of Athole, which service was confirmed by patent, 17 Feb. 1628-29, and he thus became 1st Earl of Athole of the house of Murray. His lordship m. Jane, dau. of Sir Duncan Campbell, of Glenurchy, and dying in 1642, was s. by his son,

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Athole, K.T., to whom reverted the earldom of Tullibardine, in 1670, upon the demise of his cousin James, mentioned above. His lordship was created Marquess of Athole, 17 Feb. 1676; he m. Lady Amelia-Sophia Stanley, only dau. of James, 7th Earl of Derby, by his wife Charlotte de la Tremouille,* the famous Countess of Derby (see post, DERBY E). The Marquess of Athole by this marriage had, with other children,

JOHN, his successor.

Charles, created Earl of Dunmore (See that dignity.)

William, who s. as second Lord Nairne, and having engaged in the rising of 1715, and being convicted of high treason, was condemned to death; but his life was subsequently spared, although his title was attainted. He m. Margaret, dau. of Robert, 1st Lord Nairne, by Margaret, dau. of Patrick Graham, of Inchbrakie, and d. in 1725, leaving with other issue,

JOHN, his heir.

Robert, m. Jean, heir of the ancient family of Mercer, of Aldie, in Perthshire. This gentleman, engaging in the insurrection of 1745, fell at the battle of Culloden, 16 April, 1746, leaving (with another son, James, who d. unm., and a dau. Margaret), a son (by assumption of his maternal surname), Col. William Mercer, who m. Margaret Murray, heir of Pitkethly, and whose only dau., Jane, m. George, Viscount Keith, and left a dau., MARGARET, late BARONESS KEITH.

The eldest son,

THE HON. JOHN NAIRNE, engaging in the insurrection of 1745, was attainted and d. in France in 1770. He m. his cousin, Lady Catherine Murray, 3rd dau. of Charles, 1st Earl of Dunmore, by whom he had five sons, all of whom d. unm. except the eldest,

JOHN NAIRNE, a lieut.-col. in the British service, who, but for the attainder, would have succeeded as 4th lord. Col. Nairne never, however, assumed the title. He m. Brabazon, dau. of Richard Wheeler, Esq. of Leyrath, in Ireland, and was s. by his only surviving son,

WILLIAM-MURRAY NAIRNE, who was restored to the honours of the family, as LORD NAIRNE, by act of parliament, 17 June, 1824. His lordship was b. in 1757; he m. in 1806, Caroline, dau. of Laurence Oliphant, Esq. of Gask, and had by her (who d. 27 Oct. 1845) an only son, WILLIAM, his heir. Lord Nairne d. 9 July 1830, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, Lord Nairne, b. in 1808; at whose decease unm. 7 Dec. 1837, a claim was raised to the title by the late MARGARET, BARONESS KEITH (see Peerages Extinct) whose eldest dau. EMILY-JANE, DOWAGER MARCHIONESS OF LANSDOWNE (see that title), inherited the claim to the BARONY OF NAIRNE.

His lordship d. in 1703, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 6th Earl of Tullibardine, 3rd Earl of Athole, and 2nd Marquess of Athole, who was created 30 July, 1703, Marquess of Tullibardine, and DUKE OF ATHOLE, with remainder, in default of male issue, to the sons of his deceased father. His grace m., 1st, Catherine, dau. of William and Anne, Duke and Duchess of Hamilton, by whom he had issue, six sons and a dau.; of which,

I. John, Marquess of Tullibardine, d. unm. in 1709.

II. William, who s. his brother as Marquess of Tullibardine, was one of the first that joined the Earl of Mar, in 1715, and proclaimed the Chevalier, for which act of high treason he was attainted by parliament. Escaping abroad, the marquess returned to Scotland, 1719, with the Spanish forces, joined the insurgents at Kintail, and was at the battle of Glenshiel. After the defeat there, his lordship escaped a second time to the Continent, where he lived in exile twenty-six years. In 1745, he landed with Prince CHARLES-EDWARD, at Boradaile, in Scotland, and continued with him until after the decisive battle of Culloden, when he fled to the westward, intending to embark for the isle of Mull; but his horse falling, he surrendered, 27 April, 1746, in a bad state of health, to Mr. Buchanan of Dummakill. He was eventually conveyed to London, and committed to the Tower, where he d. 9 July, 1746.

III. JAMES, who s. to the dukedom.

IV. Charles, a cornet of horse, joined the Chevalier in 1715, and had the command of a regiment. After the surrender of Preston, his lordship, being amongst the prisoners, was tried by a court-martial as a deserter, and sentenced to be shot; but he was reprieved, and d. s. p. in 1720.

V. George, who was with his brother, the Marquess of Tullibardine, at Kintail, and was wounded at the battle of Glenshiel. Going abroad, he was several years an officer in the Sardinian service, but obtaining a pardon, he returned home. Joining CHARLES-EDWARD, in 1745, he was appointed lieut.-gen. of the Prince's forces, acted as such at the battles of Preston, Falkirk, and Culloden, marched into England with them, and brought up the rear in their retreat thence. He was attainted by parliament, but made his escape, and was most graciously received by the Chevalier at Rome. His lordship m. Amelia, only surviving child and heiress of James Murray, of Glencarse and Strowan, and d. in 1766, leaving three sons and two daus., viz.,

1 JOHN, who succeeded as 3rd Duke of Athole.

1 Amelia, m. 1st. to John, 8th Lord Sinclair; and 2ndly, to James Farquharson, of Invercauld.

2 Charlotte, d. unm.

I. Susan, m. to William, Earl of Aberdeen.

The Duke of Athole m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of William, Lord Ross, by whom he had three other sons and a dau., viz.,

I. John, of Banner Cross, co. York, M.P. for Perthshire, a general officer, who d. 26 May, 1787, leaving an only dau., Mary, m. to Lieut-Gen. William Foxlowe, who assumed the surname of Murray in 1782, and d. 29 Aug. 1818.

II. Edward, whose son John, dean of Killaloe, m. Elizabeth, dau. of William Murray, 4th Earl of Dunmore, and d. in 1790, having had two daus.

III. Frederick, d. unm.

I. Mary, m. to James, 6th Earl of Findlater and Seafield.

His grace d. 14 Nov. 1724, and was s. by his 3rd son,

JAMES, 2nd duke, upon whom the family honours were settled by parliament. His grace being maternal, great-grandson of James, 7th Earl of Derby, upon the demise of James, 10th earl of that line, without issue, claimed and was allowed, the Barony of Strange, which had been conferred upon Lord Derby, by writ of summons, in 1628. The duke m. 1st, Jane, widow of James Lannoy, Esq. of Hammersmith, and youngest dau. of Thomas Frederick, Esq., eldest son of Sir John Frederick, Bart., by whom he had a son and two daus., the youngest of whom,

CHARLOTTE, surviving her brother and sister, succeeded, at the death of her father, to the barony of Strange, and the sovereignty of the Isle of Man. Her ladyship m. her cousin, JOHN MURRAY, Esq., who s. as 3rd Duke of Athole.

The duke m. 2ndly, Jean, dau. of John Drummond, Esq., but by that lady had no issue. He d. in 1764, when the Scottish honours devolved upon his nephew,

JOHN MURRAY, as 3rd duke (revert to Lord George Murray, son of the 1st duke). His grace m. Charlotte, only surviving child and heiress of James, his predecessor; and, in 1765, their graces disposed of their sovereignty of the Isle of Man (which they had derived from Sir John de Stanley, Knt., to whom it had been granted in 1406, by HENRY IV.) to the British Government for 70,000*l.*, reserving, however, their landed interest, on payment of 101*l.* 15*s.* 11*d.* annually, and rendering two falcons to the kings and queens of England upon the days of their coronation. The duke had,

I. JOHN, Marquess of Tullibardine, his successor.

II. George, Bishop of St. David's, b. in 1761; m. in 1780, Anne-Charlotte, dau. of Lieut.-General Francis Grant, and d. in 1803, leaving,

1 GEORGE, D.D., Bishop of Rochester, b. 12 Jan., 1784; consecrated bishop of Sodor and Man in 1814; and translated to the see of Rochester in 1827; m. 9 May, 1811, Lady-Sarah-Maria, 2nd dau. of Robert-Auriol, 9th Earl of Kinnoull, and d. 16 Feb. 1860, having had, by her, who d. 11 July, 1874.

George-Edward, rector of Southfleet, b. 1 Sept. 1818; m. 18 July, 1848, Penelope-Frances-Elizabeth-Pemberton, youngest dau. of Brigadier-General Austin, K.C.T.S., and d. 14 Sept. 1854, leaving issue, George-Herbert, b. 27 Sept. 1849, m. Sept. 1879, Helen-Mary, eldest dau. of John Mulholland, Esq., M.P. of Ballywalter Park, co. Down; Arthur-Mordaunt, b. 20 Jan. 1852; Douglas-Stuart (Rev.), b. 28 May, 1853; Alice-Lilian, m. 25 Jan. 1871, to Rev. John Duncan, Vicar of Calne; and Marian-Georgina.

Francis-Henry, rector of Chislehurst, Kent, b. 7 June, 1820; m. 1st, 29 Oct. 1846, Fanny-Catherine, 3rd dau. of John L. BACON.

Bacon, Sir Hickman-Beckett, of Redgrave, and of Mildenhall, both co. Suffolk, late lieut. grenadier guards, b. 14 April, 1855; s. his father as 11th bart. of Redgrave (Premier Baronet) and 12th bart. of Mildenhall, 14 Nov. 1872.

Lineage.

Various conjectures have been hazarded as to the origin of the surname of Bacon, but to little purpose. It matters not, however; the antiquity of the family is beyond dispute; and there are few houses in the kingdom more distinguished by the production of great and eminent men. Besides Friar Bacon, the marvel of his day, Sir Nicholas Bacon, and the great Lord Bacon, there were five other extraordinary personages of the same family.

Sir Nicholas Bacon, Knt., b. at Chiselhurst, in Kent, in 1510, becoming eminent at the bar, succeeded Nich. Heath, Archbishop of York, at the accession of Elizabeth, in the custody of the great seal, and was sworn of her majesty's privy council. The chief business of the first session of Elizabeth's reign was the settlement of religion, and the management of that important affair was committed almost wholly to the lord keeper, who pursued therein his wise maxim, "Let us stay a little, that we may have done the sooner." As a statesman, he was remarkable for a clear head and profound understanding. His great skill lay in balancing parties, and it is thought that the queen was indebted to him for that great secret of governing. Sir Nicholas m. 1st, Jane, dau. of William Fernley, Esq. of West Creting, co. Suffolk, by whom he had issue,

I. Nicholas (Sir), his successor.
II. Nathaniel (Sir), of Stiffkey, co. Norfolk, K.B., who became eminent as a painter, and some of his works are preserved at Culford, where he lived. He m. 1st, Anne, natural dau. of Sir Thomas Gresham, Knt., the celebrated founder of the Royal Exchange; and 2ndly, Dorothy, dau. of Sir George Hopton, Knt. By the former he left three daus. at his decease, his co-heirs, viz.,

1 Anne, m. to Sir Roger Townshend, of Rainham, co. Norfolk, ancestor of the Lords Townshend, to whom she brought the Stiffkey estate.
2 Elizabeth, m. to Sir Thomas Knyvet, of Ashwelthorp, co. Norfolk.
3 Winifred, m. to Sir Robt. Gawdy, of Claxton, co. Norfolk.

III. Edward, who m. Helen, dau. and heiress of Thomas Littel, Esq. of Shrubland Hall, co. Suffolk, and acquiring that estate, was designated therefrom. He was ancestor of the Bacons of Shrubland Hall, of Ipswich, and Earlham.
I. Anne, m. to Sir Henry Wodehouse, of Waxham, co. Norfolk.
II. Jane, m. 1st, to Sir Francis Windham, one of the justices of the Common Pleas; 2ndly, to Sir Robert Mansfield.
III. Elizabeth, m. 1st, to Sir Robert D'Oyley; 2ndly, to Sir Henry Nevil; and 3rdly, to Sir William Periam, lord chief baron of the Exchequer.

Sir Nicholas m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir Anthony Cooke, of Gidea Hall, co. Essex, and had two other sons, viz.,

Anthony, a man of very distinguished parts, and esteemed for his political knowledge, d. s. p., unm.
Francis, b. at York House, Strand, 22 January, 1560; educated at the University of Cambridge, where he made astonishing progress in all taught there; and when only fifteen, wrote against the Aristotelian philosophy. He went to the bar, and was appointed king's counsel, and soon after the accession of James I. honoured with knighthood. In 1613, he was constituted attorney-general, and sworn of the privy council. In 1617, Sir Francis was made Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, and the next year he was entitled Lord High Chancellor of England. Within a few months afterwards he was elevated to the peerage, 11 July, 1618, in the dignity of Baron Verulam; and he was created, 27 Jan. 1627, Viscount St. Albans. His lordship was subsequently convicted, upon his own confession, of corruption, in the exercise of his judicial functions, and sentenced to pay a fine of £40,000, to be imprisoned during the king's pleasure, and to be ever afterwards incapacitated from holding office under the crown. Having, in pursuance of this judgment, suffered a brief incarceration, and the fine being eventually remitted, he withdrew into retirement, and devoted the remainder of his life to the continuation of those "Essays" and other splendid literary works, which have handed down his universal genius to posterity. He m. Alice, dau. and co-heir of Benedict Barnham, Esq., an alderman of London, but d. 9 April, 1626, without issue, when his honours became extinct.

The Lord Keeper Bacon d. 20 Feb. 1579, and was s. by his eldest son,

I. Sir Nicholas Bacon, Knt., who, at the demise of his father, held several manors and advowsons in the cos. of Norfolk and Suffolk, from the crown. He was knighted by Elizabeth, in 1578, and was the first person advanced to the dignity of Baronet, 22 May, 1611; upon the institution of that order. Sir Nicholas had, by his wife, Anne, dau. and heiress of Edmund Butts, Esq., to whom (who d. in 1616) he was married fifty-two years, twelve children; of whom were (with three daus., Anne, wife of Sir Robert Drury, Knt.; Dorothy, the wife, 1st of Sir Bassingbourn Gawdy, Knt., and 2ndly, of Philip Colby, Esq.; and Jemima, who m. 1st, Sir William Waldegrave, Knt., and 2ndly, Henry Killigrew, Esq.),

I. Edmund, his successor.
II. Robert, successor to his brother.
III. Butts, of Mildenhall, in Suffolk, who was created a Baronet, 20 July, 1627, m. Dorothea, dau. of Sir Henry Warner, of Mildenhall, and widow of Robert Jermyn, Esq., and was s. in 1661, by his only surviving son,

Sir Henry Bacon. This gentleman removed to Herringfleet, in Suffolk, where his father had built a seat. He m. Barbara, dau. of William Gooch, Esq. of Mettingham, in that county, and was s. by his only son,
Sir Henry, who m. Sarah, dau. of Sir John Castleton, Bart., and was s. in 1686, by his son,
Sir Edmund, who m. 1st, Philippa, dau. of Sir Edmund Bacon, of Redgrave, and had three sons, Edmund, Henry, and Richard, 6th, 7th, and 8th baronets. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of John Castell, Esq. of Ravenningham, by whom he had, with a dau., Mary, wife of Philip Bedingfield, Esq., a son,

Castell, b. in 1713, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Dashwood, Esq. of Cley, Norfolk, and had two sons, Edmund, who s. as 9th baronet.

Dashwood, b. in 1752; m. Anne-Barbara, dau. of Ogilvie, of St. Christopher's, and d. in 1812, leaving issue.

Sir Edmund d. 10 July, 1721, and was s. by his eldest son,
Sir Edmund, M.P., who m. Susan, dau. of Sir Isaac Rebow, Knt. of Colchester, and had, with a dau., Susan, wife of Francis Schutz, Esq., an only son, his successor in 1738,
Sir Edmund, who d. unm. 1750, and was s. by his uncle,
Sir Henry, who likewise d. unm. in 1753, and was s. by his brother,
Sir Richard, of whom presently, as inheritor of the Redgrave baronetcy.

IV. Nicholas, m. 1st, Anne, dau. of Sir James Weston, one of the barons of the Exchequer, and had an only dau., Anne, who m. Sir John Rous, Bart. Mr. Nicholas Bacon m. 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Eustace D'Arcy, Esq., and had a son, Nicholas, of Gillingham, created a Baronet, 7 Feb. 1616, and dying in 1666, left two sons, Edward and Richard.

Lineage.

The ancestors of this family are recorded in Domesday Book, as holders of Bagot's Bromley, co. Stafford, under Robert de Stafford, founder of the old feudal house of Stafford, which terminated some time in the reign of RICHARD I. in an heir female. MILICENT DE STAFFORD, who conveyed the feudal barony to her husband, HENRY DE BAGOT (a younger branch of the family of which we are about to treat). Their son, HERVEY, assumed the surname of Stafford, and was progenitor of the succeeding Barons and Earls of Stafford, and Dukes of Buckingham. (See BURKE'S Rise of Great Families.) Of this Hervey the following account is given in Memorials of the Bagot Family, compiled in 1823, by the late Lord Bagot:—

"It has long appeared a matter of doubt who the Hervey Bagot was, that, in the reign of RICHARD I., m. Milicent de Stafford, sister and sole heir to Robert, the last Baron Stafford. Hervey Bagot is always styled a younger son of the House of Bagot, but whether of Bagot's Bromley (the head branch of the family), or of Hyde (another branch), has seemed doubtful to many antiquarians. Erdeswick thinks he was of Bagot's Bromley; Mr. Chetwynd endeavours to prove that he was of Hyde; and Sir William Dugdale only styles him 'a gentleman of ancient family in those parts.' After the most attentive and repeated examination of every document bearing upon the subject of this Hervey Bagot's descent, it is evident, almost to demonstration, that he must have been the brother of Simon Bagot, of Bromley; and consequently, like him, in the third generation from the Bagot who held that manor at the time of the Domesday survey."

The pedigree of the family, in the possession of the family, attested by Sir William Dugdale and Gregory King, of the College of Arms, "and supported by a most extraordinary mass of original deeds and other family muniments," according to the memorial already quoted, deduces the lineal descent from Bagod, Lord of Bromley, who held the lands from Robert de Stafford, as mentioned in Domesday Book, to

SIR RALPH BAGOT, Knt., who, in the time of EDW. II., m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Richard de Blithfield, of a very ancient family seated on a manor of that name, within two miles of his residence at Bagot's Bromley. With this heiress, Sir Ralph became possessed of the estates at Blithfield and Littlehay, in Colton, which had been in the lady's family from the Conquest; and he removed, most probably, from his own seat to that of Blithfield, where his descendants continue to reside. From this Sir Ralph the pedigree carries on the line to

HERVEY BAGOT, Esq. (eldest surviving son and heir of Walter Bagot, Esq. of Blithfield and Bagot's Bromley, co. Stafford, and Elizabeth his wife, dau. of Roger Cave, Esq.), b. 8 Feb. 1590, and created a Baronet 30 May, 1627, the year after that in which he had served the office of sheriff for the co. Stafford. This gentleman suffered much during the usurpation, for his attachment to the royal cause. He m. twice, and was s. at his decease, in Dec. 1660, by his eldest son (by Katherine, dau. of Humphrey Adderley, Esq. of Weddington, co. Warwick),

SIR EDWARD, M.P. for the co. Stafford, in the Restoration parliament, who m. Mary, dau. of William Lambard, Esq., and relict of John Crawley, Esq. (son and heir of Sir John Crawley, Knt., one of the justices of the court of Common Pleas), by whom he had twelve sons and five daus. He d. 30 May, 1673, and was s. by his 3rd and eldest surviving son,

SIR WALTER, who represented the co. Stafford in seven parliaments. He m. Jane, dau. and sole heir of Charles Salusbury, Esq. of Bachymbydd, co. Denbigh; and dying 15 Feb. 1704, was s. by his eldest surviving son,

SIR EDWARD, b. 21 Jan. 1673, M.P. for the co. Stafford, who m. Frances, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Wagstaffe, Knt. of Tachbrooke, co. Warwick, and dying in 1712, was s. by his only surviving son, BAIRD.

BAIRD, SIR DAVID, of Newbyth, co. Haddington, b. 1832, late 74th Highlanders, made brevet-major for services on Lord Clyde's staff during Indian mutiny; s. his father as 3rd baronet, Jan. 1852; m. 15 June, 1864, Hon. Ellen, 2nd dau. of Charles, 12th Lord Blantyre, and has issue,

I. DAVID, b. 6 May, 1865.
II. A son, b. 20 March, 1879.
I. Evelyn, b. 1871.
II. Hilda, b. 22 April, 1875.

Lineage.

The family of Baird is of remote antiquity in North Britain. There is a tradition relating to it which states, that WILLIAM THE LION, while hunting in one of the south-west counties, happening to straggle from his attendants, was alarmed by the approach of a wild boar, and calling out for assistance, a gentleman of the name of Baird, who had followed the king, came up, and had the good fortune to slay the object of the monarch's alarm: for this signal service, WILLIAM conferred upon his deliverer large grants of land, and assigned him for his coat of arms, a boar passant, and for his motto, "Dominus fecit;" which arms are to be seen upon an ancient monument of the Bairds of Auchmedden, in the churchyard of Banff.

GEORGE BAIRD, of Auchmedden, co. Aberdeen, chief of the clan, who was living in 1568, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander Keith, of Troup, brother to the Earl Marischal, and was father of

GILBERT BAIRD, of Auchmedden, m. in 1570, Lilias, dau. and heir of Walter Baird, of Ordinhivas, and had a numerous issue, of which the eldest son, GEORGE, of Auchmedden, was ancestor of the BAIRDS of that place, now represented by FRASER OF FINDRACH (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry); and the 4th son, James, founded the houses of Newbyth and Saughton Hall. This

JAMES BAIRD was a commissary of the Ecclesiastical Court in the time of CHARLES I. He had two sons,

JOHN (Sir), a lord of session, under the title of Lord Newbyth, father of WILLIAM, created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1695, whose son and successor, JOHN (Sir), 2nd bart., d. s. p. in 1746, when the title expired. He had entailed his estates upon his cousin, William Baird.
Robert (Sir), of Saughton Hall.

The younger son of James Baird,

SIR ROBERT BAIRD, of Saughton Hall, in Mid-Lothian, created a Baronet of Nova Scotia in 1695-6, had, with other issue, JAMES, his successor, and WILLIAM BAIRD, a merchant, and one of the baillies of Edinburgh, who was father of

WILLIAM BAIRD, Esq., heir to his cousin, Sir John Baird, Bart. of Newbyth. He m. Alicia, 4th dau. of Johnston, of Hiltown, co. Berwick, by whom he had, with other issue (there were in all six sons and eight daus.),

I. ROBERT, of Newbyth, his successor, who m. 1st, his cousin, a dau. of Johnston, of Hiltown, which lady d. s. p. He m. 2ndly, about 1790, Hersey-Christina-Maria, 2nd dau. of David Gavin, Esq. of Langton, co. Berwick, by Elizabeth his wife, sister of James, 7th Earl of Lauderdale, and d. 10 June, 1828, having by her (who d. July, 1829) had issue.
  1 DAVID, 2nd bart., who succeeded his uncle.
  2 William, deceased.
  3 John, R.N., midshipman, died a few days after the attack on Algiers, of a wound on the head, Sept. 1806.
  4 Wynne, who m. a dau. of Col. Cerjat, of Switzerland, and left one son, Robert-Henry, and a dau. deceased.
  5 James, deceased.
  1 Elizabeth, m. 1817, to Lt.-Col. William Wauchope, of Niddrie, Mid-Lothian, and has had issue.
  2 Christina-Maria-Hersey, m. 25 July, 1833, to William-Henry, present Viscount Strathallan, and d. 14 Feb. 1867.
II. DAVID, of whom hereafter.
III. Joseph, maj.-gen. in the army, d. at the Cape of Good Hope, 4 April, 1816. He had m. in 1802, Esther-Charlotte, dau. of William, Lord Riversdale, and left William; Charlotte, m. to Sir Anthony-Coningham Sterling, K.C.B., and d. 10 April, 1863; Alicia, m. to Capt. Andrew Wauchope, of Niddrie; and other children.
I. Mary, m. in 1770, to John Erskine, Esq. of Dun, co. Angus, and was mother of Margaret, Marchioness of Ailsa.
II. Catherine, m. to James Renney, Esq. III. Janet.
IV. Alicia, m. 16 Sept. 1776, to Capt. Andrew Wauchope of Niddrie.
V. Susan, m. 1806, to Lieut.-Col. H. Cerjat, and d. 30 April, 1832.
VI. Anne, m. 1790, to George Gordon, Esq. of Halhead.
VII. Charlotte, m. in 1782, to George, Lord Haddo, and d. 8 Oct. 1795.

The second in the above list, but the 5th son,

I. DAVID BAIRD, K.C.B., P.C., b. at Newbyth, 6 Dec. 1757, entered the British service at fifteen years of age, and achieved high military fame. He repeatedly distinguished himself in India, and pre-eminently at the taking of Seringapatam, 4 May, 1799, when he headed the storming-party, and led them on to victory. Sir David Baird, was commander-in-chief at the capture of the Cape of Good Hope; and his achievements in Egypt procured him the Order of the Bath from his own sovereign, and the insignia of the Crescent from the Sultan. At the bombardment of Copenhagen, he was wounded in the shoulder; and in the battle of Corunna lost an arm, soon after the fall of the gallant Sir John Moore. Sir David, who also held command in Ireland, attained the rank of general in the army, and was col. of the 24th foot. He was created a Baronet, 13 April, 1809, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his eldest brother, Robert Baird, Esq. of Newbyth, co. Haddington, and his heirs male. He m. 4 Aug. 1810, Miss Preston Campbell, of Fern Tower and Locklane, co. Perth; but d. without issue, at his seat, Ferntower, Scotland (his widow survived till 28 May, 1847) 18 Aug. 1829, when the baronetcy devolved, according to the limitation, upon his nephew,

II. SIR DAVID, b. in 1795, who m. 10 Aug. 1821, Lady Anne Kennedy, eldest dau. of Archibald, Marquess of Ailsa, and by her (who d. 2 Nov. 1877), had issue,

BALFOUR.

Balfour of Burleigh, Lord (Alexander-Hugh Bruce), in the Peerage of Scotland, and one of the Representative Peers, J.P. and D.L., capt. Stirlingshire militia, b. 13 Jan. 1849, educated at Eton and Oriel College, Oxford, where he graduated 2nd class, 1871. He m. 21 Nov. 1876, Lady Katherine-Eliza Gordon, youngest dau. of the late Earl of Aberdeen, and has issue, Mary, b. 24 Aug. 1877.

Jane-Hamilton, b. 18 March, 1879.

His lordship inherits the title of Baron Balfour of Burleigh as 6th baron, being heir of the body of Sir Michael Balfour. The Committee for Privileges, House of Lords, resolved, 21 July, 1868, that Mr. Robert Bruce, of Kennet, father of the present Lord Balfour, had made out his claim, and would be entitled to the honour and dignity of Baron Balfour of Burleigh, were it not for the attainder of Robert, Lord Balfour. A subsequent act, dated 19 March, 1869, was passed, removing the attainder.

Lineage.

Sir John Balfour, Knt. of Balgarvie, had a grant of the lands of Burleigh, which were erected into a free barony, from King James II., in the 9th year of His Majesty's reign, anno 1445–46. From him lineally descended

Michael Balfour, of Burleigh, who m. Christina, dau. of John Bethune, of Creich, and had an only child, his sole heir,

Margaret Balfour, who m. Sir James Balfour,* Knt. of Pittendreich and Monquhany, co. Fife; a gentleman who enacted an important part during the turbulent reigns of the unfortunate Mary and her son, James VI., and was at one time president of the Court of Session. He d. in 1584. By Margaret his wife (who m. 2ndly, Sir Robert Melville, and d. 1590), he had, with three daus., six sons, i. Michael, of whom presently; ii. James (Sir), created in 1619, by James VI., Lord Balfour, Baron of Glenawley co. Fermanagh; iii. Alexander, of Balgarvie, from whom several families of that name are descended; iv. Henry, general in the army of the States of Holland, served with reputation under the Prince of Orange; v. William, m. Hamilton, heiress of Glenawley, assumed her name, and one of their descendants was created Lord Glenawley; vi. David, captain in his brother, Sir Henry's regiment, perished at sea, going over to Holland. The eldest son,

Sir Michael Balfour, of Burleigh, ambassador to the Duke of Tuscany and Lorraine, in 1606, was created, by letters patent, 7 Aug in that year, Lord Balfour, of Burleigh. He was subsequently sworn of the privy council

He m. 1st, Margaret Adamson; and 2ndly, Margaret, dau. of Lundie, of Lundie; and by the latter left at his decease, 1619, a dau., his sole heiress,

MARGARET BALFOUR, who m. Robert, son of Robert Arnot, of Newton, chamberlain of Fife, which Robert assumed, on his marriage, the surname of BALFOUR, and enjoyed the title of Lord Balfour, of Burleigh, sitting in parliament as a baron. At the meeting of parliament in 1640, he was chosen president thereof for the session, and continued in the office till 1641. He was one of the commissioners for the treaty of peace with England, 1640 and 1641, and was one of the privy councillors constituted "ad vitam aut culpam" by the parliament of Scotland, 13 Nov. 1641. His lordship was much engaged in the subsequent public transactions, and was one of the peers who opposed "the engagement" to march into England for the rescue of the king. He d. at Burleigh, 10 Aug. 1663, having had by Margaret his wife (who d. at Edinburgh, in June, 1639), one son and four daus. The son and heir,

JOHN BALFOUR, 3rd Lord Balfour of Burleigh, m. 1649, Isabella, dau. of Sir William Balfour, of Pitcullo, lieutenant of the Tower of London, and d. before 1697, having had issue,

I. ROBERT, his heir.
II. John, of Fernie, ancestor of (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry) FRANCIS-WALTER BALFOUR, of Fernie, who claimed unsuccessfully, as heir male, the title of Lord Balfour, of Burleigh.
III. Henry, of Dunbog, major of dragoons, father of Henry Balfour, of Dunbog.
I. Margaret, m. to Andrew, 3rd Lord Rollo, and had issue.
II. Isabel, d. unm.
III. Emilia, m. to Sir John Malcolm, of Innertiel.
IV. Jean, m. 1st. to Oliphant, of Gask, Perthshire; and 2ndly, to Sir Robert Douglas, of Kirkness.
V. Susan, m. to Robert Douglas, of Strathendry.
VI. Anne, m. to Capt. Robert Sinclair, and d. s. p.

The eldest son,

ROBERT BALFOUR, Lord Balfour of Burleigh, m. Lady Margaret Melvill, only dau. of George, 1st Earl of Melvill; and dying in 1713, left issue,

I. ROBERT, Master of Burleigh, who was tried for the murder of Henry Stenhouse, a schoolmaster, at Inverkeithing, in the high court of justiciary, 4 Aug. 1709, and sentenced 29 Nov. to be beheaded 6 Jan. 1710, but he escaped from prison a few days preceding by exchanging clothes with his sister. He was present at a meeting at Lochmaben 29 May, 1714, when the Pretender's health was publicly drunk at the cross; and he engaged in the rebellion the following year, for which he was ATTAINTED by act of parliament. He d. without issue in 1757.
I. Margaret, d. unm. at Edinburgh, 12 March, 1769.
II. MARY, m. in 1714, brigadier-general Alexander Bruce, of Kennet; and d. 7 Nov. 1758, leaving issue a dau., Margaret, m. Sir Lawrence Dundas; and a son, ROBERT BRUCE.

The grandson of Robert, Lord Balfour,

ROBERT BRUCE, Esq. of Kennet (for whose LINEAGE see below), the attainted Master of Burleigh's sister's son, a lord of session by the title of Lord Kennet; m. Helen, dau. of George Abercromby, Esq. of Tullibody, and d. 1785, leaving,

ALEXANDER BRUCE, Esq. of Kennet, who m. Hugh, dau. of Hugh Blackburn, Esq. of Glasgow, and dying 1808, left an eldest son and heir,

ROBERT BRUCE, Esq. of Kennet, M.P. for co. Clackmannan, b. 8 Dec. 1795; who m. 1st, 1825, Anne, dau. of William Murray, Esq. of Touchadam and Polmaise, by whom he had no issue; and 2ndly, 1848, Jane-Hamilton, dau. of Sir James Fergusson, Bart., by whom he left at his decease, 13 Aug. 1864, a son, the present ALEXANDER-HUGH, LORD BALFOUR of Burleigh; and a dau., Henrietta-Anne, to whom Her Majesty, by warrant dated 6 May, 1870, granted the rank and precedence of a Baron's daughter, m. 26 Nov. 1874, to Claud-H. Hamilton, Esq., Preston Hall, Midlothian, and has issue.

BANNERMAN.

BANNERMAN, SIR GEORGE, of Elsick, co. Kincardine, b. 1827; s. as 10th baronet, on the death of his cousin, 21 April, 1877; m. 1869, Anne-Mary, eldest dau. of the late Richard Brooke, Esq., F.S.A., of Liverpool, and of Handford, Cheshire, and has issue,

ALEXANDER, b. 16 Dec. 1871.
Eleanor.

Lineage.

The surname of Bannerman was derived, it is said, from the office of hereditary royal standard-bearer.

The first existing charter belonging to this family is from DAVID II. to Donald de Bannerman, conferring the estates of Clyntrys, Achronies, Waterton, and Waltown, dated 1366; and subsequently, a charter of confirmation, dated 1368, of certain lands adjoining.

In 1387, Alexander Bannerman received a charter of confirmation in the estate of Elsick, from ROBERT II., dated Scone, in the 17th of his reign.

Owing to the turbulence of succeeding times and the loss of family papers and charters, there have not been found any documents to trace the immediate line of the family.

In 1452, Alexander Bannerman, of Elsick, witnesses a charter as one of JAMES II.'s Equites Scuti; he also succeeded to the lands of Wattertown, and the family is designated of Elsick and Wattertown, until 1611, when they seem to have sold Wattertown.

In 1512, Alexander Bannerman, of Elsick and Wattertown, was sheriff of Aberdeenshire.

In 1586, his grandson, Alexander Bannerman, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Johnston of that ilk, by whom he had issue, Margaret, m. in 1608, to George Gordon, of Haddo (ancestor of the Aberdeen family); and a son, ALEXANDER BANNERMAN, who s. him. He m. 1st, Margaret, dau of Forbes, of Tolquhon; and 2ndly, Marjory, dau. of Sir John Leslie, of Wardes. He was s. by his son by the first marriage,

ALEXANDER BANNERMAN, who m. 1633, Marion, dau. of Hamilton of East Binning.

These three Alexander Bannermans, of Elsick, are always designated as Knights. The last, in a bond of provision for his younger children, states that Sir George Hamilton, of Tullyallan, had become bound to convey the lands of Elsick to him in life-rent, and to his eldest son in fee. And in 1652 the commissioners of forfeited and sequestered estates in Scotland, gave judgment in these words: "Upon hearing a petition from Hamilton of Binning, setting forth that his lands of Elsick had been wrongeously sequestered for Alexander Bannerman, then a prisoner, &c. &c., grant their warrant to withdraw the sequestration on the said lands, the said Alexander Bannerman being only tenant therein;" from which and other papers it would appear that, by a conveyance (a plan often adopted in Scotland), the estate was saved from forfeiture. By this marriage with Marion Hamilton there were four sons and four daus.,

ALEXANDER, created a Baronet, 1682.
George, a lawyer, solicitor to the crown.
Mary, m. to Leslie of Findrassie.
Robert, a clergyman: he lost his living in 1689, for refusing to take the oaths to King WILLIAM.
Margaret, m. to Sir Alexander Keith, of Ludquharn.
John, an officer in JAMES II.'s guards, whom he followed to St. Germains.
Elizabeth. Jane.

The eldest son,

I. SIR ALEXANDER BANNERMAN, of Elsick, was created a Baronet by CHARLES II., on account, as the patent says, of his constant loyalty during the rebellion, and of the heavy calamities he had suffered on that account. He m. Margaret, 2nd dau. of Patrick Scott, of Thirlstane, and left issue,

BARNEWALL.

BARNEWALL, SIR REGINALD-AYLMER-JOHN-DE-BARNEVAL, of Crickstown Castle, co. Meath, b. 16 Feb. 1838; s. his father as 8th baronet, at his birth.

Lineage.

This family, whose surname was anciently written "De Barneval," "Bernevale," and "Barnewall," is the parent stock from which the noble houses of Kingsland and Trimlestown branched. It was established in Ireland in 1172, under Strongbow, Earl of Pembroke.

SIR MICHAEL DE BERNEVAL, Knt., the first settler, joined the English expedition with three armed ships, and effected a descent upon Beerhaven, co. Cork, previously to the landing of his chief, Earl Strongbow, in Leinster. Sir Michael is mentioned in the records at the Tower of London as one of the leading captains in the enterprise; and in the reigns of HENRY II. and of RICHARD I. he was lord, by tenure, of Beerhaven and Bantry. From this gallant and successful soldier, we pass to

SIR ULPHRAM DE BERNEVALE, Knt., tenth in descent, first possessor of Crickstown Castle and estate, and the founder of what is to this day termed, the "Crickstown branch" of the family. The great grandson of this Sir Ulphram,

ULPHRAM DE BERNEVAL (fourth of the same christian name), m. a dau. of Lord Furnival, and left three sons, CHRISTOPHER (Sir), his heir.

John, ancestor of the Viscounts Kingsland.
Barnaby (Sir), an eminent lawyer, and lord-chief baron.

The eldest son,

SIR CHRISTOPHER BARNEWALL (as the name began then to be spelt) succeeded to the patrimonial estate of Crickstown; and was, in 1445 and 1446, chief-justice of the court of King's Bench, and lord high-treasurer of Ireland. He m. Matilda, dau. of Sir — Drake, of Drakerath, and had two sons; the younger,

Robert, was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 4 March, 1461, as Baron Trimleston;

while the elder,

SIR NICHOLAS BARNEWALL, s. his father, and having been brought up to the profession of the law was appointed, in consideration of his good and faithful services to the house of York, during the war of the Roses, chief-justice of the court of Common Pleas, in Ireland, for life, by patent, dated 1 Aug. 1461. He m. Ismay, dau. of Sir John Serjeant, of Castleknock, near Dublin, and was s. by his eldest son,

CHRISTOPHER BARNEWALL, of Crickstown, who m. Ellen, dau. of Peter, Lord Dunboyne; and from him we pass to his descendant,

I. SIR PATRICK BARNEWALL, Knt. of Crickstown Castle (twelfth in lineal descent from the first possessor of that estate, and the twenty-first from his Anglo-Norman ancestor, who had settled in Ireland, temp. HENRY II.), who was created a BARONET OF IRELAND, 22 Feb. 1622. He m. Cecilia le Fleming, dau. of William, Lord of Slane; and had, with other children,

RICHARD, his successor.
John (Sir), a distinguished lawyer, and one of the barons of the Exchequer in 1668. Sir John, m. Thomazine, dau. of Anthony, Viscount Tarah, and left an only dau., Mary, m. to Lord Trimlestown.
James, ancestor of the present baronet.

Sir Patrick d. 21 June, 1624, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. SIR RICHARD, b. 21 Dec. 1602. This gentleman suffered severely during the Cromwellian usurpation; and of the extensive possessions then wrested from him he obtained restitution, after the re-establishment of the monarchy, only of his castle, and 2000 acres of land adjoining thereto. Sir Richard m. Anne, dau. of Lawrence Dowdall, Esq. of Athlumney, co. Meath, and left (with other issue, of whom Elinor was m. to Randall, 21st Baron of Slane), PATRICK, his successor, and John, ancestor to the 5th baronet. He d. soon after the Restoration, and was s. by his eldest son

III. SIR PATRICK, M.P. for Meath in 1689 and 1690. This gentleman inherited, in virtue of the act of limitation, the mansion of Crickstown, and the 2000 acres of land appending thereto; he enjoyed also a pension from the crown of £150 per annum. Sir Patrick m. Frances, dau of the Hon. Richard Butler, of Kilcash, co. Tipperary, and granddau. of Walter, 11th Earl of Ormonde, and was s. by his only son,

IV. SIR GEORGE, who d. without issue, 22 Oct. 1735, when his estates passed to his three sisters, as co-heiresses; and thus the male branch of the family was deprived of the castle and manor of Crickstown, of which it had been in possession uninterruptedly for fifteen generations. The baronetcy devolved upon the next male heir,

V. SIR GEORGE (grandson of John Barnewall, 2nd son of Sir Richard, the 2nd baronet). This gentleman, upon the demise of his kinsman, returned to Ireland, from Germany, where he had resided, and, after establishing his right, retired again to the Continent, in 1744, where he d. s. p.

From the period of the decease of Sir George, the baronetcy remained dormant, until revived, Nov. 1821, in favour of the late SIR ROBERT BARNEWALL, by a full recognition of his right by the Office of Arms in Ireland.

The immediate line of this gentleman we shall now trace.

JAMES BARNEWALL, Esq., 4th son of the 1st baronet, left an only son and heir,

BARTHOLOMEW BARNEWALL, Esq. of Ballyhost, co. Westmeath, who m. Jane, dau. of Kidagh Geoghegan, Esq. of Castletown-Geoghegan, in the same co.; and, dying in 1732, was s. by his eldest son,

ROBERT BARNEWALL, Esq. of Moyrath, co. Meath. This gentleman m. Bridget, widow of Richard Barnewall, Esq. of Moyrath, in the same co., and dau. of Henry Piers, Esq. of Lisloughan, and had,

I. BARTHOLOMEW, his successor.

III. Florence.

Lineage.

The family of BARRINGTON is of undoubted Norman origin; that of SHUTE is of Dutch or Danish extraction The branch now represented by Lord Barrington was settled at Hockington, in Cambridgeshire. Papers at Beckett say that a member of the family was one of the twelve judges temp. Queen ELIZABETH, and the mother of Sir Christopher Hatton, K.B., of Kirby, was Jane, dau. of Robert Shute, a Baron of the Exchequer.

JOHN SHUTE, Esq., barrister-at-law (only surviving son of Benjamin Shute, Esq.), inherited, by will, although unallied, and but slightly known to the testator, the estate of John Wildman, Esq. of Becket, co. Berks, Mr. Wildman declaring that the only reason he had for making Mr. Shute his heir was, that he considered him the most worthy of all his acquaintance of adoption, after the manner of the Romans, a mode of settling property which he had always approved. In a few years afterwards, Mr. Shute obtained another property by settlement—that of Francis Barrington, Esq. of Tofts, co. Essex, who had m. his cousin, Elizabeth, dau. of Samuel Shute, sheriff of London, and d. without issue. In pursuance of this settlement, Mr. Shute assumed, by act of parliament, the surname and arms of BARRINGTON. He was returned twice to parliament for Berwick-upon-Tweed; but, on the last return, in 1722, the Commons taking into consideration the Harborough lottery, came to a resolution that the honourable member had promoted and carried on that fraudulent undertaking, and therefore expelled him the House, 15 Feb. 1722. He had previously been elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 1 July, 1720, by the titles of Baron Barrington, of Newcastle, co. Dublin, and VISCOUNT BARRINGTON, of Ardglass, co. Down. His lordship m. Anne, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Daines, by whom he had issue,

Lineage.

The Barons of Burnchurch, in the county of Kilkenny, were, it is asserted on strong presumptive evidence, to have been a branch of FitzGerald of Desmond, and—to distinguish themselves—were in the habit of adding the word "Baron" to their patronymic. Being royalists, they lost their estates by confiscation, temp. CROMWELL, and the head of the family entered foreign service.

RICHARD FITZGERALD, alias BARRON, of Burnchurch, who was thus deprived of his lands, appointed (by his will, dated 7 July, 1645) his father-in-law, Robert Forstall, guardian to his two children; these having d. without issue, the representation of the family devolved upon his nephew (son of his brother Edward), viz.:

CAPTAIN JAMES FITZGERALD, alias BARRON, who, after having served under the Prince de Condé, in France, returned to Ireland with Colonel Dempsey and others, and petitioned for the restoration of the barony and lands of Burnchurch (See Treasury Office, Dublin); but his claim, like those of many other of the royalist Irish families, was never decided on. He subsequently settled in the co. of Waterford, and there married Slany Ni Brien, of the house of Thomond, only child of Donald More O'Brien, the great Donald O'Brien, of Cummeragh and Abbeyside Castle, by whom he had issue, who spread themselves over the county of Waterford, and relinquishing entirely the old name of Fitzgerald, assumed that of Barron; amongst those were two sons,

I. WILLIAM, whose male line is extinct; his great-grand-dau., FANNY BARRON, marrying James Bagge, Esq., was mother of FANNY BAGGE, who m. Thomas Wyse, Esq. of the Manor of St. John's, Waterford, and was mother of the late Rt. Hon. Sir Thomas Wyse, K.C.B., Minister at the Court of Athens.

Wilts, and a Baronet, b. 1 March, 1831; s. his father, as 4th marquess, 24 June, 1837; m. 20 Aug. 1861, Frances-Isabella-Catherine, eldest dau. of Thomas, 3rd Viscount de Vesci, and has,

I. THOMAS-HENRY, Viscount Weymouth, b. 15 July, 1862.
II. John-Boteville, b. 27 May, 1867.
III. Alexander-George, b. 17 Feb. 1873.
I. Alice-Emma. II. Katherine-Georgina-Louisa.
III. Beatrice (twin with her brother John).

Lineage.

It appears, from documents in possession of this family, that its ancient surname was Boteville; and under that name that it enjoyed lands in the manor of Stretton, in Shropshire for many generations, from the time of King JOHN; in whose reign, the brothers, Sir Geoffrey and Oliver Boteville, persons of great eminence and rank in Poitou, came over to England, according to Matthew Paris, in order to assist the king against his rebellious barons. The surname of Thynne, is said to have originated with John Botevile, who from residing in one of the Inns of Court, was denominated, "John o' Th'Inne," and thence "Thynne."

SIR GEOFFRY BOTEVILLE, was the first that settled at Stretton on the lands given him by the Earl of Arundel (William d'Albini), which have been ever since called Boteville's Lye. This Sir Geoffry was, by King JOHN, constituted governor of Belvoir Castle, in Lincolnshire, which had been taken from that Earl. In the said parish of Stretton did this family reside, from the said Sir Geoffry's time, till Sir John Thynne, the elder, settled at Longleate, in Wiltshire, retaining still his ancient lands in Shropshire.

WILLIAM BOTEVILE, his son, departed this life A.D. 1256, leaving a son, JOHN, whose name is recorded, in an old roll, among the knights of Shropshire, who attended at the siege of Caerlaverock Castle. This Sir John Botevile had two sons, Hugh Botevile-Chaplain, who had livery and seisin of his father's lands in Stretton, and paid his relief for the same, 35 EDWARD III., and THOMAS, of whose line we treat. This THOMAS BOTEFELD, who had livery and seisin of lands in Stretton, 30 EDWARD III., 1356, left, by Sibilla his wife, a son, RICHARD, who d. in 1416, leaving a son,

THOMAS BOTEVILE, who had two sons, WILLIAM and JOHN; from the latter descended the BOTEVYLES of Botevyles.

WILLIAM had a son, RICHARD, who was father of JOHN BOTEVILE, called, from his residence in one of the Inns of Court, John of Th'Inne, and thence came the name of Thynne as now used. This John, according to Francis Thynne, Esq., Lancaster Herald, m. Joan, dau. of — Boulder. The issue of the said John of Th'Inne (who flourished in the reign of King EDWARD IV.) were, 1 Ralph Botevile (alias Thynne); 2 Roger; and 3 Thomas.

ROGER, the 2nd son, was father of two daus., viz., Elizabeth, the wife of Richard Heynes, or Eynes, of Stretton, in Shropshire, and Margaret; and also of a son, William, the father of Thomas Thynne, of Doverell, in Wiltshire, who m. Elizabeth, dau. of — Done, and was alive in the year 1625, being then very old.

RALPH BOTEVILE, or Thynne, the eldest son of the said John of Th'Inne, m. Anne (or Joan, according to some pedigrees), dau. of John Higgons, of Stretton, and had,

THOMAS, his successor.
William, master of the household to HENRY VIII., who collected and published the works of Chaucer, with notes, 1542. He was father of FRANCIS THYNNE, Lancaster Herald.

Ralph Thynne was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS THYNNE, of Stretton, who m. Margaret, dau., and at length heiress, of Thomas Eynes, Esq. of Stretton, (which lady was granddau., maternally, of Humphrey Gatacre, Esquire of the body to HENRY VI., who was descended, through females, from Sir Richard Pembruge, K.G. (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry). Thomas Thynne was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN THYNNE. This gentleman laid the foundation, in Jan. 1567, of the magnificent mansion at Longleat, co. Wilts, from which time the building was carried on until 1579, so that twelve entire years were consumed in its erection. This is said to be the first well-built house in the kingdom. Sir John Thynne m. 1st, Christian, dau. of Sir Richard Gresham, Knt., lord mayor of London, and sister and heir of Sir Thomas Gresham, who founded and endowed Gresham College, and built the Royal Exchange, by whom he had issue,

Lineage.

The Bathursts are stated to have come into England in the time of the Saxons, from a place called Batters, in the duchy of Luneburg. They gained a settlement near Battle, co. Sussex, which they called Batters-hurst, which name was eventually contracted to Bathurst.

LAWRENCE BATHURST was, it is asserted, attainted by EDWARD IV., and deprived of his Sussex property. He retired to Cranbrook, co. Kent, and had an only son, LAWRENCE BATHURST, of Canterbury and Cranbrook, who was father of another LAWRENCE BATHURST, of Canterbury, Cranbrook, and Staplehurst, co. Kent, who m. a dau. of Robert Chapman, BEAUMONT.

BEAUMONT, BARON (Henry Stapleton), late lieut. 1st life guards, a Knight of Justice of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem, and Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Holy Sepulchre, decorated also with the orders of Military Merit by the King of Bavaria, and by the Grand Dukes of Baden and Mecklenburg, b. 11 Aug. 1848; s. his father 16 Aug. 1854.

Lineage.

The BARONY of BEAUMONT was conferred by writ of summons by King EDWARD II., in the 2nd year of his reign (4 March, 1309), upon HENRY DE BEAUMONT (in all probability a grandson of John de Brienne, last King of Jerusalem), one of the companions in arms of EDWARD I. in Scotland, who had attained the favour of the new monarch, and was subsequently a man of great power, influence, and wealth. From this nobleman we pass to his descendants,

JOHN, 6th Baron Beaumont, who was created Viscount Beaumont (the first person honoured with the title of Viscount in England), 12 Feb. 1440. His lordship was a knight of the Garter, had a patent of precedency above all other viscounts, and was subsequently constituted lord high chamberlain of England. He m. Elizabeth, Lady Bardolf, dau. and heir of Sir William Phelip, by Joan, Lady Bardolf, and had issue

JOHN, who d. before his father, s. p.

WILLIAM, who inherited the honours.

Joane, who m. John, Lord Lovell, &c., and d. before her father, leaving issue, of whom presently.

His lordship d. 39 HENRY VI., and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 7th baron and 2nd viscount, who inherited, through his mother, the great possessions of the Bardolfs. He m. twice, but d. without issue, 23 HENRY VII., when the viscountcy expired, but the BARONY fell into ABEYANCE between the descendants of his sister Joane, and so continued until called out in 1840, in favour of MILES-THOMAS STAPLETON, of Carlton, in the co. of York, Esq. The said

JOANE DE BEAUMONT left, by her husband, Lord Lovell, an only son, Francis, Lord Lovell, created Viscount Lovell, who was attainted in the first of HENRY VII., and d. s. p. in the third of the same monarch; and two daus. The elder,

JOANE LOVELL, m. Sir Brian Stapleton, of Carlton, in the co. of York, and from her ladyship lineally descended. (See BURKE'S Extinct Baronetage.)

He m. 2ndly, 4 April, 1872, Octavia-Willoughby, widow of Major J.-R. S. Wallis, of Drishane Castle, co. Cork.

Lineage.

The surname of this very ancient family is derived from the city of BEAUMONT, in France, which formerly gave title to a succession of viscounts, whose heiress, AGNES DE BEAUMONT, conveyed the seigneury to her husband, LOUIS, 2nd son of JOHN, King of Jerusalem and Sicily, and nephew of LOUIS IX. of France. The 4th son of this lady,

HENRY DE BEAUMONT, came into England, according to general supposition, at the instance of ELEANOR, wife of EDWARD I., and obtained high and confidential employment from the crown, with extensive territorial grants. This eminent person, who was brother of Isabel, wife of John, Lord Vesci of Alnewicke, is styled in our records, "consanguineus regis;" and, amongst his other offices, he was made King of the Isle of Man for life, by the same tenure that its lords usually held it under the Kings of Scotland. He was likewise summoned to parliament as a baron, 4 March, 1309, and sworn of the privy council. His lordship m. Alice, dau. and at length heir of Alexander Comin, Earl of Buchan, in whose right he became constable of Scotland, and obtained the manor of Whitwicke, in Leicestershire, where he was licensed to convert the manor-house into a castle. Lord Beaumont d. 1340, (for a more ample account of this nobleman, refer to BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage,) and was s. by his son,

JOHN DE BEAUMONT, 2nd baron, summoned to parliament 25 Feb. 1342. His lordship m. the Lady Alianore Plantagenet, dau. of Henry, Earl of Lancaster, and great-grand-dau. of HENRY III., by whom he had an only child, HENRY, born in Brabant, during her ladyship's attendance upon Philippa, queen-consort of EDWARD III.; in consideration of which circumstance, Lord Beaumont procured the king's special letters-patent, declaring "that notwithstanding the said Henry was begotten and born in foreign parts, nevertheless, in regard it was by reason of his and his lady's attendance on the queen, he should be reputed a lawful heir, and inherit the lands in England, as if he had been born there." Lord Beaumont d. in 1342, and was s. by the said

HENRY DE BEAUMONT, 3rd lord, who m. the Lady Margaret de Vere, dau. of John, Earl of Oxford, and dying in 1368, was s. by his only child,

JOHN BEAUMONT, 4th lord, K.G., summoned to parliament from 20 Aug. 1383, to 13 Nov. 1393; who m Katherine, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas de Everingham, of Laxton, and had issue, sumed his maternal surname and arms of GORGES (see BURKE's Extinct Peerage). Sir Theobald m 2ndly, Eleanor, dau. of John de la Tour, of Berwick, co. Dorset, by whom he was father of

WILLIAM RUSSELL, whose great-grandson,

JOHN RUSSELL, of Kingston-Russell, m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of John Heryngham, and was father of

SIR JOHN RUSSELL, Knt., Speaker of the House of Commons in the 2nd and 10th of HENRY VI. This gentleman m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of John Froxmere, and was s. by his eldest son,

JAMES RUSSELL, who m. Alice, dau. and heiress of John Wyse, Esq., and dying in the 1st year of HENRY VIII., left two sons, the elder of whom,

JOHN RUSSELL, said to be one of the most accomplished gentlemen of his time, resided at Berwick, about four miles from Bridport, co. Dorset, and obtained a favourable introduction to court through one of those unexpected incidents which may be attributed solely to good fortune. In the 21st of HENRY VII. (1506), the Archduke PHILIP OF AUSTRIA, only son of the Emperor MAXIMILIAN I., and husband of Joanna, dau. of FERDINAND and ISABEL, King and Queen of Castile and Aragon, having encountered a violent hurricane in his passage from Flanders to Spain, was driven into Weymouth, where he landed, and was hospitably received by Sir Thomas Trenchard, Knt., a gentleman of rank in the neighbourhood. Sir Thomas immediately apprized the court of the circumstance, and in the interim, while waiting for instructions what course to adopt, invited his first cousin,* Mr. Russell, then recently returned from his travels, to wait upon the prince. His imperial highness, fascinated by Mr. Russell's companionable qualities, desired that he should accompany him to Windsor, whither the king had invited his highness to repair. On the journey we are informed that the archduke became still more pleased with his attendant's "learned discourse and generous deportment," and recommended him strongly to the king. Mr. Russell was, in consequence, taken immediately into royal favour, and appointed one of the gentlemen of the privy chamber. Becoming subsequently a favourite of HENRY VIII., and a companion of that monarch in his French wars, Mr. Russell was appointed to several high and confidential offices, and finally elevated to the peerage, 9 March, 1538-9, in the dignity of Lord Russell, Baron Russell, of Cheneys, co. Buckingham. (See DUGDALE'S Baronage and BURKE'S Rise of Great Families.) In the next year, 1540, when the great monasteries were dissolved, his lordship obtained a grant to himself, and his wife and their heirs, of the site of the Abbey of Tavistock, and of extensive possessions belonging thereto. After the accession of EDWARD VI., Lord Russell had a grant of the Monastery of Woburn, and was created EARL OF BEDFORD, 9 Jan. 1550. In MARY'S time, the same courtly sunshine continuing, his lordship obtained a new patent, dated 3 Nov. 1553, for the office of lord privy seal, and was appointed ambassador to Spain, to conduct her majesty's royal consort, PHILIP II., into England. He was also a Knight of the Garter. The earl m. Anne, dau. and heiress of Guy Sapcote, Esq., and widow of Sir John Broughton, Knt.; and dying 15 March, 1554-5, was s. by his only son,

FRANCIS, 2nd earl, K.G., b. in 1528. This nobleman, in the 1st of ELIZABETH, was sworn of the privy council, and was subsequently a person of great eminence during her reign. He m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Sir John St. John, and sister of Oliver, Lord St. John of Bletshoe, and had,

I. EDWARD, Lord Russell, who d. v. p. without issue.
II. JOHN, summoned to Parliament, after the decease of his brother, as LORD RUSSELL. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Anthony Cooke, of Gidea Hall, co. Essex, and widow of Sir Thomas Hobby, of Bisham, co. Berks, by whom he left two daus., ELIZABETH, who d. unm.; and Anne, the wife of Henry, Marquess of Worcester.
III. FRANCIS (Sir), summoned to parliament as LORD RUSSELL, m. Julian, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Foster, Knt., by whom he had an only son,

EDWARD, who s. as 3rd EARL OF BEDFORD.

IV. WILLIAM (Sir), distinguished by his eminent service in Ireland, temp. ELIZABETH. In 1580, Mr. Russell first commanded 150 horse there, which the clergy of England had raised, for the reduction of the queen's rebellious subjects; and, for his gallantry, received the honour of knighthood. Soon after this we find him in the Low Countries, under Robert Dudley, Earl of Leicester. In 1594, Sir William was constituted lord-deputy of Ireland, and for the next two years he was engaged against the rebel O'Madden. On the accession of JAMES I., he was elevated to the peerage, 21 July, 1603, as BARON RUSSELL of Thornhaugh, co Northampton. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Long, Esq. of Shengay, co. Cambridge, and left at his decease, 9 Aug. 1613, a son, FRANCIS, 2nd Lord Russell of Thornhaugh, who inherited as 4th EARL OF BEDFORD.

I. Anne, m. to Ambrose Dudley, Earl of Warwick.
II. Elizabeth, m. to William Bouchier, Earl of Bath.
III. Margaret, m. to George Clifford, Earl of Cumberland.

Francis, 2nd Earl of Bedford, m. 2ndly, Bridget, dau. of John, Lord Hussey, and widow of Sir Richard Morison, Knt., but by that lady had no issue. His lordship d. at Bedford House, in the Strand, 28 June, 1585, and was s. by his grandson,

EDWARD, 3rd earl, who m. Lucy, dau. of John, Lord Harrington, and sister and heir of John, 2nd Lord Harrington; but by her (who d. 31 May, 1627) he had no issue; he d. 1 May, 1627, was s. by his cousin (refer to William, 4th son of the 2nd earl),

FRANCIS, 2nd Lord Russell of Thornhaugh, as 4th EARL OF BEDFORD. His lordship m. Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Giles Bridges, 3rd Lord Chandos, by whom he had, with four daus., four sons, viz.,

John, col. in the civil wars, on the side of the king, and after the Restoration, col. of the 1st regt. of foot-guards, d. unm.
EDWARD, m. Penelope, dau. of Sir Moyses Hill, of Hillsborough, in Ireland, and widow of Sir William Brook K.B., and was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, standard-bearer to CHARLES II., who d. unm., and was s. by his brother,

EDWARD RUSSELL, "who," says Burnet, "had been bred at sea, and was bedchamber-man to the king (JAMES II.) when Duke of York; but upon Lord Russell's death, retired from court. He was a man of much honour and great courage. He had good principles, and was firm to them." Strenuously supporting the Revolution, he obtained high naval commands from the new king, and distinguished himself as one of the most eminent naval heroes of the period, particularly by his victory over the French fleet at La Hogue, in 1692. He was rewarded with a peerage, 7 May, 1697, as Baron Shingay, Viscount Barfleur, and Earl of Orford. His lordship m Lady Margaret Russell, youngest dau. of his father's brother, William, 1st Duke of Bedford, but d. in 1727, s. p., when the peerage became EXTINCT.

His lordship (Francis, 4th Earl of Bedford) d 9 May, 1641, and was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, 5th earl, who, at the Restoration of King CHARLES II., carried St. Edward's sceptre, was elected a knight of the Garter, 1672; and created, 11 May, 1694, Marquess of Tavistock, and DUKE OF BEDFORD. His grace m. Anne, dau. and sole heiress of Robert Carr, Earl of Somerset, by his too celebrated countess, Frances Howard, the divorced wife of Essex. "Francis, Earl of Bedford," says Pennant, "was so adverse to the alliance, that he gave his son leave to chose a wife out of any family but that. Opposition usually stimulates desire: the young couple's affections were only increased. At length, the king interposed, and sending the Duke of Lennox to urge the earl to consent, the match was brought about. Somerset, now reduced to poverty, acted a generous part, selling his house at Chiswick, plate, jewels, and furniture, to raise a fortune for his daughter of £12,900, which the Earl of Bedford demanded, saying, that since her affections were settled, he chose rather to undo himself, than make her unhappy." The lady proved worthy of the alliance. It is said that she was ignorant of her mother's dishonour till informed of it by a pamphlet, which she accidentally found; and it is added, that her grace was so struck with this detection of her parent's guilt, that she fell down in a fit, and was found senseless with the book open before her. The duke had issue by this admirable woman, seven sons and three daus., of whom the eldest surviving son was the celebrated

WILLIAM, Lord Russell. This distinguished patriot was first returned to parliament for the co. Bedford, in 1678-9. His lordship, who took an active part against the court, appeared publicly in the King's Bench, at Westminster Hall, 16 June, 1680, and presented the Duke of York as a recusant; he subsequently carried up the bill of exclusion of his royal highness, at the head of more than 200 members of the Commons, to the House of Lords. He was afterwards indicted for high treason as a participator in the Rye-house conspiracy, and was tried at the Old Bailey, 13 June, 1683, and convicted. He was executed, by decapitation, at Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, 21 July following. Between his condemnation and death, Lord Cavendish offered to change clothes with him in the prison, and thus enable him to effect his escape; but Lord Russell had too much magnanimity to expose his friend to so much danger. The attainder of his lordship was annulled after the Revolu-

BEDINGFELD.

PASTON-BEDINGFELD, SIR HENRY-GEORGE, of Oxburgh, co. Norfolk, b. 21 June, 1830; s. his father as 7th baronet, and as co-heir to the barony of Grandison, 4 Feb. 1862; m. 17 Oct. 1859, Augusta, only child of Edward Clavering, Esq. of Callaly Castle, Northumberland, and has issue,

I. HENRY-EDWARD, b. 29 Aug. 1860.
II. Richard-Henry-Clavering, b. 1862.
III. Charles, b. 25 July, 1864.
I. Alice.
II. Mary-Maud.

Lineage.

The BEDINGFELDS were seated at Bedingfeld, in Suffolk, at or soon after the Conquest. Blomefield's History of Norfolk sets forth their descent from that period, and the public records and family papers fully establish the pedigree therein given.

SIR EDMUND BEDINGFELD, Knt. (son of Sir Thomas Bedingfeld, Knt., temp. HENRY V., and great grandson of Peter de Bedingfeld, temp. EDWARD III., who was in direct lineal descent from the Norman founder of the family), m. Margaret, dau. of Sir Robert Tuddenham, Knt., and sister and co-heiress of Robert de Tuddenham, and acquired with her extensive estates, including the lordship of OXBURGH, co. Norfolk, which has continued ever since the chief seat of the family.* Sir Edmund d. 1446, and was s. by his only son,

THOMAS BEDINGFELD, Esq., of Oxburgh, m. Anne, dau. and heir of John de Waldegrave, and was father of

SIR EDMUND BEDINGFELD, K.B., of Oxburgh, whose son,

SIR EDMUND BEDINGFELD, was father of

SIR HENRY BEDINGFELD, Knt., one of the first who declared for MARY on the death of EDWARD VI., and came to her majesty's assistance with one hundred and forty men armed cap-à-pie, while at Framlingham Castle, in Suffolk. After the accession of the queen, Sir Henry was made knight-marshal of her army, captain of the guards, and governor of the Tower of London; he was also sworn of the privy council. He m. Catherine, dau. of Sir Roger Townshend, one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas; and dying in 1583, was s. by his eldest son,

EDMUND BEDINGFELD, Esq., who m. Anne, dau. of Sir Robert Southwell, of Hoxne, and d. 1585, leaving a son,

THOMAS BEDINGFELD, Esq. of Oxburgh, who m. Frances, dau. and coheir of John Jerningham, Esq. of Somerleyton, and dying in 1590, was s. by his son,

SIR HENRY BEDINGFELD, Knt., m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Lord William Howard, of Naworth Castle, in Cumberland, ancestor of the Earls of Carlisle, and had a son, Thomas, who d. s. p. in 1679. Sir Henry m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of Peter Hoghton, Esq. of Hoghton Tower, co. Lancaster. Sir Henry, who was an active and zealous royalist, during the civil wars was made prisoner, and committed to the Tower, and d. soon after his release, in 1656, when he was s. by his only surviving son,

I. HENRY BEDINGFELD, of Oxburgh Hall, co. Norfolk. This gentleman having laid before CHARLES II., after the Restoration, an estimate of the losses sustained by the family, amounting to £47,194 18*s.* 8*d.*, was replied to by the monarch, that it was too great a sum for him to recompense; to which Mr. Bedingfeld answered that all he begged of his majesty was, that he might hope for the future to enjoy in tranquillity the small remnant of his fortune. To soften, however, the asperity of this unmerited refusal, the dignity of Baronet was conferred upon him, 2 Jan. 1660-1. Sir Henry m. Margaret, dau. and heiress of Edward Paston, Esq. of Appleton, co. Norfolk, and dying 6 Feb. 1684-5, left issue,

HENRY, his successor.
John, m. Dorothy, dau. and co-heir of John Ramsay, Esq., and dying in Aug. 1693, left Henry, and other children.
Edward, barrister-at-law, m. Mary, youngest dau. of Sir Clement Fisher, Bart., and had, with two sons a dau., Mary, m. to Sir John Swinburne, Bart.
Elizabeth (a lady celebrated for her beauty), m. to Thomas Weetenhall, Esq.
Johanna, m. to Richard Caryll, Esq. of Harting, Sussex.
Mary, m. to Thomas Eyre, Esq. of Hassop.
Margaret, } nuns; the elder, abbess of the Carmelite con-
Anne, } vent, at Lier.

The elder son,

II. SIR HENRY. This gentleman m. 1st, Anne, only surviving child and heiress of Charles, Viscount Andover, afterwards Earl of Berkshire, but by that lady had no issue, He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, youngest dau. of Sir John Arundell. Bart. of Lanhern, in Cornwall, and dying 14 Sept. 1704, left, with two daus. (Margaret, m. to Sir John Jerningham, and Frances, m. to Sir Francis Anderton, Bart.), an only son,

III. SIR HENRY-ARUNDELL. This gentleman m. Lady Elizabeth Boyle, eldest dau. of Charles, Earl of Burlington, and by her (who d. 25 Nov. 1751) had, with other issue, I. RICHARD, his heir; II. Edward, b. in 1730, m. in 1754, Mary, dau. of Sir John Swinburne, Bart., and had, 1 John, R.N., b. 1754; 2 Mary, a nun; and 3 Anne, m. to Thomas Waterton, Esq.; and I. Elizabeth, m. to Charles Biddulph, Esq. of Biddulph and Burton. He d. 15 July, 1760, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

IV. SIR RICHARD-HENRY, b. 14 Sept. 1726; m. 30 March, 1761, Mary. dau. of Anthony Browne, Viscount Montague, and dying 27 March, 1795, was s. by his only son,

V. SIR RICHARD, b. 23 Aug. 1767; m. 17 June, 1795, Charlotte-Georgiana, dau. of Sir William Jerningham, Bart. of Cossey, co. Norfolk, and sister of George, Lord Stafford (this lady obtained from the king, in Oct. 1831, the precedency of a baron's daughter), by whom (who d. in 1854) he had issue, of the College of Justice (who was husband, as stated above, of the deceased lord's granddau., Margaret),

HENRY-RICHARD, 6th baronet.

Sir John Hamilton, of Bell, as 2nd baron. This nobleman was a lord of the Treasury in 1704, and was a zealous and eloquent opponent of the Union, 1706. He had two sons, John, his successor; and James, a member of the faculty of advocates, and solicitor of the boards of Customs and Excise in Scotland, d. s. p. 28 June, 1732. His lordship was committed to the Tower of London, as an ally of the Chevalier St. George, in 1708, and d. of an inflammation of the brain almost immediately after his release, 21 June, in that year. He was s. by his elder son,

John, 3rd baron, one of the representative peers, who having been appointed governor of Barbadoes in 1721, was drowned in his passage to that island. He m. Anne, dau. of Andrew Bruce, merchant in Edinburgh, and had issue, i. John, his successor; ii. Andrew, an officer in the army, d. unm.; iii. James, who s. as 5th lord; iv. Robert, a major in the army, d. unm.; and i. Margaret, m. to Sir Alexander Baird. His lordship was s. by his elder son,

John, 4th baron, who d. unm. in 1764, and was s. by his brother,

By virtue of an entail of the 2nd Lord Belhaven, in 1701, confirmed by the last, in 1765, the husbands of the heirs female being excluded from inheriting the property, and the whole male descendants of the 2nd lord's father, Lord Pressmenan, having entirely failed, the family estates, of great value, devolved upon Mrs. Mary-Hamilton Nisbet, of Pencaitland, and she was accordingly served heir to James, 5th Lord Belhaven, 3 Dec. 1783. The whole male descendants of James Hamilton, of Barncleuth, from which the 2nd lord sprang, having likewise failed, the barony of Belhaven and Stenton devolved on Robert Hamilton, of Wishaw, he being the male heir whatever, that is, the nearest male heir existing in the collateral line of John, 2nd Lord Belhaven, according to the usual course of descent established by the law of Scotland. By this course of descent, it is settled, that in the case of three brothers, should the middle brother fail, the younger, and not the elder, is entitled to succeed as heir male. The founder of the family, John Hamilton, of Udson, had three sons, viz.,

John Hamilton, of Coltness.
James Hamilton, of Barncleuth, whose descendant inherited, as 2nd Lord Belhaven.
William Hamilton, of Wishaw, m. 1621, Beatrix, dau. of James Douglas, of Merton, and was s. by his eldest son,

William Hamilton, of Wishaw, m. 1st, Anne, dau. of John Hamilton, of Udson, and had, with other children,

i. Robert Hamilton, younger, of Wishaw, b. 6 July, 1664; m. 1686, Jean, eldest dau. and heiress of Robert Hamilton, of Brownmuir, and d. before 21 Dec. 1726, leaving four sons,

1 William, of Wishaw.
2 Robert, minister of Hamilton, whose issue is extinct.
3 John, whose issue male is extinct.

Jean, m. to George Ramsay, Esq. of Barnton, and d. in 1841.
Bethia, m. to William Ramsay, Esq., and d. in 1809.

The title of Lord Belhaven was assumed by William Hamilton, capt. of the 44th regt. of foot, lineal descendant and heir male of John Hamilton, of Coltness, the elder of the three brothers; and he voted at the general election in 1790, as Lord Belhaven. An objection was taken, however, to his right; and evidence was given that there were male descendants of the body of William Hamilton, of Wishaw, the youngest of the three brothers; consequently, the character of heir male whatever of John, 2nd Lord Belhaven, the patentee of 1765, could not belong to the gentleman who had assumed the dignity. This argument was supported by the attorney-general attending on behalf of the crown; and the Lords' committee of privileges unanimously decided, 5 Jan. 1793, that the votes given at the election, by the assumed Lord Belhaven, were not good, and that resolution was confirmed by the House of Peers. Soon after the settlement of this point, William Hamilton, of Wishaw, eldest son and heir of Robert Hamilton, presented to the king a petition, claiming the dignity and title of Lord Belhaven and Stenton, and this petition being, as usual, referred to the House of Peers, the claim was determined in his favour, 25 April, 1799, and he became

William, 7th Baron of Belhaven and Stenton (his father, Robert Hamilton, being counted the 6th lord, although he had

Lineage.

This family derives its surname from the town of Bellingham, in Northumberland.

ALAN BELLINGHAM, purchased Levens, near Kendal, in HENRY VII.'s reign, and erected a mansion there, which subsequently became the chief residence of his successors. He had a grant from HENRY VIII. of the Lumley Fee, barony of Kendal, and was treasurer of Berwick and deputy-warden of the Marches. Of him this rhyme, allusive to his social, and at the same time martial disposition, was made,

"Amicus amico Alanus Belliger Belligero Bellinghamus."

The great-grandson of this Alan,

SIR JAMES BELLINGHAM, Knt., m. Agnes, dau. of Sir Henry Curwen, Knt. of Workington, in Cumberland, and had, with other issue, Thomas; HENRY, of Helsington, co. Westmorland, created a Baronet in 1620; the title became extinct in 1650 (see BURKE'S Extinct Baronetage); and Alan. Sir James d. in 1641, and the male line of the family was eventually carried on by his 3rd son,

ALAN BELLINGHAM, Esq. of Levens, M.P. for Westmoreland, b. in 1606; who m. Susan, dau. of Marmaduke Constable, Esq. of Wassand, co. York, and had a large family, of which the 2nd son, BERKELEY.

Berkeley, Earl of (Berkeley), Viscount Dursley, and Baron Berkeley, of Berkeley Castle, co. Gloucester, one of the co-heirs to the Barony of Braose of Gower.

Lineage.

Robert Fitzhardinge obtained for his fidelity to the Empress Maud and her son (Henry II.) the lordship of Berkeley and Berkeley-Hernesse, of which Roger de Berkeley,* owner of Dursley, was then divested, for taking part with Stephen. This Robert Fitzhardinge entertained at Bristol, in 1168, Dermot Mac Murrough, King of Leinster, with sixty of his retinue, at the time the Irish prince came into England to solicit succours from Henry II. He d. in 1170-71, and was s. by his eldest surviving son,

Maurice de Berkeley, who m. Alice, dau. of Roger de Berkeley, the former and ousted possessor of Berkeley and Dursley, and had six sons. He d. in 1190, and was s. by the eldest,

Robert de Berkeley, of Berkeley Castle, who espoused the baronial cause, and thus incurred the displeasure of John, but was restored to royal favour; falling again from his allegiance, the castle and lands of Berkeley were seized by the crown, and their profits assigned for the maintenance of the castle of Bristol. He was subsequently, however, put into possession of all his lands except Berkeley Castle, and dying 13 May, 1219, without issue, was s. by his brother,

Thomas de Berkeley, to whom Berkeley Castle was granted in 1223. This feudal lord m. Joan, dau. of Ralph de Somery, Lord of Campden, co. Gloucester, and dying in 1243, was s. by his eldest son,

Maurice de Berkeley. This eminent person had military summonses to march against the Welsh, in the 42nd, 43rd, and 44th Henry III., and the next year he had command to attend the king in London, well appointed with horse and arms, to take part against the barons, then in open hostility; but he appears to have adopted an opposite course, and to have joined the insurrectionary lords, for which his lands were seized by the crown. This Maurice m. Isabel, dau. of Maurice de Creoun, a great baron in Lincolnshire, by Isabel his wife, sister to William de Valence, Earl of Pembroke (uterine sister and brother of Henry III.), and dying 4 April, 1281, was s. by his eldest son,

Thomas de Berkeley, who was with the king at the siege of Kenilworth Castle, Oct. 1266, and afterwards in the Welsh wars; for which eminent services he had a special grant, temp. Edward I., of liberty to hunt the fox, hare, badger, and wild cat, with his own dogs, within the king's forests of Mendip and chase of Kingswood; after this we find him engaged in Scotland, and participating in the victory of Falkirk, gained 22 July, 1298. He was subsequently at the celebrated siege of Caerlaverock, and was summoned to parliament as a Baron from 23 June, 1295, to 15 May, 1321. His lordship m. Jane, dau. of William de Ferrers, Earl of Derby, and was s. in 1321, by his eldest son,

Maurice de Berkeley, 2nd lord, who had summons to parliament, as Lord Berkeley of Berkeley Castle, from 6 Aug. 1308, to 15 May, 1321. In 1312, his lordship was nominated governor of Gloucester; and in 1314, governor of the town and castle of Berwick-upon-Tweed. In 1315, he was constituted justice of South Wales, and had the custody of all the castles there. In 1319, by the title of the king's beloved kinsman, he was made steward of the duchy of Aquitaine; but in 1321, joining Thomas Plantagenet, Earl of Lancaster, he was committed prisoner to Wallingford Castle, where he d. 31 May, 1326, leaving, with other issue, by his wife, Eva, dau. of Eudo la Zouche,

Maurice (Sir), from whom descended the Lords Bottetourt, the Lords Berkeley of Stratton, and the Berkeleys of Pylle, represented by Viscount Portman.

His lordship's eldest son,

Thomas, succeeded as 3rd lord, and was summoned to parliament from 14 June, 1329, to 20 Nov. 1360. To this nobleman the custody of the unhappy Edward II. was committed at Berkeley Castle; but, owing to the humanity with which his lordship treated the captive monarch, he was soon after obliged to deliver the castle and his prisoner to Lord Maltravers and Sir Thomas Gournay. After the murder of the unfortunate prince, Lord Berkeley was arraigned as a participator in the foul deed, but honourably acquitted. His lordship d. 27 Oct. 1361, and was s. by his eldest son by his first wife, Margaret, dau. of Roger de Mortimer, Earl of March, and widow of Robert de Vere, Earl of Oxford,

THOMAS, his successor.

James (Sir), who m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir John Bluet, Knt., with whom he had the manor of Ragland, and a fair estate in Gloucestershire. He d. 1404, leaving a son,

JAMES, who s. his uncle as 6th lord.

His lordship was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

THOMAS, 5th lord, who m. Margaret, dau. and heir of Gerard Warren, Lord L'Isle, and left an only child, Elizabeth, m. to Richard Beauchamp, 12th Earl of Warwick.

Thomas, 5th Lord Berkeley, thus dying without male issue, was s. by his nephew,

JAMES BERKELEY, 6th lord. This nobleman m. 1st, a dau. of Humphrey Stafford, of Hooke, co. Dorset, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Isabel, widow of Henry, son and heir of William, Lord Ferrers of Groby, and 2nd dau. of Thomas Mowbray, 1st Duke of Norfolk,* and earl marshal of England, and had, with three daus., four sons,

I. WILLIAM, his heir.
II. MAURICE, successor to his brother.
III. James, killed in France.
IV. Thomas, seated at Dursley, co. Gloucester. He m. Margaret, dau. of Richard Guy, Esq. of Minsterworth, in the same shire, and dying in 1484, was s. by his son,

RICHARD BERKELEY, Esq. of Dursley, whose son, by Margaret Dyer, his wife,

WILLIAM BERKELEY, Esq., M.P., was father (by Elizabeth Burghill his wife) of

ROWLAND BERKELEY, Esq., M.P. for the city of Worcester, who purchased from Philip Sheldon, Esq., the estate of Spetchley. He m. Catherine, dau. of Thomas Heywood, Esq., and dying in 1611, had, with five younger sons and nine daus.,

WILLIAM, of Cotheridge, extinct in the male line (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry); and

SIR ROBERT BERKELEY, Knt. of Spetchley, b. 1584, an eminent lawyer, one of the judges of the Court of King's Bench. He m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Conyers, Esq. of East Barnet, and dying in 1656, left an only son,

THOMAS BERKELEY, Esq. of Spetchley, m. Anne, dau. of William Darell, Esq. of Scotney, in Sussex. Their son,

THOMAS BERKELEY, Esq., m. Elizabeth, dau. and sole heir of William Holyoke, Esq. of Morton Basset, co. Warwick, and dying 1719, was s. by his son,

THOMAS BERKELEY, Esq., m. Mary, dau. and heiress of Robert Davis, Esq. of Clytha, co. Monmouth, and dying in France, left two sons, viz.,

ROBERT, his heir.

John, who m. 1st, Catherine, dau. of Charles Bodenham, Esq. of Rotherwas, co. Hereford, and had an only son, ROBERT, successor to his uncle. He m. 2ndly, Jane, dau. and co-heir of Sir William Compton, Bart., and had two daus., Catherine, wife of Robert Canning, Esq., of Foxcote; and Jane, m. Thomas-Anthony, Viscount Southwell.

The elder son,

ROBERT BERKELEY, Esq. of Spetchley, m. 1st, Anne, sister and co-heir of John Wyborne, Esq. of Flixton, co. Norfolk; 2ndly, Katherine, dau. of Thomas Fitzherbert, Esq. of Swinnerton, co. Stafford; and 3rdly, Elizabeth, dau. of Peter Parry, Esq., of Twysog, co. Denbigh. Mr. Berkeley d. s. p. 1804, and was s. by his nephew,

ROBERT BERKELEY, Esq. of Spetchley, m. 1792, Apollonia, 3rd dau. of Richard Lee, Esq. of Llanfoist, co. Monmouth, and left at his decease an only son,

ROBERT BERKELEY, Esq. of Spetchley, b. 21 May, 1794; m. 24 Jan. 1822, Henrietta-Sophia, eldest dau. and co-heir of Paul Benfield, Esq. of Grosvenor Square, M.P., by Mary-Frances his wife, granddau. of Sir John Swinburne, Bart. of Capheaton, and by her (who d. 15 Dec. 1857) had, with other issue, a son and heir, ROBERT BERKELEY, Esq., now of Spetchley Park (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

Lord Berkeley d. in 1463, and was s. by his eldest son,

WILLIAM, 7th lord, who was created, 21 April, 1481, Viscount Berkeley; advanced to the dignity of Earl of Nottingham, 1483, and created MARQUESS OF BERKELEY 28 Jan. 1489-90. This great nobleman had a dispute with Thomas Talbot, Viscount L'Isle, concerning some lands claimed by the latter in right of his grandmother, Margaret, Countess of Shrewsbury; and the quarrel rose to such a height, that the disputants encountered each other with their respective followers, at Wotton-under-Edge, in 1409, when the Viscount L'Isle was mortally wounded by an arrow shot through his mouth. The marquess d. 14 Feb. 1491-2, and, leaving no issue, his own honours ceased; but the barony of Berkeley should have passed to his brother Maurice, had not the marquess, in anger with his kinsman, settled the castle of Berkeley, and those lands and lordships which composed the ancient barony, upon HENRY VII., and his majesty's heirs male, in failure of which to descend to his own right heirs. In consequence of this conveyance,

MAURICE (8th baron by right), enjoyed none of the estates, and was entirely deprived of the peerage. His brother's displeasure was attributed to his having married a person of mean blood, namely, Isabel, dau. of Philip Meade, Esq., an alderman of Bristol. This Maurice obtained, however, his share of an estate which devolved upon him in right of his mother, Isabel. He d. in 1506, and was s. by his son,

MAURICE (by right 9th lord), who was made a knight of the Bath at the coronation of HENRY VIII. He m. Catherine, dau. of Sir William Berkeley, Knight, of Stoke Clifford, co. Gloucester, but having no issue, was s. at his decease, 1526, by his brother,

THOMAS (10th lord), who had a command in the celebrated battle of Flodden, fought 9 Sept. 1513, and for his signal services there received the honour of knighthood from Thomas Howard, Earl of Surrey. He m. Eleanor, dau. of Sir Marmaduke Constable, of Flamborough, co York, and was s. by his son,

THOMAS (by right 11th baron), who m. 1st, Mary, dau. of George Hastings, 1st Earl of Huntingdon, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Sir John Savage, of Frodsham, co. Chester; and dying 19 Sept. 1534, was s. by a posthumous son,

HENRY, 12th lord, who on the death of EDWARD VI., the last male heir of HENRY VII., s. as heir to James, Marquess of Berkeley, to BERKELEY CASTLE AND LANDS, and thus recovered the ancient honours and precedency of the family. His lordship m. Catherine, 3rd dau. of Henry Howard, Earl of Surrey, and dying 26 Nov. 1613, was s. by his grandson,

GEORGE, 13th baron, K.B., who m. Elizabeth, 2nd dau. and co-heir of Sir Michael Stanhope, of Sudborn, co. Suffolk, and dying 10 Aug. 1658, was s. by his only surviving son,

GEORGE 14th lord, created 11 Sept. 1679, Viscount Dursley, and EARL OF BERKELEY. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of John Massingberd, Esq., treasurer of the East India Company, and dying 14 Oct. 1698, was s. by his older son,

CHARLES, 2nd Earl, K.B., who had been previously summoned to parliament (11 July, 1689) as Baron Berkeley of Berkeley. His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of Baptist Noel, Viscount Campden, and had four sons and three daus.* He d. 24 Sept. 1710, and was s. by his 2nd, but eldest surviving son,

JAMES, 3rd earl, a distinguished naval officer, who had summons to parliament, 7 March, 1704, as Lord Dursley. His lordship m. Lady Louisa Lennox, eldest dau. of Charles, 1st Duke of Richmond, and was s. at his decease, in 1736, by his only son,

AUGUSTUS, 4th earl, K.T.; b. 18 Feb. 1715-16. This nobleman distinguished himself as a military officer, and obtained the command of one of the regiments embodied to march against the Scotch and English rebels, in 1745. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Henry Drax, Esq. of Charborough, co. Dorset, by whom (who m. after the earl's decease, Robert, Earl Nugent) he had surviving issue,

I. FREDERICK-AUGUSTUS, his successor.
II. George-Cranfield (Sir), G.C.B., an admiral in the royal navy, and sometime lord high admiral of Portugal; b. in 1753; m. in 1784, Emily-Charlotte, dau. of Lord George Lennox, and dying in 1818, left issue,

Sir Thomas s. as 6th baronet on the death of his brother, 22 Jan. 1876.

Lineage.

The family of Bernard claims descent from Godfrey Bernard, of Wansford, co. York, living temp. HENRY III., one of whose descendants Robert Bernard, lord of Isleham, was high sheriff of the co. of Northampton, A.D. 1384. For many generations the Bernards were lords of Abington in that co. In 1662, Sir Robert Bernard, Knt. of Abington, was created a baronet. He was s. by Sir John Bernard, Knt., and M.P. for Huntingdon in the Long Parliament, who m. the dau. of Oliver St. John, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas. His son, Sir Robert, was M.P. for Huntingdon in 1688. The male descendants of this elder branch of the Bernard family became extinct upon the death of Sir Robert Bernard, M.P. for Westminster in 1789, who then died a bachelor, but leaving as his heir a niece, who m., and whose son, Brigadier-Gen. Robert-Bernard Sparrow, m. Olivia, the dau. of Arthur, 1st Earl of Gosford, and their only dau. and heir, m. George, 6th Duke of Manchester. The present bart. is descended from a younger branch of the same family.

I. FRANCIS BERNARD, Esq. (great grandson of Thomas Bernard of Reading, Berks, 3rd son of Francis Bernard, lord of Abington), was appointed, in 1758, governor of New Jersey, and in 1760, of Massachusetts' Bay, in which office he continued for 10 years, until the American revolution, and for his services in that trying period was created a baronet, 5 April, 1769.† Upon the death, in 1770, of his first cousin, Jane, the wife of William Beresford, Esq. of Long Leadenham, co. Lincoln, leaving Sir Francis his heir and devisee, he became the representative of the

* This family was of very distinguished Welsh descent. The first who assumed the English surname was Sir David Williams, of Guernevet, Brecon, a Judge of the Court of King's Bench, in the reigns of ELIZABETH and JAMES I. He d. in 1612, having by his will devised the whole profits of the titles of Gwenther, one of his estates in Brecon, to charitable purposes, a devise which afterwards came under the consideration of Lord Chancellor Hardwicke (see Ambler's Rep., 189). Sir David was in direct descent from Blethyn ap Maenyrch, the last British lord of Brecknock. Sir Henry, the son of Sir David, having received the honor of knighthood, obtained the baronetcy from Charles I. in 1644. The last Sir David Williams, the father of Sophia-Charlotte, late wife of Sir T.-T. Bernard, Bart., m. the dau. and co-heir of John Fleming Stanley, of Barlands, Radnorshire, and David Williams, the grandson of the judge and direct ancestor of the last Sir David, m. Elizabeth, the dau. of Sir Matthew Carew, of Dyttleton, Worcestershire.

† His addresses to the House of Representatives of Massachusetts' Bay, which are contained in the 2nd vol. of Belsham's memoirs of GEO. III, naturally exposed him to considerable hostility, not only in the American colonies, but amongst the partisans of the colonists in this country. His conduct, however, obtained for him the marked approval of his sovereign, who sent him out the patent, creating him a Baronet, while still holding the office of governor.

BIDDULPH.

BIDDULPH, SIR THEOPHILUS-WILLIAM, of Westcombe, co. Kent, J.P. and D.L. co. Warwick, late major 2nd Warwickshire militia; b. 18 Jan. 1830; s. his father as 7th baronet, 15 July, 1854; m. 18 June, 1872, Mary-Agnes, 3rd dau. of Kenelm, 17th Lord Somerville, and has issue,

I. THEOPHILUS-GEORGE, b. 3 April, 1874.
I. Mary, b. 4 April, 1873.

Lineage.

The Saxon words—Bidde, or Bida, "prayer, entreaty," &c., and Ulph, "assistance, protection," &c.—of which the surname Biddulph is said to be composed, would indicate that he who first adopted it had been employed in some embassy or mission, to seek aid, and thence acquired the designation. The family is certainly of remote antiquity; and Erdeswick, in his Survey of Staffordshire, says "The Biddulphs derive themselves from one Ormus le Guidon, Lord of Darlaveston, Buckinghall, Biddulph, &c., in Staffordshire, who lived in the time of Doomsday." (For a more detailed account of the Biddulph family, in all its branches, the BIDDULPHS of Burton, Chirk Castle, Ledbury, and Amroth Castle, see BURKE'S Landed Gentry.) A pedigree extant deduces the line from ORMUS, to

RICHARD BIDDULPH, of Biddulph, living in 1598, from whom descended

SIMON BIDDULPH, Esq. of Elmhurst, co. Stafford, whose great-great-grandson,

I. SIR THEOPHILUS BIDDULPH, Knt. of Westcombe, co. Kent (3rd son of Michael Biddulph, Esq., by Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir William Skeffington, Bart. of Fisherwick, co. Stafford), was created a Baronet 2 Nov. 1664. Sir Theophilus m. Susannah, dau. of Zachary Highland, Esq., an alderman of the city of London, and had, with other issue,

MICHAEL, his successor.

BLACKBURN.

BLACKBURN, BARON, of Killearn, co. Stirling, and a LORD OF APPEAL IN ORDINARY (The Rt.-Hon. Sir Colin Blackburn, P.C.), b. 18 May, 1813; appointed a Judge of the Court of Queen's Bench 1859, and a Judge of the High Court of Justice 1875. On the 16 Oct. 1876, he was created, under the "Appellate Jurisdiction Act," 39 and 40 Vict., cap. 59, a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, with the style and title of Baron Blackburn of Killearn. The following extracts indicate the nature and extent of the creation:—

Appellate Jurisdiction Act (39 and 40 Victoria, ch. 59).

Clause VI.—"Every Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, unless he is otherwise entitled to sit as a member of the House of Lords, shall, by virtue and according to the date of his appointment, be entitled during his life to rank as a Baron by such style as her Majesty may be pleased to appoint, and shall during the time that he continues in his office as a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, and no longer, be entitled to a Writ of Summons to attend, and to sit and vote in the House of Lords; his dignity as a Lord of Parliament shall not descend to his heirs."

Letters Patent.

"We, &c., do nominate and appoint him, the said Sir Colin Blackburn (being a person qualified as in the said Act is prescribed), to be a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, by the style and title of Baron Blackburn of Killearn, in the county of Stirling, to have, hold, enjoy, exercise, and occupy the said office of a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary unto him, the said Sir Colin Blackburn, during his good behaviour, subject to such power of removal as in the said Act is mentioned, together with all powers and authorities, rights, privileges, rank, and precedence to the said office belonging, or in anywise appertaining, and to hold the said style or title of Baron Blackburn of Killearn, in the county of Stirling, unto him, the said Sir Colin Blackburn for and during the term of his natural life."

Lineage.

The family of Blackburn, from which Lord Blackburn descends, has resided in Glasgow since 1590, when PETER BLACKBURN was one of the Regents of Glasgow University.

Lord Blackburn is second son of the late JOHN BLACKBURN, Esq., of Killearn, by Rebecca-Leslie, his wife, dau. of the Rev. Colin Gillies, son of the Rev. Dr. Gillies, of Glasgow. The late PETER BLACKBURN, Esq., some time M.P. for co. Stirling, and a lord of the Treasury, was Lord Blackburn's elder brother.

BLAKISTON.

Blakiston, Sir Matthew, Bart, of London, b. 15 Jan. 1811; s. his father as 4th baronet, 23 Dec. 1862.

Lineage.

This is a branch of the family of Blackiston, of Blackston, in the palatinate of Durham, in which already were two baronetcies: one conferred by James I. in 1615; the other by Charles I. in 1642; those honours, however appear to have expired in 1619 and in 1713.

The immediate ancestry of the present baronet is as follows:—

George Blakiston, Esq. of Houghall, co. Durham, and Stapleton-on-Tees, co. York, m. 1654, Mary, dau. of Sir John Bourchier, Knt. of Benningborough, and had issue (with two other sons, who d. s. p., and two daus., the younger of whom was m. to James Maria, of London) a third son, George Blakiston, Esq., b. 15 Jan. 1671, who settled in London, and by his wife, the dau. of Matthew Kay, Esq., of London, merchant, left (with another son and dau.) an elder son.

I. Sir Matthew Blakiston, b. in 1702, an eminent merchant of London, who was elected alderman in 1750; served the office of sheriff in 1753, and filled the civic chair in 1760. Mr. Alderman Blakiston received the honour of knighthood 8 June, 1759; and was created a Baronet 22 April, 1763. He was thrice married: by his first marriage with ——, dau. of the Rev. Charles Hall, of Halsay, co. York, he had one son, Charles-George, who d. unm. in 1758; by the 2nd, with Mrs. Mary Blew, of Chelsea (who d. 8 Jan. 1754) he had no issue; and by the 3rd, which took place in 1760, with Annabella, dau. of Thomas Bayley, Esq., M.P. for Derby, and Bridget, his wife, dau. of Sir W. Dixie, Bart. (through this line Sir Matthew Blakiston derives from the Plantagenets), he left an only son, his successor at his decease, in 1774 (his widow m. Lieut.-Col. Hugh Cane, and d. in 1783),

II. Sir Matthew, b. in the Mansion House, during the mayoralty of his father; m. in 1782, Anne, dau. of John Rochfort, of Clogrenane, Esq. (which lady d. 27 Nov. 1862, in her 102nd year), and had,

Lineage.

The family of Lynch is of great antiquity in the province of Connaught, being amongst the very early settlers denominated the "Tribes of Galway." In an old MS. in Ulster's Office, William Le Petit is stated to be the common progenitor of all the Lynches in Ireland.

I. Henry Lynch, Esq., mayor of and M.P. for Galway (eldest son of Nicholas-Fitzstephen Lynch, mayor of Galway, and grandson of Stephen-FitzArthur Lynch, of Galway, who d. 15 Aug. 1579. Post-mortem Inquisition 1584), was created a Baronet of Ireland, 8 June, 1622. Sir Henry m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Martin, Esq., and relict of James D'Arcy, Esq., by whom he had three sons and three daus. He d. in 1634, and was s. by his eldest son,

II. Sir Robert. This gentleman represented Galway in parliament in 1639 and 1641, and was resident counsel of Connaught during the rebellion. He m. Ellis, dau. of Sir Peter French, Knt., by whom he had two sons, and dying about 1667, was s. by the elder,

III. Sir Henry, a lawyer of eminence, and one of the barons of the Exchequer, in 1689; who m. 1st, Margaret, dau. of Sir Theobald Bourke, 3rd Viscount Mayo, but by that lady had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Mary, dau. of Nicholas Blake, of Cronilee, and had two sons, Robert, his heir, and James, of Clogher, co. Mayo. He accompanied James II. to France, and dying at Brest, 1691, was s. by his elder son,

IV. Sir Robert. This gentleman m. Catherine, dau. of Henry Blake, Esq. of Lehynch, by whom he had (with two daus., Catherine, m. to Richard Bourke, Esq. of Moneycrower; and Jane wife of John D'Arcy, Esq. of Kiltullagh) a son and heir,

V. Sir Henry, of Castle Carra, who m. Mary, dau. and coheir of John Moore, Esq. of Brees, co. Galway (son of Col. Garrett Moore, of Brees), and had three sons and two daus., Harriet, m. to Col. Browne, of Castle Macgarrett; and Anna, m. to the Hon. Henry Browne. He d. 1762, and was s. by his eldest son,

VI. Sir Robert. This gentleman having m. in 1749, Elizabeth, only dau. of Francis Barker, of Sibton, Suffolk, and heiress of Tobias Blosse, of Little Bolstead, in the same co., assumed the surname of Blosse, in addition to, and after that of Lynch. The issue of this marriage were, Henry, who s. to the title; and Francis, who m. Hatton, dau. of John Smith, Esq. of Rathcomey, co. Cork, and had issue, Robert, who, succeeding his uncle, became the 8th bart. Sir Robert d. 1775, and was s. by his elder son,

VII. Sir Henry Lynch-Blosse, b. 14 Oct. 1749; at whose decease, without legitimate issue, in 1788, the title reverted to his nephew,

VIII. Sir Robert, b. 25 Feb. 1874. This gentleman m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of William Gorman, Esq. of Carlow, by whom he had Francis, his heir; and Mary, m. 1830, to the late Hon. and Very Rev. Robert Plunket, Dean of Tuam, and rector of Headfort (see Plunket, B.) He m. 2ndly, Charlotte, dau. of John Richards, Esq. of Cardiff, co. Glamorgan, and by her had (with two daus., Charlotte-Diana, m. to James Lewis, Esq., M.D., and d. 6th May, 1876; and Catherine-Diana, m. Nov. 1844, to the Rev. Hele Rickards) two sons, Henry-Lynch, Dean of Llandaff, M.A., m. 1844, Charlotte-Frances, dau. of Rev. Robert Knight, of Tythegston, and has issue; and Edward-Lynch, a lieut.-col. in the army, m. 1st, 19 Aug. 1858, Eliza-Grace, dau. of the late Henry Percy, Esq., and widow of the Rev. Edward Illingworth, M.A., and by her (who d. 19 Feb. 1861) had a son, Edward-Falconer-Lynch, b. 31 July, 1859: Col. Lynch Blosse m. 2ndly, 15 Jan. 1863, Eularia-Bruce, youngest dau. of the late Harry-Gough Ord, Esq. of Bexley, Kent. Sir Robert d. Jan. 1818, and was s. by his eldest son,

IX. Sir Francis Lynch-Blosse; in holy orders, b. in Aug. 1801; m. in April, 1824, the Hon. Elizabeth Plunket, eldest dau. of the 1st Lord Plunket, and had,

Robert, present baronet.

i. Mary-Catherine. ii. Joan-Frances.
iii. Margaret-Mary-Teresa; m. 10 Jan. 1878, to George Edward Wicksted, Esq. of Betley Hall, co. Stafford.

Lineage.

This ancient family has given birth to the Barons of Ixworth in Suffolk (which barony ceased with Sir William Blount, Baron of Ixworth, who was slain fighting under Montfort, Earl of Leicester, at the battle of Lewes, and was subsequently attainted, by parliament, in the reign of Henry III.), as well as to the Barons of Mountjoy, of Thurveston, co. Derby, which barony expired in 1681. (See Burke's Extinct Peerage.) Its settlement in England is traced to the Conquest. "At the time of the General Survey," says Sir William Dugdale in his Baronage, "Robert le Blund was possessed of thirteen lordships in Suffolk, and there was cotemporary with him William le Blund, probably his brother, who likewise held six lordships in Lincolnshire."

The said Sir Robert le Blount was the first feudal Baron of Ixworth (the place of his residence) and Lord of Orford Castle; he m. Gundreda, youngest dau. of Henry, Earl Ferrers, and had a son and heir,

Gilbert le Blount, 2nd Baron of Ixworth, from whom we pass to

William le Blount, 6th Baron of Ixworth, who was standard-bearer to Simon de Montfort, and fell at the battle of Lewes, 14 May, 1264. He was attainted and the Barony of Ixworth forfeited. He left no issue, so that the representation of the family devolved upon his uncle,

* This Katherine Boevey was the dau. of John Riches, Esq. of London, and is supposed to be the widow mentioned in the Spectator, as being so inexorable to the addresses of Sir Roger de Coverley. She m. 1685, when aged only 15, and became a widow seven years afterwards. The firmness with which she rejected the many offers of marriage, occasioned by the combined attractions of her wit, beauty, and wealth, was not more remarkable than were her charities and universal benevolence. She d. 1726, in her 57th year. There are monuments to her memory, both at Flaxley and at Westminster Abbey.

* The arms, without the chief (which is the coat of BOEVEY), belong to the other members of the CRAWLEY family.

BOLINGBROKE.

Bolingbroke and St. John, Viscount (Sir Henry St. John), Baron St. John, of Lydiard Tregoze, co. Wilts; Baron St. John, of Battersea, co. Surrey; and a Baronet; b. in 1820; s. his father as 5th viscount, 1 Oct. 1851.

Lineage.

This family springing in the male line from the Ports, Lords of Basing, co. Southampton, at the Conquest, derives, through the female line, from

William de St. John,* who came into England with the Conqueror, as grand master of the artillery, and supervisor of the wagons and carriages; whence the horses' hames, or collar, was borne for his cognizance. (Brydges's Collins, Vol. 6, p. 42.) He m. Olivia, dau. of Ralph de Filgiers, of Normandy, and had by her, Thomas, who d. without issue, and

John de St. John, who inherited, at the decease of his brother, all the lands in England, and principally the lordship of Stanton, co. Oxon (for distinction from the other towns of the same name, called Stanton St. John). This John was a person of great eminence in the reign of William Rufus, being one of the twelve knights that accompanied Robert Fitz-Hamon, Earl of Gloucester, in a warlike expedition against the Welsh, and received, "in reward for his great services, and helps in many victories," the castle of Faumont, co. Glamorgan. He had issue, a dau. Avoris, m. to Sir Bernard de St. Valery, and two sons,

I. Roger, of whom presently.
II. Thomas, Lord of Stanton St. John, living 13 Henry II., whose son,

Roger, was assessed £133 6*s.* 8*d.* for trespassing in the king's forests, 22 Henry II. The grandson of this Roger,

John St. John, was killed at the battle of Evesham, 43 Henry III. He had been in the holy wars with Richard I., who, at the siege of Acon, in Palestine, adopted the device of tying a leathern thong, or garter, round the left leg of a certain number of knights (one of whom was this John St. John), that they might be impelled to higher deeds of valour. This is supposed by some to have given the idea of the Order of the Garter.

The elder son,

Roger de St. John, m. Ciceley, dau. and heiress of Robert de Haya, lord of the manor of Halnac, co. Suffolk, a kinsman of Henry I., and had, with two sons, a dau., Murial, who m. Reginald de Aurea Valle, or Orvyle, and had a dau.,

Mabil Orvyle, who m. Adam de Port, a powerful feudal baron (having the head of his barony at Basing, co. Southampton), and had a son and heir, who, assuming the surname of his maternal ancestors, became

William de St. John, Lord of Basing, in which lordship and his other territorial possessions he was s. by his son,

Robert de St. John, Lord of Basing, who, in the 42nd of Henry III., had summons to be at Chester upon Monday next after the feast of St. John the Baptist, well accoutred with horse and arms to oppose the incursions of the Welsh. From the eldest son of this feudal lord, by Agnes, dau. of William de Cantelupe,

John, descended the Lords of St. John, of Basing, represented by the Marquess of Winchester,

And from the second,

* The name was taken from the territory of St. John, near Rouen.

WILLIAM DE ST. JOHN, of the castle of Faumont, co. Glamorgan, sprang

SIR OLIVER ST. JOHN, who acquired the lordship of Bletshoe, in the reign of HENRY VI., with his wife, Margaret, dau. of Sir John Beauchamp, and sister and sole heiress of John, Lord Beauchamp of Bletshoe, co. Northampton; by which marriage, Lydiard Tregoze came also into the family of St. John. Sir Oliver St. John d. in 1437, and his widow m. 2ndly, John Beaufort, Duke of Somerset, K.G., by whom she had a dau., Margaret, who m. Edmund Tudor, Earl of Richmond, and by him was mother of HENRY VII. From the elder son of Sir Oliver, Sir John St. John, Knt., descended the Lords St. John, of Bletshoe. The 2nd son,

OLIVER ST. JOHN, had the lordship of Lydiard Tregoze, and was, as Leland writes in his Itinerary, a stout black man, and d. at Fontarabia, in Spain. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Lord Scroope, and left, with three daus., an only son,

SIR JOHN ST. JOHN, chamberlain to Margaret, Countess of Richmond,* grandmother of HENRY VII., and one of the executors of her will. Sir John d. in 1512, and was s. by his son,

JOHN ST. JOHN, whose son and heir,

NICHOLAS ST. JOHN, Esq. of Lydiard Tregoze, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Richard Blount, of Maple Durham, co. Oxford, and had issue, JOHN (Sir), who inherited Lydiard; OLIVER, of whom presently; and Richard. The second son,

OLIVER ST. JOHN, having the misfortune to kill, in a duel, one Best, captain of the guard to Queen ELIZABETH, was obliged to relinquish the study of the law, and fly the kingdom. Adopting a military life, he obtained considerable renown in the wars of ELIZABETH and JAMES in Ireland, and was eventually advanced to the peerage of that kingdom, as Viscount Grandison, with limitation to the issue of his nephew, Sir Edward Villiers (which Viscounty now merges in the earldom of Jersey), and to the peerage of England, by the title of Baron Tregoze. In the next year, his lordship obtained a grant of the manors of Battersea and Wandsworth; but d. without issue, 30 Dec. 1630, when the English barony expired. The manors of Battersea and Wandsworth he bequeathed to John, the only surviving son of his brother; and upon that brother himself,

SIR JOHN ST. JOHN, had devolved, as stated above, the estate at Lydiard. Sir John had m. Lucy, dau. and heiress of Sir Walter Hungerford, of Farley, co. Wilts, and had surviving issue,

I. JOHN.

I. Barbara, m. to Sir Edward Villiers, Knt., by whom she had,

1 WILLIAM, 2nd Viscount Grandison, whose dau. and heir,

BARBARA, m. Roger Palmer, Earl of Castlemaine, in Ireland. She was afterwards created Duchess of Cleveland, by CHARLES II., and was mistress of that monarch.

2 JOHN, who s. as 3rd Viscount Grandison.

3 GEORGE, 4th Viscount Grandison.

4 EDWARD (Sir), ancestor of the Earls of Jersey.

Sir John was s. at his decease by his only surviving son,

SIR JOHN ST. JOHN, Knt. of Battersea and Wandsworth (by the bequest of his deceased uncle, Lord Grandison), who was created a Baronet, 22 May, 1611. This gentleman was zealously attached to the royal cause, and had three sons slain fighting under the royal standard. He was succeeded at his decease, by (the son of his eldest son, Oliver, by Catherine, dau. and co-heir of Horatio, Lord Vere, Baron of Tilbury, which lady m. after his decease, John, Lord Poulet) his grandson,

SIR JOHN, at whose decease, sans., the title reverted to his uncle,

SIR WALTER, M.P. for the co. Wilts. This gentleman, who resided principally at Battersea, m. Johanna, dau. of the Lord Chief Justice St. John; and dying 3 July, 1708, was s. by his only son,

SIR HENRY, who was elevated to the peerage as Baron St. John of Battersea, and VISCOUNT ST. JOHN, 2 July, 1716, for life; with remainder to his 2nd and 3rd sons, John and Holles; and their issue male, and further remainder to the heirs male of his body. His eldest son by his first wife, Lady Mary Rich, HENRY, b. at Battersea, in 1672, the famous statesman and writer in the reigns of ANNE, GEORGE I., and GEORGE II., had been previously created, 7 July, 1712, Baron St. John, of Lydiard Tregoze, and VISCOUNT BOLINGBROKE, co. Lincoln, with remainder, failing his own issue male, to his father and his father's issue male. Viscount Bolingbroke was attainted in 1714, but restored in 1725 to his estates, without his honours: he m. twice (his 2nd wife was the Marchioness de Vilette, niece to the celebrated Madame de Maintenon), but d. childless in 1751.

BOOTHBY.

Boothby, Sir Brooke, of Broadlow Ash, co. Derby; b. 18 Nov. 1856; educated at Harrow; s. his father as 11th baronet, 22 Sept. 1865.

Lineage.

The Boothbys claim Saxon origin, and the assumption is sustained by Dugdale and Camden. The former very learned antiquary (Origines Juridicales, c. ix.) fixes the division of counties in the year 800, by Egbert; and the latter, speaking of Lincolnshire, says: "The hundred or wapentake of Boothby, Boothby-Pagnell, a market-town, and a gentleman's old seat called Boothby, were denominated from one Boothby, who there inhabited."

Theobaldus de Boothby was governor of Pontefract Castle, which he defended with great gallantry for the Lancastrians during the war of the Roses. From this Theobald we pass to Thomas de Boothby, living in the reign of Edward VI., whose great-grandson, William de Boothby, m. Judith, dau. of Thomas Osten, Esq. of Oxley, co. Stafford, and by her (who m. 2ndly, William Basset, Esq. of Blore, Staffordshire; and 3rdly, Sir Robert Corbet, Bart.) he had, with other issue,

I. Henry Boothby, Esq., who was created a Baronet, 5 Nov. 1644, by letters patent, which received the sign-manual of Charles I., but did not pass the seals, owing to the confusion of the civil wars. All the real estates enjoyed by Sir Henry he derived from the good management of his mother, his father having devised him money only. This lady, through her own exertions, was enabled to leave her son an estate in London; another called Kingsland, in Middlesex; Claterclote, Claden, and the manor of Cropperdy, in Oxfordshire; Broadlow-Ash, Cold Eaton, King's Mills, and the lands thereto belonging, near Ashbourne, Derbyshire; one-half of the manor or park of Cheadle, with Longnor, and other possessions in Staffordshire. Sir Henry m. Mary, dau. of Sir Thomas Hayes, Knt., lord mayor of London in 1615, and was s. at his decease, in 1648, by his only son,

II. Sir William, who received the honour of knighthood, in the field, from Charles II. at the Restoration; and the king was pleased to renew, gratis, the patent granted to his father, by the name of Sir William Boothby, "of Broadlow Ash" (the original being designated "of Clator Close") but from the date of 12 July, 1660. This gentleman m. 1st, Frances, dau. of Col. Milward, of Snitterton, co. Derby, and had one son,

Lineage.

This House derives (as proved by the patent from Sir William Roberts, Ulster King of Arms, granting an augmentation to the arms of Sir Erasmus, the 1st baronet) from "a noble and very ancient family." It is, in fact, a scion of the ancient house of De Burgh, for centuries so eminent under the names of Burgh, Bourke, Burke, and Borough.

HENRY BORROWES, Esq., who settled in Ireland temp. ELIZABETH, was son of Erasmus Aborough, of Calais (Harvey's Visitation of Devon, 1564), by Helen his wife, dau. of Charles Farrington, of Farrington, in Devon, and a direct descendant of John De Burgh, called also at Borough, living at North Charford, Hants, A.D. 1397, supposed to be 3rd son of John De Burgh, grandson of Sir Hubert De Burgh, 2nd son of Hubert, Earl of Kent. Henry Borrowes m. 1st Jane, dau. of the Right Hon. Sir Arthur Savage, of Rheban, co. Kildare, M.P.; and 2ndly, 1585, Catherine Eustace, of Gilltown. He was s. by his son,

I. ERASMUS BORROWES, Esq. of Gilltown, M.P. This gentleman, who was sheriff of the co. of Kildare, at the breaking out of the rebellion in 1641, deposed upon oath, that he

BORTHWICK.

BORTHWICK, BARON (Cunninghame Borthwick), in the peerage of Scotland, b. 6 June, 1813; m. 18 July, 1865, Harriet-Alice, dau. of Thomas-Hermitage Day, Esq., banker, of Rochester, and has issue,

i. ARCHIBALD-PATRICK-THOMAS, Master of Borthwick, b. 3 Sept. 1867.
i. Gabrielle-Margaret-Ariana.
ii. Alice-Rachel-Anne. iii. Violet-Dagma-Marion.
iv. Mary-Frances-Harriet, b. 11 Feb. 1876.

His lordship had his right to the title and dignity of Lord Borthwick admitted by the House of Lords 3 May, 1870.

Lineage.

The peerage of Borthwick is one of the most ancient in Scotland. As in the case of most of the ancient Scottish lordships, no patent or instrument of creation of the title of Lord Borthwick is known to exist. But it is stated in an ancient chronicle, believed to be authentic, that the peerage of Borthwick was created by King JAMES II., in the year 1452.

In the recent proceedings before the House of Lords, legal evidence was adduced to show that the peerage was not created in the year 1450, and that it was created before the year 1455, thus corroborating the statement in the chronicle of the actual creation in the year 1452.

SIR WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Borthwick, father of the 1st lord, obtained from King JAMES I. a letter under the Great Seal, dated 2 June, 1430, authorizing him to build and fortify a castle in the moat of Lochorwort, in the co. of Edinburgh. The site of the castle was formerly the property of that branch of the noble family of Hay, now represented by the Marquess of Tweeddale. The castle, erected by Sir William Borthwick under the royal authority (which was then necessary for the erection of fortified castles), still exists, although bearing traces of the siege of OLIVER CROMWELL. It is an imposing edifice, built in the Edwardian style; the walls being of hewn stone, both within and without, thirteen feet thick near the foundation, and contracting gradually to about half that thickness towards the top. The height of the castle is ninety feet from the area to the battlements.

The surname of the founder was applied to the castle and the parish in which it is situated. The exact date of the death of Sir William Borthwick has not been ascertained. It is probable that he did not long enjoy his new castle, as he d. before the year 1439, and was s. by his son and heir,

WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Borthwick, who is stated, in the ancient Scottish chronicle before-mentioned, to have been made a lord of parliament by King JAMES II., in a parliament held at Edinburgh, on 12 June, 1452. At the same time three earls and several other barons were created. This William Borthwick was the 1st Lord Borthwick. The name of his wife has not been ascertained. He was the brother of Janet Borthwick, wife of James Douglas, Lord of Dalkeith, and Lord Borthwick appeared in parliament on 14 March, 1457-8, on behalf of his sister, in reference to the creation of the title of Earl of Morton. The date of the death of William, 1st Lord Borthwick, has not been ascertained. He was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 2nd Lord Borthwick, who d. 1483, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 3rd Lord Borthwick, who d. 1503, leaving two sons,

WILLIAM, 4th Lord Borthwick.

ALEXANDER BORTHWICK, of Nenthorn, in the co. Roxburgh, ancestor of the present Lord Borthwick, as afterwards shown.

WILLIAM, the 4th Lord Borthwick, was slain at the Battle of Flodden, 1513, and was s. by his son,

WILLIAM, 5th Lord Borthwick, who m. 1491, Margaret, dau. of John, Lord Hay, of Yester, by whom he had two sons and two daus. The eldest son, the Master of Borthwick, m. Mariot Seton, dau. of George, Lord Seton, but d. in the lifetime of his father without issue. This 5th Lord Borthwick was possessed of considerable estates in the cos. of Edinburgh, Selkirk, Berwick, Peebles, and Aberdeen, and he made a settlement of his estates in the year 1538. Dying 1542, he was s. by his only surviving son,

JOHN, 6th Lord Borthwick, who took an active part in public affairs at the time of the Reformation, which he opposed, saying that he would believe as his father had done before him. He m. the Lady Isabel Lindsay, eldest dau. of David, 7th Earl of Crawford, and d. 1565, leaving issue,

WILLIAM, 7th Lord Borthwick.

Mariotta, m. to Andrew Hoppringle, of Galashiels.

WILLIAM, 7th Lord Borthwick, also took an active part in public affairs, and warmly supported the cause of Queen MARY. He m. Grissel, eldest dau. of Sir Walter Scott, of Branxholm, and by her (who m. 2ndly, Walter, son of John Cairncross, of Colmslie), had two sons, WILLIAM, Master of Borthwick, who d. 17 March, 1570-71, in the lifetime of his father.

JAMES, 8th Lord Borthwick.

William, 7th Lord Borthwick, d. before 1597, and was s. by his only surviving son,

JAMES, 8th Lord Borthwick, who did not long enjoy the title, having d. Dec. 1599. By his wife, Margaret, eldest dau. of William, Lord Hay, of Yester, he had one son,

JOHN, 9th Lord Borthwick, who was served heir to his father in the barony of Borthwick, 4 July, 1621. He m. Lady Lilias Kerr, 5th dau. of Mark, 1st Earl of Lothian, by whom he had a dau., m. to Robert Dundas, of Harviestown, 2nd son of Sir James Dundas, of Arniston, and a son,

JOHN, 10th Lord Borthwick, who was b. 9 Feb. 1616. In 1650, he held out his castle of Borthwick against a siege by OLIVER CROMWELL, and obtained honourable terms of surrender. He m. 1649, Lady Elizabeth Kerr, 2nd dau. of William, 3rd Earl of Lothian, without issue. He d. 1672, and was s. in the castle of Borthwick, &c., by his nephew, John Dundas, son of his sister, who was served heir to him.

From 1672 to 1762 the Borthwick title was dormant. But in the latter year it was awarded to HENRY BORTHWICK, who became the 11th lord. He was descended from the before-mentioned Alexander Borthwick, of Nenthorn, 2nd son of William, 3rd Lord Borthwick, as follows:—

By Margaret his wife, Alexander had a son, WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Soltray, who d. before May, 1541, leaving, by Janet Sinclair his wife, a son, WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Soltray, who d. before May, 1549, father of WILLIAM BORTHWICK, who m. Catherine Creighton, and d. before Jan. 1564, leaving two sons, WILLIAM, of Soltray; and ALEXANDER, of Reidhall and Sauchnell, ancestor of the present LORD BORTHWICK. The elder son, WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Soltray, and of Johnstonburn, forfeited his estate in 1603, and d. 1640, leaving, by Barbara Lawson his wife, two sons, 1 COLONEL WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Soltray and Johnstonburn, whose grandson and last male descendant, WILLIAM (de jure), 11th Lord Borthwick, was killed at Ramillies, 1706, s. p.; and 2 ALEXANDER BORTHWICK, living 1668, who m. Sibilla Cairns, and was father of WILLIAM BORTHWICK, of Pilmuir and Mayshiell, who m. three times: by his 1st wife, Marion Borthwick, he had two daus., Mary, m. to Sir Alexander Livingstone; and Margaret, m. to John Campbell, of Knockreoch; and by his 2nd wife, Marjorie Stewart, he left a son, CAPT. HENRY BORTHWICK, killed at Ramillies, 1706, leaving, by Mary his wife, dau. of Sir Robert Pringle, Bart. of Stichill, two sons, WILLIAM, 12th (de jure) Lord Borthwick, who d. unm. before 1723; and HENRY, who established his claim as, and was, Lord Borthwick 1762, and d. s. p. 1772. Reverting to ALEXANDER BORTHWICK, the 2nd son of William Borthwick, of Soltray, and Catherine Creighton his wife; he was of Reidhall, and afterwards of Sauchnell, and had a son, ANDREW, of Sauchnell, who m. Margaret Turnbull, and left a son, ARCHIBALD BORTHWICK, minister of Polwarth, who d. before Sept. 1799, leaving a son, PATRICK BORTHWICK, who m. Marion Scott, and d. 1772, leaving a son,

ARCHIBALD BORTHWICK, who claimed the Peerage in 1808; he m. Margaret Scott, and d. 1815, leaving a dau. Rachel, b. 1788, and d. Dec. 1876, and

II. Edward-Shuckburgh, b. 24 July, 1858.
I. Catherine-Mary.

Sir Charles-Henry inherits two baronetcies: of one he is the 11th in succession; of the other, the 3rd.

Lineage.

The family of Rouse is of very high antiquity in the several counties of Sussex, Worcester, Warwick, Gloucester, and Hereford. Dr. Nash, in his History of Worcestershire, mentions that its patriarch in that shire accompanied the Conqueror into England; and the statement is confirmed by the Battle Abbey Roll. On 23 July, 1641, the dignity of Baronet was conferred upon

Thomas Rouse, Esq. of Rouse Lench, co. Worcester, eldest son of Sir John Rouse, Knt. He m. 1st, Jane, dau. of Sir John Ferrers, of Tamworth Castle, by whom he had,

I. Edward, his heir.
I. Hesther, who m. Sir William Russell, Bart., and had an only child,
Mary, who m. 1st, H.-C. Cotton, Esq., by whom she had a dau., Catherine, wife of Thomas Lewis, Esq.; and 2ndly, Lord Arthur Somerset, by whom she was mother of Mary, who m. Algernon Greville, Esq., and had a son, Fulke, and two daus., of whom the elder, Mary, became the wife of Shuckburgh Boughton, Esq., and was the mother of Sir Charles-William Rouse-Boughton, 9th Bart.
II. Mary, who m. E. Phillips, Esq., and was grandmother of Thomas-Phillips Rouse, Esq.

Sir Thomas m. 2ndly, Frances, dau. of David Murray, Esq., and had by her, two sons, Francis and Thomas. The youngest of these sons,

Sir Thomas Rouse, the 4th bart., d. in 1721, when the issue male failed, and the estates of Sir Thomas passed to his then only surviving sister,

Elizabeth Rouse, at whose decease, unm. in 1729, her sister Mary's grandson, the next male relation of the family, inherited, viz.,

Thomas Phillips, Esq., who assumed the surname and arms of Rouse, and took up his residence at Rouse Lench. This gentleman served the office of high-sheriff of Worcester, as Thomas Rouse, Esq., in 1733. He d. unm. in 1768, and was s. by his cousin,

Charles William Boughton, Esq (2nd son of Shuckburgh Boughton, Esq. of Poston Court, co. Hereford, and grandson of Sir William Boughton, 4th bart. of Lawford, co. Warwick), who assumed the surname of Rouse, and represented the boroughs of Evesham and Bramber, as Charles-William Boughton-Rouse, Esq. Mr. Boughton-Rouse was chief secretary, in 1784, to the Board of Control, and, upon retirement from office, was created a Baronet, 28 June, 1791; but very soon afterwards he inherited the baronetage of his own family, the Boughtons, to which we must now revert.

I. William Boughton, Esq. of Lawford, son of Edward Boughton, and Elizabeth his wife, heiress of Edward Catesby, grandson of William Boughton (who d. 38 Elizabeth), by Jane his wife, sister of Thomas Coningsby, and great-grandson, by Elizabeth his wife, dau. and co-heir of William Willington, of Barcheston, co. Warwick, of Edward Boughton, who d. 1 Edward VI., was created a Baronet 4 Aug. 1641. He m. Abigail, eldest dau. and co-heir of Henry Baker, Esq., and was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

II. Sir Edward, who m. twice (his wives were, Mary, dau. of Thomas Pope, Earl of Down; and Anne, dau. of Sir John Heydon, Knt., governor of the Bermudas), but having no issue, was s. in 1680, by his brother,

III. Sir William. This gentleman m. Mary, dau. of Hastings Ingram, Esq. of Little Woolford, co. Warwick; and dying 12 Aug. 1683, left (with three daus., Lucy-Anne, m. to John Parkes, Esq. of Eydon, co. Northampton; Catherine, m to William Smith, Esq of Polton, co. Warwick; and Abigail, m. to Edward Boughton, Esq. of Bilton) an only son,

IV. Sir William, M.P. for the co. Warwick, in the reign of Anne. This gentleman m. 1st, Mary, dau. of Mr. Alderman Ramsey, of the city of London, and had, Edward, his successor, and two daus., Mary, the wife of Sir Henry Houghton, Bart., and Anne. He m. 2ndly, Catherine, dau. of Sir Charles Shuckburgh, Bart., and had, with other surviving issue,

Shuckburgh, who m. Mary, eldest dau. of Algernon Greville, 2nd son of Fulke, Lord Brooke, by Mary his wife, and left,

* John Fenton, Esq. of Fenton Park, in Staffordshire, brother of Elijah Fenton, the poet, was father of Thomas Fenton, Esq., barrister-at-law and recorder of Newcastle, whose dau. and co-heir (by his wife, Anastasia, dau. of John Cradock, Esq. of Betley), Anne Fenton, m. Sir Thomas Fletcher.

Henry, lieut.-gen. and col. of the 16th regt., who d. Aug. 1808.
Richard, who assumed, under the will of Sir Richard Atkins, Bart of Clapham, co. Surrey, the surname of Atkins: his grandson and representative is the present HENRY ATKINS-BOWYER, Esq. of The Grange, Steeple Aston, Oxon.

---

* She descended from Ormus le Guidon, who held, in capite, Biddulph, and fifteen other manors. Ormus was son of Richard Forestarius, one of WILLIAM the Conqueror's barons. Knypersley is a part of Biddulph, which came (by a partition) to Alured Biddulph, who assumed the name of Knypersley, and was ancestor of Katherine Knypersley, m. to Thomas Bowyer.

† Lord Cranbourne's mother was Lady Catherine Howard, dau. of Thomas, Earl of Suffolk, K.G., lord high treasurer.

Lineage.

The family of Newport, who derived their name from Newport in Shropshire, were settled at a very early period in that county, wherein they held a position of pre-eminence for more than three centuries. In the latter part of the 14th century we find them seated at High Ercall, in Shropshire, which they held in capite from the crown.

Thomas Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, was deceased in 1401, and his son,

Thomas Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, was sheriff of Shropshire 1403. Their descendant,

William Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, who was sheriff of Shropshire, 1472, m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. and co-heir of Sir John Burgh, Knt. of Mowthwy, who was descended from the ancient Lords of Powys and the Princes of South Wales; their son,

John Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, was sheriff of Shropshire, 1491, and d. 1512. By his wife Alice, dau. of Sir Thomas Swynerton, Knt., he was father of

Thomas Newport, Esq. of High Ercall, sheriff of Shropshire 1542, who m. Ann, dau. of Sir Robert Corbet, Knt. of Moreton Corbet, by whom he had an elder son,

Sir Richard Newport, Knt. of High Ercall, who was several times sheriff of Shropshire, and a Member of the Council of the Marches of Wales. He d. 1570, having m. Margaret, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Bromley, Knt., Lord Chief Justice of England; their eldest son,

Sir Francis Newport, Knt. of High Ercall, was also several times sheriff of Shropshire. He d. 1623, leaving issue by his wife, Beatrice, dau. of Rowland Lacon, Esq. of Willey, co. Salop, a son,

Sir Richard Newport, 1st Lord Newport, who was raised to the Peerage 14 Oct. 1642, by the title of Baron Newport, of High Ercall. He m. Rachel, dau. of Sir John Leveson, Knt. of Haling, co. Kent, and sister of Sir Richard Leveson, Knt. of Trentham, co. Stafford, and d. 1650, leaving a son,

Francis, 2nd Lord Newport, who represented the borough of Shrewsbury in the lifetime of his father, was, after the Restoration, made Lord-Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum of Shropshire, and first Comptroller, and afterwards Treasurer of the Royal Household. On 11 March, 1674, he was advanced to the dignity of Viscount Newport, of Bradford, co. Salop, and by patent dated 11 May, 1694, was created Earl of Bradford. He m. Lady Diana Russell, dau. of Francis, 4th Earl of Bedford, and sister of William, 1st Duke of Bedford, by whom he had, with several daus., two sons, who survived him, viz.,

I. Richard, his successor.
II. Thomas, created Lord Torrington, who was thrice married, but d. s. p. (see Burke's Extinct and Dormant Peerage).

The earl d. 19 Sept. 1708, and was s. by his eldest son,

Richard, 2nd Earl of Bradford, who was made, on the resignation of his father, about 1704, Lord-Lieutenant of Shropshhire, and who was also Lord-Lieutenant and Custos Rotulorum, co. Montgomery; he m. Mary, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Thomas Wilbraham, Bart. of Woodhay, co. Chester, and of Weston-under-Lizard, co. Stafford, by which marriage he acquired the manor of Weston (which has passed by inheritance from the de Westons, its ancient proprietors, through the Peshales, Mittons, Wilbrahams, and Newports to its present possessors), and had issue,

I. Henry, his successor.
II. Richard, d. unm. 3 Dec. 1716.

Verney-Adrian, b. 11 Oct. 1874. Cecilia-Violet.

I. Frances-Catherine-Sarah, a nun (twin with Edmund-Verney).

Her ladyship became Baroness Braye at the decease of her sister, Hon. Maria Otway-Cave, 13 May, 1879, when the abeyance terminated. Lady Bray is 20th in direct descent from EDWARD III. (see BURKE'S Royal Families); and is also a co-heir of the Barony of Braose.

Lineage.

The name of the SIEUR DE BRAY occurs in the roll of Battle Abbey, amongst the associates in arms of the CONQUEROR, and although the authenticity of that celebrated record has in many instances been questioned, in this the statement is confirmed by the fact of WILLIAM DE BRAY being one of the subscribing witnesses to the charter of the year 1080, conferred by the Norman on the abbey he had founded in commemoration of his triumph at Hastings. No grant of lands appears, however, in Doomsday Book to the Brays; but that the family supplied sheriffs to Northamptonshire, Bedfordshire, Bucks, and some other counties, between 1202 and 1273, is fully established.

SIR RICHARD BRAY, the descendant and representative of the Norman knight, is said by some to have been of the privy council to HENRY VI.; by others he is called the king's physician; the former is the more probable, as he was buried in Worcester Cathedral. He had two wives; by the 1st, Margaret, dau. of John Sandes, Esq. of Furnes Felles, in Lancashire, he had an only son, JOHN (Sir), whose only dau. and heir, Margaret, m. Sir William Sandys, Baron Sandys, of the Vine; by the 2nd, Joan, Sir Richard had two other sons, viz., Sir Reginald Bray, knight-banneret, and K.G., prime minister to HENRY VII., for whom he built the chapel known as St. George's, Windsor, and lies buried in the Bray chapel adjoining, and

JOHN BRAY, Esq., who was buried in the chancel of the church at Chelsea, and had (with a dau., the wife of Sir John Norris), three sons,

I. EDMUND (Sir), summoned to parliament as Baron Bray, 21st HENRY VIII., ancestor of the BARONS BRAYE.

II. EDWARD (Sir), ancestor of the BRAYS of Shere, co. Surrey (See BURKE'S Landed Gentry).

III. Reginald, of Barrington, co. Gloucester, ancestor of the BRAYS, of Barrington.

The eldest son.

SIR EDMUND BRAYE, Knt. of Eaton Braye, co. Bedford, was summoned to parliament as a baron, 21st HENRY VIII. Lord Braye m. Jane, dau. and heir of Sir R. Hallighwell, of Holwell, and dying 18 Oct. 1539, left issue,

I. JOHN, his heir.

I. ANNE BRAYE, m. to George Brooke, Lord Cobham. Her grandsons,

HENRY BROOKE, Lord Cobham, who d. in 1619, s. p., and GEORGE BROOKE, being both attainted of high treason (the latter was executed), and the attainder never having been reversed, the representation of this, the elder co-heir, vested in the crown.

II. Elizabeth Braye, m. to Sir Ralph Verney, Knt. of Pendley and Middle Claydon, co. Bucks, and had issue, 1 Edward Verney, d. s. p. in 1558; 2 John Verney, d. s. p.; and 3 SIR EDMUND VERNEY, m. 1st, Francis, dau. of John Hastings, Esq., of Ilford, co. Oxford, but by her had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Audrey, dau. of William Gardner, Esq. of Fulmere, Bucks, and widow of Sir Peter Carew, and by that lady had an only child, SIR FRANCIS VERNEY, of Penley, who m. Ursula, dau. and co-heir of William St. Barbe; and d. s. p. abroad, having sold the estate. Sir Edmund m. 3rdly, Mary, dau. of John Blackney, Esq. of Sparrowham, and widow of Geffrey Turvile, of Leicestershire, and had by her, SIR EDMUND VERNEY, Knt., marshal and standard-bearer to King CHARLES I., killed at the battle of Edge Hill, 23 Oct. 1642, leaving, by Margaret his wife, dau. of Sir Thomas Benton, Knt., a son, SIR RALPH VERNEY, who was created a baronet in 1696, and was s. by his son, SIR JOHN VERNEY, 2nd baronet, who was created a peer of Ireland, temp. ANNE, as Baron Verney and VISCOUNT FERMANAGH. He m. Elizabeth Palmer, of Little Chelsea, and had issue,

1 RALPH VERNEY, 2nd VISCOUNT FERMANAGH, who was created EARL VERNEY. His lordship's line entirely failed on the death of his grand-dau., Mary Verney, who was created BARONESS FERMANAGH, and d. s. p. in 1810.

1 ELIZABETH VERNEY, d. unm. in 1767.

2 MARY VERNEY, m. to Col. John Lovett, of Soulbury, Bucks, and her issue all d. unm.

3 MARGARET VERNEY, m. Sir Thomas Cave, Bart. of Stanford Hall, and had a son, SIR THOMAS CAVE, Bart., who m. 1763, Elizabeth, only dau. and heir of Griffith Davies, M.D., by Elizabeth, his wife, dau. of Sir John Burgoyne, Bart., and d. 7 Aug. 1778, leaving a son, SIR THOMAS CAVE, Bart., who m. Sarah, dau. of John Edwards, Esq., and d. 1780, leaving a son, Sir Thomas Cave, Bart., M.P., who d. s. p. 15 Jan. 1792, and a dau., Sarah, eventually BARONESS BRAYE (see post).

III. FRIDESWIDE BRAYE, m. Sir Percival Hart, Knt., of Lullingstone, and from her descended (her representative) SIR PERCIVAL HART-DYKE, Bart., who was one of the co-heirs to the BARONY OF BRAYE.

IV. MARY BRAYE, m. Sir Robert Peckham. Her descendants are presumed to be EXTINCT.

V. DOROTHY BRAYE, m. to Edmund, Lord Chandos; and her grand-dau., the HON. CATHERINE CHANDOS, having m. Francis Russell, 4th Earl of Bedford, she is now represented by the 9th Duke of Bedford.

VI. FRANCES-BRAYE, m. to Thomas Lifield, Esq., of Stoke d'Auberon, co. Surrey, and had a dau. and heiress,

JANE LIFIELD, who m. Thomas Vincent, Esq., and from that marriage descends SIR FRANCIS VINCENT, Bart., of Stoke d'Auberon, who was stated to have been one of the co-heirs of the BARONY OF BRAYE.

Lord Braye was s. by his son,

JOHN BRAYE, 2nd baron, summoned to parliament from 3 Nov. 1545, to 21 Oct. 1555. This nobleman was a commanding officer in the expedition made into France, under the Earl of Hertford, in the 38th of HENRY VIII.; and upon the insurrection in Norfolk, in the 2nd of EDWARD VI., his lordship marched with the Marquess of Northampton for its suppression, and in three years afterwards he was appointed to attend the same nobleman upon his embassy into France, as bearer of the Order of the Garter to the French monarch. In 4th Queen MARY he assisted at the siege of St. Quintin's in Picardy. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Francis, Earl of Shrewsbury, but d. s. p. 19 Nov. 1557, and was buried at Chelsea Church. His estates devolved upon his sisters, and the Barony of Braye fell into abeyance amongst those ladies, and so continued until 3 Oct. 1839, when the abeyance was terminated by Letters Patent in favour of,

SARAH OTWAY-CAVE, only dau. of Sir Thomas Cave, Bart. of Stanford Hall, and sister and sole heir of Sir Thomas Cave, M.P. (see CAVE, Baronetcy, for Cave descent), to hold the said dignity to her and the heirs of her body, she being one of the co-heirs of John, Lord Braye, who was the only son of Sir Edmund Braye, summoned to parliament by writ, 21st HENRY VIII. Her ladyship, b. 2 July, 1767; m. 25 Feb. 1790, Henry Otway, Esq., of Castle Otway, co. Tipperary (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry), and by him (who d. 13 Sept. 1815), she had issue,

IV. Rosa-Penelope.

His lordship s. his father as 3rd Baron Bridport, 6 Jan. 1868, and was created Viscount Bridport, in the peerage of the United Kingdom, 6 July, 1868.

Lineage.

(See that of his grandfather, Henry, 2nd Viscount Hood.)

Alexander Hood, b. 1727, who entered the British service at a youthful age, became a great naval commander. His capture of two French vessels of war in two actions in Hyeres Bay, in 1757, and his retaking of the "Warwick" in 1761, threw lustre on his earlier career; and his conduct as rear-admiral under Lord Howe, at the relief of Gibraltar, 1782, won him the military order of the Bath. Hood, a second in command (his flag was hoisted on board the "Royal George," which encountered the hottest of the fire) contributed no little to the ever-memorable victory of the 1st June, 1794: he was created Baron Bridport of Cricket St. Thomas, in Ireland, 12 Aug. following. On the 23rd June, 1795, his lordship, with an inferior force (for half his ships had been separated from him) daringly attacked the French fleet of twelve ships of the line and ten frigates, close to port l'Orient, and defeated them, with, on his side, little loss and signal and splendid success; he was, in consequence, elevated to the peerage of Great Britain, 13 June, 1796, as Baron Bridport, of Cricket St. Thomas, co. Somerset. After scattering a French fleet which had landed some troops in Wales in 1796, and after aiding in appeasing the mutiny in the Nore, in 1797, Lord Bridport succeeded Earl Howe as vice-admiral of Great Britain, and on 16 June, 1800, he was further advanced to the dignity of Viscount Bridport, being then also a general of marines. vi. Anna-M'Bryde.

Lineage.

The Brouns of Colstoun descend from Walter Le Brun, one of the Chief Barons who witnessed the inquisition on the Church lands of the See of Glasgow in 1116.

George Broun, 16th Baron of Colstoun, m. Jean Hay, dau. of Lord Yester, ancestor of the Marquess of Tweeddale. The dowry of this lady consisted of the famous Colstoun Pear, which Hugo de Gifford, of Yester, who d. in 1267, her remote ancestor, famed for his necromantic powers, was supposed to have invested with the extraordinary virtue of securing, for the family who might possess it, unfailing prosperity. By his marriage there was issue,

i. George, the heir.
ii. John, whose line ended in Andalusia Broun, who m. Robert-Alexander Dalzell, 10th Earl of Carnwath.
iii. William, who m. a dau. of Swinton, of Swinton, and had issue. His line is represented through six direct descents by William Broun, Esq. of Bournemouth, Hants.

He d. in 1603, and was s. by his eldest son,

George Broun, 17th Baron of Colstoun, who m. Margaret, dau. of Sir D. Murray, of Stanhope, Bart., and had two sons,

ii. George, to whom his father granted, by charter, the Barony or Lairdship of Thornydyke, Berwickshire; he m., and had three sons,

2 Patrick, d. s. p.
3 George, who had a son, Alexander, whose son, James, was father of Sir Richard, the 6th bart.

George, 17th Baron of Coulston, was s. by his elder son,

I. Sir Patrick Broun, of Colstoun, who, in consequence of his eminent services, and the fidelity of the ancient family he represented, was created a Knight, and Baronet of Nova Scotia, 16 Feb. 1686, with remainder of the title to his heirs male for ever. Sir Patrick m. 1st, Alison Sinclair, a dau. of the Murkle family; and 2ndly, Lady Jean Ramsay, by whom he had two sons and a dau., George, his successor; Robert, who purchased from his brother the Colstoun estates and left them to his eldest dau., who m Charles Brown, of Eastfield, ancestor of George Brown, of Colstoun, a lord of session, whose descendant, Christian Brown, m. George, 9th Earl of Dalhousie, thus bringing the estates to that family. Sir Patrick was s. by his elder son,

II. Sir George Broun, who m. the Lady Elizabeth M'Kenzie, dau. of George, 1st Earl of Cromarty; and d. without male issue. It is reported of Lady Elizabeth, the first night after her marriage when she slept at Colstoun House, that she dreamed she had eaten the pear, which her father-in-law looked on as a bad omen, and expressed great fears that she would be an instrument in the destruction of the house of Colstoun. Be that as it may, Sir George sold his estates, as aforesaid, and was drowned

Lineage.

SIR RICHARD LE SCOT, the undoubted ancestor of this family, was a person of great distinction in the reign of ALEXANDER III. of Scotland. He m. the dau. and heiress of Murthockstone of that ilk, by whom he obtained a considerable estate in Lanarkshire, and, as a feudal lord thereof, swore fealty to EDWARD I., of England, anno 1296. Upon his marriage, Sir Richard assumed the cognizance of Murthockstone, which was a bend azure, into his armorial bearings, disposing thereon the crescents and star, the arms of Scot, as since borne by the Dukes of Buccleuch. He d. in 1320; and from him lineally descended

SIR DAVID SCOT, of Branxholm, who sat in the parliament held by JAMES III. at Edinburgh, anno 1487, under the designation of "Dominus de Buccleuch," being the first of the family so designated. The grandson of this Sir David,

SIR WALTER SCOTT, of Branxholm and Buccleuch (son of David Scott, who d. v. p.), s. his grandfather in 1492. This laird, a brave and powerful baron, and warden of the west marches of Scotland, is celebrated by historians for deeds of valour and magnanimity during the minority of JAMES V., and for an abortive attempt to rescue that monarch from the control of the Earl of Angus; on which Sir Walter Scott has founded The Lay of the Last Minstrel. Soon after the king had assumed the management of his own affairs, he privately solicited the aid of Buccleuch, who, being apprised that JAMES, accompanied by Angus and a considerable retinue, was coming to Melross, raised about 1000 horse of his friends and followers to relieve the king. The adherents of Buccleuch and Angus came in sight near Melross, 18 July, 1526, and a sanguinary conflict ensued, but the earl was successful, after the fall of a number of men of rank on both sides, Sir Walter Scott himself being wounded and barely escaping from the field. He was afterwards distinguished at the battle of Pinkie, anno 1547; and eventually lost his life in the streets of Edinburgh, 1552, in an encounter with Sir Walter Kerr, of Cessford. Sir Walter m. 1st, Elizabeth Carmichael, of the Hyndford family, by whom he had two sons. He m. 2ndly, Janet, dau. of John Bethune, of Creich, "of Bethune's line of Picardie," and had two sons and three daus. The last wife of Sir Walter was a woman of masculine spirit, as appeared from her riding at the head of her clan after her husband's murder. Sir Walter Scott was s. by his grandson,

SIR WALTER SCOTT, of Buccleuch (son of William Scott and Grizel Betoun, his wife). This was a person of rare qualities, wise, true, stout, and modest. He signed the association in support of JAMES VI. in 1567, but subsequently turned to the party of the Queen, to whom he remained faithful, notwithstanding her extorted resignation of the crown, and her captivity in England. He m. Lady Margaret Douglas, eldest dau. of David, 7th Earl of Angus, and dying 17 April, 1574, was s. by his only son,

SIR WALTER SCOTT, of Buccleuch. This powerful chieftain, no way inferior to the bravest of his ancestors in courage and intrepidity, received the honour of knighthood from JAMES VI., by whom he was appointed Warden of the West Marches in 1590. Having subsequently carried on a predatory warfare against the English, and boldly rescued one of his attendants, KINMONT WILL, from the castle of Carlisle, he was delivered up as a hostage upon an adjustment of the feuds between the English and Scots. During his sojourn in England, family tradition states that he was brought into the presence of Queen ELIZABETH, who demanded, in her usual arbitrary manner, how he dared to engage in deeds so desperate and presumptuous? "What is it," answered the undaunted chieftain, "what is it that a man dares not do?" ELIZABETH, struck with this reply, said to a lord in waiting: "With ten thousand such men, our brother of Scotland might shake the firmest throne in Europe." Sir Walter was elevated to the peerage, 16 March, 1606, as Lord Scott of Buccleuch. His lordship afterwards, as a military commander, attained considerable renown in the Netherlands, under Maurice, Prince of Orange. He m. Mary, dau. of Sir William Kerr, of Cessford, and sister of Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburgh, and dying in 1611, was s. by his only son,

WALTER, 2nd baron, who was created 16 March, 1619, Lord Whitchester and Eskdale, and Earl of Buccleuch, with remainder to his heirs whatsoever. This nobleman was also a military character, and had the command of a regiment under the States of Holland, against the Spaniards. His lordship m. Lady Mary Hay, dau. of Francis, Earl of Erroll, and dying in 1633, was s. by his only son,

FRANCIS, 2nd earl, who m. Lady Margaret Lesly, only dau. of John, Earl of Rothes, and widow of Lord Balgonie; by whom he left, at his decease in 1651, two daus., and was s. by the elder,

MARY, Countess of Buccleuch. Her ladyship m. Walter Scott, of Highchester, afterwards created Earl of Tarras for life: at the time of her marriage the countess was but eleven years of age, and Mr. Scott fourteen. The affair made a considerable noise, and became matter of discussion before the provincial Synod of Fife, in 1659, upon an accusation against the presbytery for granting a warrant for the marriage without proclamation. The presbytery was, however, absolved, because the order was grounded upon an act of the General Assembly, allowing such marriages in case of necessity, or fear of rape; and the lady's friends were apprehensive of her being carried off. The countess died in two years afterwards without issue, and was s. by her sister,

ANNE, 2nd Countess, b. in 1651. This lady, who was esteemed the greatest heiress and finest woman of her time, m. in 1663, James, Duke of Monmouth, K.G., illegitimate son of CHARLES II., by Mrs. Lucy Walters, dau. of Richard Walters, Esq. of Haverfordwest, co. Pembroke. His grace, upon his marriage, assumed the name of SCOTT, and himself and his duchess were created, 20 April, 1673, DUKE and DUCHESS OF BUCCLEUCH, Earl and Countess of Dalkeith, Baron and Baroness of Whitchester and Eskdale, in Scotland, with remainder to their heirs male, in default of which to the heirs whatever descending from the duke's body, succeeding in the estate and Earldom of Buccleuch. His grace's honours, however (Scottish and English), were forfeited on his execution, 15 July, 1685; while those enjoyed by the Duchess in her own right (Dukedom of Buccleuch by creation, and Earldom of Buccleuch by inheritance) remained unaffected by the attainder. The issue of this union were JAMES, Earl of Dalkeith, and HENRY, created Earl of Deloraine, Viscount Hermitage, and Baron Scott, in 1706, which honours became extinct with the 4th earl, in 1807.

The duchess m. 2ndly, Charles, 3rd Lord Cornwallis. She d. 6 Feb. 1732, was s. by her grandson,

FRANCIS, as 2nd duke (son of James, Earl of Dalkeith, by Henrietta his wife, 2nd dau. of Laurence Hyde, Earl of Rochester). His grace obtained a restoration of the Earldom of Doncaster and Barony of Scott of Tynedale, the English honours of his grandfather, the Duke of Monmouth, by act of parliament, in 1743. He m. 5 April, 1720, Lady Jane Douglas, eldest dau. of James, 2nd Duke of Queensbury, by whom he had issue, Francis, Earl of Dalkeith, who, pre-deceasing him, left, by his Countess, Caroline,* eldest dau. and co-heir of John, 2nd Duke of Argyll and Greenwich, a son HENRY, and a posthumous dau., Frances, m. to Archibald, Lord Douglas. The Duke of Buccleuch m. 2ndly, Miss Powell; but by that lady had no issue. His grace d. 22 April, 1751, and was s. by his grandson,

HENRY, 3rd duke, K.G., and K.T.; b. 13 Sept. 1746. His grace m. in 1767, Elizabeth, dau. of George, Duke of Montagu, by whom (who d. 21 Nov. 1827) he had issue,

I. CHARLES-WILLIAM-HENRY, Earl of Dalkeith.
II. Henry-James-Scott-Montagu, who s. to the Barony of MONTAGU, upon the demise of his grandfather, the Duke of Montagu. His lordship, b. 16 Dec. 1776; m. 22 Nov. 1804, Jane-Margaret, dau. of Archibald, Lord Douglas, and by her (who d. 10 Jan. 1859) had issue,
  1 Lucy-Elizabeth, m. in 1832, to Cospatrick-Alexander, Earl of Home, and d. 15 May, 1877.
  2 Mary-Margaret, m. 1840, to Lieut.-Col. Frederick Clinton, who d. 9 Nov. 1870
  3 Jane-Caroline, d. unm. 16 June, 1846.
  4 Caroline-Georgiana, m. in 1836, George-William Hope, Esq., M.P.

Lord Montagu d. 30 Oct. 1845, when the Barony of Montagu expired.

I. Mary, m. James-George, 3rd Earl of Courtown; and d. 1823.
II. Elizabeth, m. 9 Nov. 1798, to Alexander, Earl of Home, and d. in 1837.

* Her ladyship m. 2ndly, the Right Hon. Charles Townshend, brother of Charles, 1st Marquess Townshend, and was created BARONESS GREENWICH, with remainder to her issue male by her 2nd husband: but as she died without such issue, in 1794, the dignity expired. She left by that gentleman a dau.,

The Hon. Anne Townshend, who m. Richard Wilson, Esq. of Tyrone, Ireland.

His lordship m. 2ndly, 17 July, 1876, Maria, widow of Jervois Coilas, Esq. of St. Martin's House, Jersey.

Lineage.

The Earldom of Buchan, a dignity of great antiquity in Scotland, can be traced to the time of William the Lion. It was conferred by King Robert II. on his 3rd son,

Sir Alexander Stewart, who had also a proportion of the lands of the Cumyns, the former earls. On the demise of this nobleman without legitimate issue in 1394, the Earldom of Buchan passed to (the eldest son of his brother, Robert, Duke of Albany, by his 2nd wife, Muriella, dau. of Sir William de Keith grand marischal of Scotland) his nephew,

John Stewart. This nobleman, a great military character, attained high reputation, by the defeat of the English, under the Duke of Clarence, at Beauge, in Anjou, 22 March, 1421. In this engagement the Duke of Clarence was slain, having been stunned and unhorsed by Buchan himself, with a blow of his mace. For this exploit Charles VII. conferred upon him the sword of constable of France. The earl fell at the battle of Verneuil, 17 Aug. 1424; leaving by his wife, Lady Elizabeth Douglas, an only dau., Margaret, who m George, 2nd Lord Seton. At his lordship's decease, the Earldom of Buchan devolved, according to the limitation, upon Murdac, Duke of Albany, and reverted to the crown, by the forfeiture of that nobleman, the next year. The dignity was next conferred upon

James Stewart, called Hearty James, 2nd son of Sir James Stewart, the Black Knight of Lorn, by Jane, Queen of Scotland, mother (by James I.) of James II.; and by his male descendants the Earldom of Buchan was enjoyed until the decease of

John, 3rd earl, who was s. by (the dau. of his eldest son, John, master of Buchan, killed at the battle of Pinkie, 10 Sept. 1547) his granddau.,

Christian Stewart, Countess of Buchan, who espousing Robert Douglas, 2nd son of Sir Robert Douglas, of Lochleven, that gentleman became, in her right,

Robert Douglas, Earl of Buchan. His son,

James Douglas, was served heir to his father, in 1583, under the designation of "James Douglas," and to his mother in 1588, as "James, now Earl of Buchan." His lordship m. Margaret Ogilvie, dau. of Walter, Lord Deskford, and dying in 1601, left an only child and heiress,

Mary Douglas, Countess of Buchan. This heiress m. James Erskine, eldest son, by his 2nd wife, of John, Earl of Mar, lord high treasurer of Scotland, who thereupon assumed the Earldom of Buchan. On the resignation of which, with consent of her tutors, she being then under age, a royal charter was granted, 22 March, 1617, of the lands forming the Earldom of Buchan, but was conceived not legally to carry the honours, because even if they were resigned, the acceptance had not the signature of the sovereign. This charter was taken to the countess and her husband, the said James Erskine, and the longest liver of them, in conjoint life-rent, and the heirs male of their bodies, whom failing, to the said James Erskine and his nearest and lawful heirs male and assigns whatsoever. The said

James Erskine, Earl of Buchan, was one of the lords of the bedchamber to Charles I., and resided much in England. His first countess d. in 1628, leaving, with two daus., an only son, James. The earl m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Philip Knevet, of Buckenham, in Norfolk. He d. in 1640, and was s. by his only son,

James, 2nd Earl of Buchan (of the Erskines), who m. Lady Marjory Ramsay, eldest dau. of William, 1st Earl of Dalhousie, and dying in 1664, was s. by his only son,

William, 3rd earl. He executed, 5th April, 1677, a procuratory, for resigning his honours, &c., on failure of his own heirs male, to his cousin, Henry Erskine, 3rd Lord Cardross,* but this procuratory failing by his death, and never used, need not be considered. At the revolution the earl adhered to James, and took up arms in his cause, for which he was committed prisoner to the castle of Stirling, where he d. unm. in 1695, without being brought to trial. On his death a discussion arose in the Scottish parliament, in a question of precedence, between the Earl of Glencairn and Lord Cardross, who there appeared as Earl of Buchan, producing a charter, not in the year 1617, but in the year

1625, being a territorial charter, when the parliament allowed Lord Cardross to be called in the rolls of parliament as earl of Buchan, reserving to the Earl of Glencairn and others to quarrel his title and precedence as accords. Sir Colin Mackenzie, of Kilcoy, Baronet, the lineal heir and descendant of Sir Simon Fraser, of Inverallochy, the eldest son of Lady Marjory Erskine, dau. of James, 7th Earl of Buchan, lately laid claim to the honour and dignity of the Earldom of Buchan and Barony of Auchterhouse, on the ground of his being the nearest heir to the ancient feudal earldom, and that he could not be excluded from such, his right by blood, by any recognition of the Scottish parliament of a title in Lord Cardross evidently inept. But on a strict examination of the records in Scotland, it appeared that Lady Marjory Fraser, who had been designated by all the peerage writers of the day to have been the eldest dau. of her father, was truly the 2nd dau.; the eldest dau. being Lady Margaret, 2nd wife of Mr. Douglas, of Brighton, co. Forfar, and therefore Sir Colin withdrew his claim.

DAVID ERSKINE, 4th Lord Cardross, whom the parliament of Scotland allowed to be called in the rolls of parliament as (4th) EARL OF BUCHAN, was constituted lord-lieutenant of the cos. Stirling and Clackmannan, upon the accession of GEORGE I. and he was chosen one of the representative peers in 1715, 1722, and 1727. He m. 1st, 1697, Frances, dau. and heiress of the Hon. Henry Fairfax, of Hurst, co. Berks, by whom he had three surviving sons and two daus., Catherine-Anne, wife of the Hon. William Fraser; and Frances, wife of Col. James Gardener. His lordship m. 2ndly, Isabella, dau. of Sir William Blackett, Bart. of Wallington, co. Northumberland, and co-heiress of her brother, Sir William, but by her had no issue. He d. in October 1745, and was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY-DAVID, 5th earl, b. 17 April, 1710; m. 31 Jan. 1739, Agnes, 2nd dau. of Sir James Steuart, Bart. of Goodtrees, by whom (who d. 11 Dec. 1778) he had surviving issue,

I. DAVID-STEWART, Lord Cardross, his successor.
II. Henry of Amondell, co. Linlithgow, b. 1 Nov. 1746, o.s., who was called to the Scottish bar in 1768, and soon attained that first-rate practice so justly the meed of his transcendant talents. He was appointed king's advocate in 1783, but resigned the office in the same year, on the change of administration. He was elected dean of the faculty of advocates in 1786, and appointed by the Whigs, in 1806, king's advocate, an office which he again relinquished on the retirement of his party from power. Mr. Erskine was distinguished by the amiability of his private character, the profundity of his legal knowledge, and the brilliancy of his wit. He m. 1st, 30 March, 1772, Christian, only child and heiress of George Fullerton, Esq. of Broughton Hall, by whom (who d. in 1804) he had issue,

1 HENRY-DAVID, 7th earl.

The earl, who is in holy orders, and prebendary of Wolverhampton, s. his brother 1 Feb. 1849. He assumed, by Royal License, Aug. 1878, the surname of HAMPDEN, in addition to, and after that of HOBART, and the arms of Hampden and Hobart quarterly.

Lineage.

From Sir James Hobart, Knt., attorney-general, and of the privy council, to HENRY VII., have sprung the several branches of the Hobarts; but the name was highly respectable for many prior generations in the co. of Norfolk. A baronetcy was conferred, 22 Nov. 1611, on

SIR HENRY HOBART, Knt., when appointed chief-justice of the Common Pleas. After this learned judge's decease, were published Reports on several Law Cases decided in that Court before him. He m. Dorothy, dau. of Sir Robert Bell, Knt. of Beaupré Hall, chief baron of the Exchequer, by whom he had a large family, of which were,

JOHN, his successor.
Miles (Sir), member of the parliament which met, 17 March, 1627-8, distinguished by his opposition to the court, being amongst those members who, foreseeing the dissolution, forcibly held the speaker in the chair, 2 March, 1628-9, while they passed certain strong resolutions. On the dissolution of parliament, Sir Miles Hobart was imprisoned for locking the door of the house during the publication of the aforesaid resolutions. He m. Susan, dau. of Sir John Peyton Bart. of Iselham, and left a son,

JOHN, who succeeded his uncle.

Sir Henry d. 26 Dec. 1625, and was s. by his eldest son,

BURDETT.

BURDETT, SIR ROBERT, of Foremark, co. Derby, b. 26 April, 1796; a colonel in the army; s. as 6th baronet, on the death of his father, 23 Jan. 1844.

Lineage.

WILLIAM BURDETT, Lord of Louseby, co. Leicester, founded the Priory at Aucote, near Seckington, co. Warwick, temp. HENRY II. His lineal descendant (the intermediate pedigree may be seen in the Visitation of Leicestershire, A.D. 1619),

SIR ROBERT BURDETT, Knt. m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Sir Gerard de Camville, with whom he obtained the manor of Arrow, in Warwickshire, where he settled. This gentleman represented the co. of Warwick in parliament in the 14th of EDWARD II., and in three years afterwards was one of the commissioners for the gaol delivery at Warwick. He subsequently represented Leicestershire, and afterwards the co. Warwick again. He d. in 1333, and we pass to his great-great-grandson,

SIR NICHOLAS BURDETT, Knt., who fell at the battle of Pontoise, in 1440. This gentleman was chief butler of Normandy, and governor of Eureux: by his wife, Joan, cousin and heiress of Henry Bruin, he obtained the manor of Bramcote, in Warwickshire, and left a son and heir.

THOMAS BURDETT, Esq. of Arrow, a person of great note and figure in the co. Warwick, who fell a victim to his attachment to the Duke of Clarence, temp. EDWARD IV., and was beheaded in 1477. After his death, a great contest for his manor of Arrow and other estates arose between Richard Burdett, his son, by Agnes, dau. of John Waldeif, a former wife, that had been, from nearness of kindred, divorced from him in 1444; and John Burdett, his son, by Margaret, dau. of John Rodney. The matter finally terminated by certain of the estates, including Arrow, passing to the dau. and heiress of Richard Burdett; and the remainder to the son and heir of JOHN (himself, who had attained the honour of knighthood, dying before the decision), namely,

THOMAS BURDETT, Esq. of Bramcote, who d. about the 31st of HENRY VIII., and was s. by his eldest son (by Mary dau. of Sir Robert Throckmorton, Knt).

The Right Hon. Gen. John Burgoyne, M.P. for Preston. This gallant officer having greatly distinguished himself as brigadier-general in Portugal in 1762, was appointed to the command of the expedition from Canada against the United States in 1777; but the instructions sent from England to Sir William Howe to co-operate with him from New York having miscarried, he was surrounded by superior forces of the enemy, and compelled to sign the convention of Saratoga in October of the same year. General Burgoyne was subsequently commander-in-chief in Ireland and sworn of the Privy Council there in 1782. He was likewise a dramatist of note, being the author of The Heiress, The Lord of the Manor, and other works. He m. Lady Charlotte Stanley, dau. of Edward, 11th Earl of Derby, by whom he had no issue; he left, however, a natural son, the late Field-Marshal Sir John-Fox Burgoyne, G.C.B., who was b. in 1782, and subsequently became the most eminent officer of engineers of his time. This distinguished officer, who was present at all the sieges of the Peninsula, two of which he conducted in person, was afterwards appointed inspector-general of fortifications from 1845 to 1868, and served as lieut.-general on the staff and second in command of the British forces in the Crimea in 1854 and 1855. For his services on this occasion Sir John was created a baronet in March, 1856, and, on the death of Field-Marshal Viscount Combermere in 1865, was appointed to the office of constable of the Tower of London. Sir John had an only son, Capt. Hugh Burgoyne, R.N., one of the original recipients of the Victoria cross, and who promised to renew in the sister service the renown of his father; but this gallant and promising young officer having been drowned whilst in command of the ill-fated ship, "Captain," which foundered off Cape Finisterre, in Sept. 1870, the title became extinct on the death of the Field Marshal in 1871.

BURKE, VISCOUNT, see CLANRICARDE, MARQUESS OF.

BURKE OF GLINSK.

BURKE, SIR JOHN-LIONEL, Bart. of Glinsk, co. Galway; s. his father, as 12th baronet, 30 Oct. 1865.

Lineage.

The family De Burgh, or Burke, has, since the reigns of HENRY III. and EDWARD I., been esteemed one of the most opulent and powerful of the Anglo-Norman settlers in Ireland, under STRONGBOW. It held, by conquest and regal grant, whole territories in the cos. Galway, Mayo, Roscommon, Tipperary, and Limerick: and so extended were its possessions, that its very cadets became persons of wealth, and were founders of distinguished houses themselves.

SIR HUBERT BURKE, Knt., MacDavid, Lord of Clanconow, and Glinsk (son of William Burke MacDavid of Clanconow, by Grace, his wife, dau. of Teige Caoch O'Kelly of Aghrim) surrendered his estate to Queen ELIZABETH, and took a new grant by patent. He d. 1 Jan. 1598, seised of MacDavid's country. He m. twice; by his first wife he had a son, EDMOND, his heir apparent; and by his second, Finela, three sons, viz., Feagh or Festus, of Dunamon Castle, co. Galway; Henry, of Clogh, co. Galway; and William, of Kilnelag. The son and heir,

EDMOND BURKE, Esq. of Imlaghvodagh, co. Roscommon, m. Ellis, dau. of Iriel O'Ferrall Boy of Mornyn, and d. vitâ patris, leaving a son and heir,

I. SIR ULICK BURKE, Knt. of Glinsk, who was created a BARONET OF IRELAND, 2 Aug. 1628. This gentleman m. Catherine, 4th dau. of Theobald, 1st Viscount Dillon, by whom he had a dau., Eleanor, who m. Edmund Burke, Esq. of Kilcornan, and a son, his successor, BURNETT.

Burnett, Sir Robert, of Leys, co. Kincardine, J.P. and D.L.; b. 28 Aug. 1833; m. 1864, Matilda-Josephine, dau. of James Murphy, Esq., of New York, and had a son and heir, James-Lauderdale, d. 1874.

Lineage.

The family of Burnard was one of considerable importance and large possessions in Wiltshire and Bedfordshire during the two centuries following the Conquest: their ancestor appears in Domesday as mesne tenant of William de Ow, in the cos. of Bedford, Hants and Wilts. From them, doubtless, sprang the Burnards or Burnetts, bearing the same arms, who appeared in the south of Scotland simultaneously with a number of English settlers in the 12th century. Down to the middle of the 14th century they owned Farningdown, co. Roxburgh, and they figure prominently among the benefactors to Melrose Abbey.

Alexander Burnard, one of that family who had been attached to the fortunes of Robert Bruce, obtained from that king, in 1324, several charters of lands in Aberdeenshire, forfeited by the Durwards and Comyns, including Killienach-Clersch, and other lands within the Forest of Drum, newly converted into a park. The keeping of the Forest, bestowed first on him, was afterwards given to William of Irvine, Alexander Burnard getting the two Cardneys in compensation. William Burnard had in 1318, a charter of lands in the forest of Drum, on the resignation of his father Symon. Robert intervened between him and John, who, in 1446, is designated "of Leys." His son, Alexander Burnet, of Leys, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Alexander Forbes, of Echt, and widow of Alexander Riach, and had (with a dau. Christian, m. in 1480 to Alexander Comyn, of Culter) a son, Alexander Burnet, of Leys, who m. Janet Garden, and had Alexander, his heir, and Duncan, parson of Methlick and a canon of Aberdeen. His eldest son,

Alexander Burnet, of Leys, m. Agnes Lichtoun, and had,

Alexander Burnet of Leys, m. to Janet Hamilton, who had charters of various lands in the cos. of Aberdeen and Kincardine, in the reign of Mary and James VI. He had, besides other issue: John, his heir; Thomas, parson of Methlick, and commissary of Aberdeen; Andrew, of Cowcardie; William of Slowie; and Alexander, of Kynneskie. The last three had issue. His eldest son and heir,

John Burnet of Leys, m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Lumsden, of Cushnie, and was father of Alexander Burnet of Leys, who m. Katherine, dau. of Robert Arbuthnot of Fiddes, and had six sons and three daus.: 1 Alexander, his heir; 2 Robert; 3 Thomas, physician at Braintree, m. Jane Foys; 4 Gilbert, professor of philosophy at the Universities of Basle and Montauban, author of a Treatise on Ethics, published at Leyden in 1649; 5 Duncan, Physician at Norwich, m. Jane, dau. of Robert Marsham of Little Melton, co. Norfolk; 6 John; 1 Janet, m. to Gilbert Keith of Auquhorsk; 2 Margaret; 3 Elizabeth, m. to Gilbert Skene. His eldest son and heir,

Alexander Burnet of Leys, m. Katherine, dau. of Alexander Gordon of Lessmoir, and had five sons and eight daus.,

I. Thomas, his heir, and the 1st baronet.

II. James of Craigmyle, which estate he acquired by his marriage to Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Thomas Burnett, of Craigmyle. He figures much in local history, and is described in Gordon's Scots' Affairs, as, "a gentleman of great wisdome, and one who favoured the King, though he dwelt among the Covenanters, and was loved and respected by all." He had issue four sons and a dau.,

1 Alexander of Craigmyle, who m. Christian, dau. of Thomas Fraser of Strichen, and was father of Sir Alexander of Craigmyle, knighted by Charles II, who d. 1694, leaving three daus.: Isabel, m. to John Farquharson of Invercauld; Anna; and Margaret, m. 1st to Sir Charles Maitland of Pittrichie, 2ndly to Thomas Erskine of Pittodrie.

2 Thomas of Kemnay, m. Margaret Pierson. He was father of Thomas of Kemnay, a man of considerable literary and political note, the friend and voluminous correspondent of Leibnitz, who resided at the Court of Hanover, and was employed by the Electress Sophia in many delicate negociations. The last named Thomas m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Brickenden, of Inkpen, co. Berks, and his son and heir, George of Kemnay, m. Helen, dau. of Sir Alexander Burnett of Leys, bart., and was father of Alexander of Kemnay, long British secretary of embassy, and afterwards charge d'affairés, at the Court of Berlin, who m. Christian, dau. of Prof. John Leslie, by the dau. and heir of Hugh Fraser of Powis. Alexander's son, John of Kemnay, m. 1814, Mary, dau. of Charles Stuart of Dunearn, (see Earl of Moray). and had, Alexander, now of Kemnay; Charles-John; George, Lyon King of-Arms (who m. 1870, Alice, dau. of J.-A. Stuart, Esq., son of Charles Stuart of Dunearn, and has a son and a dau.); and other issue. Alexander Burnett, now of Kemnay, m. 1849, Letitia Amelia, dau. of William Kendall, Esq., and has two sons, and two daus. The elder son, John-Alexander, m. 1877, Charlotte-Susan, dau. of Arthur Forbes-Gordon, Esq. of Rayne (see Forbes of Craigievar, Bart.) and has a son, Arthur-Mowbray.

3 James of Allagaven and Monboddo, m. Elizabeth, dau. of Robert Irvine of Monboddo, and was great-grandfather of the accomplished and eccentric judge, James Burnett, Lord Monboddo. Lord Monboddo's dau. and heir Helen m. Kirkpatrick Williamson, who assumed the surname of Burnett, and the present James-Cumine Burnett of Monboddo is her grandson.
